Campaign On To Lessen Speed of Busses on Pike

A campaign by the Newton police to reduce the speed of buses which are operated on the Worcester turnpike brought its first results on Tuesday when Richard S. Golden, 32 years old, of 1189 Commonwealth ave., Boston, was fined $10 in the Newton court on a charge of speeding.

Golden, operator of a seven-passenger bus on a new Boston and Hartford line, was quoted by Motorcycle Officer Alfred W. Hammell as stating that his employers gave him two hours in which to traverse the distance of 110 miles. The officer testified that the bus was proceeding at the rate of 50 miles an hour on Boylston st. past Dudley rd. on August 20 at 10:20 a. m.

The bus driver, on the other hand, contended that he was going between 35 and 40 miles an hour and asserted that the distance from Boston to Hartford is only 106 miles, using the Auburn cut-off, and that the distance can be covered in two hours and 45 minutes, at the rate of not more than 40 miles an hour. He added that it is a rule of his company that the rate of 40 miles an hour is not to be exceeded.

High Level Trunk Line Sewer Connected

It Will Serve a Large Drainage Area

The new trunk line sewer under Mount Ida was connected with the city's system yesterday by Street Commissioner George B. Stuart. The work of construction was started on last December 22.

Those present at the opening, besides the Commissioner, were William P. Morse, City Engineer; Clifford A. Rouse, Acting Supt. of Sewers; Philip W. Taylor of Metcalf & Eddy, and John G. Shaw of T. Stuart and Sons Company.

The sewer is of monolithic reinforced structure 63 inches in diameter from the Boston line to Winchester rd., and 60 inches in diameter from Winchester rd. to Walnut st. The sewer in Tremont st. and from Mount Ida st. to Winchester rd. was built in tunnel, the rest of the work being done in open cut. The maximum depth of the tunnel under Mt. Ida Hill was about 154 feet. All of the tunnel work was in solid rock.

The sewer is 10,367 feet long and has a total drop in level between Walnut st. and Boston City line of 3.35 feet. The total cost of construction was approximately $400,000.

Construction was carried out under the direction of George B. Stuart, Street Commissioner, and William P. Morse, city engineer. Plans, specifications and the contract were prepared by Metcalf & Eddy, consulting engineers of Boston, who also furnished resident supervision of construction, Arthur L. Shaw, being resident engineer. The contracting work was done by T. Stuart & Sons Co. of Newton. Mr. Hubert F. Powell was Superintendent and John G. Shaw, Assistant Superintendent.

This sewer takes care of the High Level District between Walnut st. and the Boston City line at Tremont st. therefore relieving congestion in the Low Level System between Cabot st. and the Charles River Metropolitan Sewer. The area served is 3283 acres. The sewage from the High Level Sewer will flow into the Boston Harbor without pumping. It connects with the Metropolitan Sewer in Brighton.

Defendant Not Guilty of Stealing Car

Taken into custody by the police on a warrant after she failed to appear in court on Monday in response to a summons, Mabel E. McGourty, 24, of 372 Parker st., Newton Centre, was fined $10 in the Newton district court today on a charge of driving without a license, but was found not guilty of using an automobile without authority.

Judge Thomas Weston absolved the young woman of the auto theft charge after she testified that she had attended a party at the home of the owner of the car and had taken the car after being requested to go out and get a girl friend for her host.

The fine was imposed after she admitted that she did not have her license in her possession when the car crashed into a parked machine on Parker st. She was given until September 5 to pay the fine.

At the outset of the hearing, Judge Weston asked the girl why she did not appear in court Monday in response to the summons. She replied that she had telephoned the district court and requested a continuance because she could not appear Monday.

Thomas G. Curry, of 28 Quint ave., Brighton, owner of the car, testified that he was asleep and he had not given her permission to take the car.

The girl testified that both Curry and her escort were drinking together at the house and it was suggested that she go and get another girl in order to make the party a foursome.

She testified that she left the house and went to the home of a girl friend in Brighton, but found the latter absent. She then drove the car to Newton to see if the girl was at her home. On her way, the car struck a parked machine on Parker st. and bounded off and hit a pole. She was slightly injured.

Newton Scouts Visiting The World's Fair

Headquarters in Newtonville to Re-Open September 5th

Camp Barker, the summer camp of Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, closed at 3:00 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, August 26th. By noon on the following day the final details of closing camp were completed and the last group pulled out — rather sadly to be sure, for there is nothing much more deserted than a summer camp after all the boys are gone and the stillness is almost unbearable.

Two of the leaders and several of the Scouts lost no time in completing their preparations for making a trip to the World's Fair. On Monday morning, with dunnage scientifically packed all over his Ford roadster, Mr. W. R. Speirs, Assistant Scout Executive of Norumbega Council, left Newton with a group for the Fair, on a "personally conducted and operated" trip. In the group were Mr. Leslie St. Lawrence, Scoutmaster of Troop 9, Waban; Scouts James Bierer of Troop 10, Waban; Harold Jenkins of Troop 11, Newton; and Philip Phaneuf of Troop 5, Centre.

Their route lies through Utica, Canada, Detroit, and thence to Chicago. They are camping and doing their own cooking on the way. In Chicago they will not only see the fair, camping at the Lake Michigan Shore Boys' Club, which is exclusively for Scouts, but will also visit the stock-yards, see Chicago, and take in any other sights worth seeing.

From Chicago, they will go southeast to Washington, D. C., returning to Newton on Sunday, Sept. 10th.

On Tuesday morning, Mr. W. Bradford Gove, II, Scoutmaster of Troop 6, Newtonville, and Scoutmaster of the Camp Barker Troop, left with another group, under the same conditions, following almost the same route as "Skipper" Speirs.

In his group were Scouts Frederick Soule of Troop 9, Waban; William Morison of Troop 6, Newtonville; Charles Dolan of Troop 22, Newton; "Bozo" McAuslan of Troop 15, Auburndale; and Harvard Crabtree, Jr., of Troop 5, Centre. They also plan to go to Washington after the Fair sights and return home on the 10th of September.

While the Scout Headquarters have been closed during the summer, in the interest of necessary economy, there has been a great deal of general Council activity during the summer, at camp, at the Nobscot Reservation and on the part of the administration in lining up plans for 1933-34. The Scout Headquarters open on Sept. 5th on the regular schedule.

The Scout Executive, Mr. L. A. Bruce, Jr., leaves for Storrs, Conn., for the Annual Seminar of the Executives of New England, where they spend ten to twelve hours each day the balance of the week studying Scouting, particularly from the organization and administrative angle, that they may keep their respective Councils up to the minute and efficient.

The first major activity of the fall is the "Scouters'-Outers" at Camp Barker on Sept. 23 and 24, where the men meet to discuss the year's program and their respective jobs. The complete year's calendar of the Council for 1933-34 is ready and will be issued to the Council very soon.

Young Toulon Has Sea Adventure

Parker Teulon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Teulon of Devon rd., Newton Centre, had a rather thrilling sea adventure recently. With two other boys he set sail from Harwichport in an 18 foot catboat. While tacking two miles off shore the boat capsized in an increasing gale.

The boys climbed on the hull of the boat, and were there for nearly an hour before help reached them. The waves constantly washed them away from the boat, so that when they were rescued they were in an exhausted condition from their struggle to retain their life grasp on the boat. Young Teulon, who is only 13 years of age, had to have resuscitation applied by his shipmates after the rescue.

Newton Boys Trapped On Burning Boat

York and Dupuy Have Narrow Escape

Palmer York, Jr., 18, Greater Boston all-scholastic fullback last fall and state champion hurdler, a graduate of Newton high school, suffered burns about the face, head, arms and legs when the engine he was repairing aboard a 28-foot power boat exploded near the entrance of Allen's harbor on an afternoon recently. Six others in the craft narrowly escaped injuries.

Young York, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Palmer York of 301 Otis st., West Newton, summer residents of Harwichport, dived overboard following the explosion and swam 75 yards. He was picked up by men from Allen's harbor marine station and taken to Dr. Harold F. Rowley in Harwichport for treatment.

Among the six others who also dived overboard was the owner of the boat, Chris C. Mitchell of 87 Arborway, Jamaica Plain, a Boston attorney. Mitchell was picked up by a passing craft 50 yards from shore and carried to the marine station. A girl, whose name was not revealed, was carried ashore. Amongs others who swam ashore, was Howell E. Dupy of Newton.

The party was returning from an afternoon cruise in Nantucket sound when, entering the harbor, the engine began to skip. While York was attempting to make adjustments, gas overflowing from the carburetor caught fire on the hot engine. Extinguishers hurried from the marine station subdued the blaze before much damage was done. York before diving overboard, made desperate attempts to subdue the flames.

Newton Official Gives Self Service

Joseph W. Bartlett, city solicitor and also chairman of the State Emergency Finance Board, was called upon to serve himself in the ordinary duties of his two positions this week. Yesterday as city solicitor he drew up and signed the city's application for a Federal loan of $630,900 for the local public works projects to be undertaken as provided by the NRA program. These include the proposed incinerator, and the three school projects, a new grade school on Nevada st., Newtonville, an addition to the F. A. Day Junior High School and enlargement of the Bigelow school in order to complete the transformation of the building into an adequate junior high school.

After signing the application Mr. Bartlett turned them over to himself as Chairman of the Finance Board which receives such applications, decided that they were in order for consideration and filed them with himself pending hearings on the projects.

As the Boston Transcript stated, "Bartlett has no patience with red tape and gave himself prompt and courteous attention it was reported. It is said that he had no complaints to make about the way he had treated himself."

Elm Disease Not Threatening City

Having been besieged by numerous inquiries from anxious nature lovers, Foreman George Rogers of the forestry division of the Newton Street Department wishes to take this opportunity of denying that the Garden City has been stricken by the so-called Dutch Elm disease.

Rogers estimates that he has received more than sixty telephone calls from Newton residents who expressed the fear that their favorite elm trees had contracted the disease about which they had read in the newspapers of late.

The forestry foreman's reply in each case was reassuring. He said that although the Dutch Elm disease had been discovered in New Jersey and Long Island, there were no evidences of it in New England.

Local Service Clubs Aid In NRA Consumer's Campaign In Newtons

Enthusiastic Community Spirit of Rotarians And Kiwanians Produces Results

During the week Newton residents have been canvassed in the NRA Consumer's Campaign in conjunction with the national recovery program with the result that many pledges of co-operation through patronizing members of the NRA have been received. With many workers conducting the solicitation ninety per cent of the city has been covered and although many houses are closed while their occupants are away on vacation there has been an enthusiastic response to the appeal.

Behind the details of the local campaign lies a story of community spirit that is of real interest. Of the thousands of Consumer's campaigns that were conducted throughout the country this week that in Newton was probably unique in that practically no expense was involved, all necessary material and work which was called for locally being contributed.

The local drive, directed officially through the Chamber of Commerce as the designated NRA headquarters in Newton, was conducted by the two local service clubs, the Rotary and Kiwanis, and several other organizations. The committee in charge of the work was headed by George L. White, President of the Newton Kiwanis Club, who carried the responsibilities of the campaign.

Upon being designated the local NRA headquarters the Chamber of Commerce, through its secretary, Mr. Robert Fleming, called a meeting of delegates from the various organizations in Newton. Due to the fact that many of the officials of these organizations were away unavoidable delays were experienced with the result that the meeting of this group could not be held before last week Friday noon at the Brae Burn Country Club. The meeting was attended by some forty representatives of these organizations at which President James P. Gallagher of the Chamber of Commerce, presided. Mr. Arthur Liebman of the Boston office of the Massachusetts State Recovery Board was the chief speaker. He outlined the plan and purpose of the entire recovery program and of the need for the co-operation of public-spirited citizens in putting the local consumer's drive over. As a result of this meeting an executive committee was formed with Mr. White as chairman. Other members of the committee and the organizations they represented were Mrs. Alden Speare, Newton Centre Women's Club; Mrs. Frank E. Morris, Newtonville Women's Club; Mrs. W. K. Dunham, Newton Upper Falls Women's Club, Mrs. Arthur W. C. Desoe, Auburndale Women's Club; L. H. Johnson, Newton Carpenter's Association; J. Ernest Gibson, Suburban Service Stores; William Skelton, Newton Centre Business Men's Association; and Andrew J. Ford, Newton Chamber of Commerce.

This committee met Saturday to formulate plans for the local drive in the Paramount Theatre, Newton, the use of which was given through the courtesy of Mr. John Snyder, manager. Throughout the entire week-end the committee attempted to get under way but met with many obstacles which could not be overcome and necessitated many changes in plans. An attempt was made to have the work taken over by the organization of canvassers set up for the Community Chest campaign last fall but as many of these workers were away it was found that it would take weeks to get started and the drive was scheduled to begin at ten o'clock on Monday morning.

Saturday afternoon letters were delivered to the churches of Newton requesting that appeals be made on Sunday for volunteer workers. The same appeal was publicly made at the performances on Saturday and Sunday at the Paramount Theatre. It was hoped that these appeals would provide sufficient workers so that the drive could get under way at the scheduled zero hour.

Meanwhile Mr. Leon Rogers, president of the Community Chest, had offered the services of Mr. Arthur G. Hosmer, the administrative head of the organization, and that of two clerical employees for the duration of the campaign. Thus the division of the city into forty-one sections with maps of the many streets of the city was made available, which made it possible to accomplish the task.

A number of members of the executive committee volunteered to direct the work in their respective sections and were ready to start on Monday morning as volunteer workers who responded to the call were assigned to them. J. Ernest Gibson of Nonantum and L. H. Johnson of West Newton were the two captains who got under way at the designated hour, with Mrs. Morris of Newtonville, and Mrs. Speare and Mr. Skelton in Newton Centre following in short order. It soon became apparent to Mr. White that some other means must be obtained to get under way in the remaining twenty-five sections as the volunteer workers who had reported had all been assigned to duty.

Feeling that this was a task calling for support of the local service clubs, Mr. White interviewed Mr. Harry Hanson, president of the Rotary Club, and enlisted his support. After a brief discussion Mr. Hanson summoned the directors of the Rotary Club to his office less than an hour before the regular meeting hour of the club Monday noon in order to get action started. At the club meeting Mr. White outlined the plan and appealed to members of the Rotary Club to take a section of the city and be responsible for conducting the drive in that section, promising equal support on behalf of the Kiwanis Club. Members of the Rotary Club responded and early in the afternoon began getting organized for the campaign in their respective sections. Monday night a directors' meeting of the Kiwanis Club was held, and at the Tuesday noon meeting the remaining sections were assigned to volunteer captains, and organization of the drive was then completed. Members of the service club sought the assistance of their friends, neighbors and members of their own families to perform the actual canvass from house to house.

GEORGE L. WHITE

Chairman NRA Newton Consumer's Campaign Executive Commitee

There were many interesting sidelights in connection with the drive denoting the interest and enthusiasm which those in charge of the various sections had for their task. Mr. Gibson, who completed the canvass in Nonantum at about five o'clock on Monday afternoon, informed Mr. White of the fact, saying, "We are finished—where do we go from here?" Mr. John Lund, a member of the Rotary Club and superintendent of schools, who volunteered to take care of a section of Auburndale, said that he needed but three sheets carrying instructions to workers. When asked how he was going to get along with but three workers he replied that he and his two boys would start that afternoon and do the work. Mr. John Janse of the Kiwanis Club offered a box of cigars to the first Kiwanian who completed his section. This was won by Charles A. Mahoney, directing a section of Newton Highlands, who did not get started until after the Kiwanis meeting on Tuesday noon and covered the territory with his workers before six-thirty in the evening. Another enthusiastic response came from Lyscomb A. Bruce, Jr., of the Rotary Club, who said, "Give me the section you expect to have the most difficulty in finding a captain for and I will take it."

That the NRA is tending toward the employment of more persons is indicated locally through the fact that two of the volunteer canvassers who have been unemployed were offered employment when they visited homes in West Newton.

Alfred P. Hartshorne of the Rotary Club donated 100 posters calling attention to the fact that any banking office in the city will have pledge cards available for Newton residents as they return to the city from vacations. Walter S. Packard of the Newton Trust Co. spent considerable time in handling various details of the work while the Misses E. T. Finn, A. T. Walsh and A. L. Miller gave their time on Saturday afternoon for emergency stenographic work.

The various parts of the city which were directed by the various captains were as follows:

Nonantum: Ernest J. Gibson, Kiwanian, Suburban Service Stores.

Newton Corner: Harry W. Bascom,

VICTORY SENIORS WIN PLAYGROUND CHAMPIONSHIP

In one of the finest games played on West Newton Playground this year, the Victory Playground Senior baseball club defeated the Upper Falls team, last week, Thursday evening, by the score of 2-0, for the Senior Playground Championship of the City of Newton.

Sam Lupo pitched a no-hit, no-run game for Victory, striking out fourteen and being in complete control all the time. Sam was the real hero of the game, knocking out two hits, scoring one run and knocking in the other.

Jim DeMichele was very close to Sam in effectivensss, striking out seventeen, but was touched up for five solid hits at the right time.

It was a splendidly played game and speaks well of the type of ball being played by the organized playground teams of the city. Fine material for high school teams is certainly being developed, and the boys have had a lot of fun.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

COACH SANBORN CALLS CANDIDATES FOR HIGH SCHOOL

Football is just around the corner although baseball may still continue to hold the interest of the faithful world series fan and sport lover. Labor Day is a few days away and with its approach comes the call for candidates for the Newton high school football team to report for the distribution of suits and the initial practice session. Coach Ralph M. Sanborn of the Newton football team has set next Wednesday morning, Sept. 6th, as the day for candidates for the 1933 high school team to report to receive their suits and Thursday morning, Sept. 7, as the day of the first practice session.

Undoubtedly a number of these who will be candidates for the team the coming fall have been practicing with the pigskin during spare moments this summer and they will have a slight start on the majority of their fellow candidates. As usual Coach Sanborn will spend considerable time in the early practice sessions on conditioning work in preparation for the attractive schedule ahead.

The schedule for this year is one of the most attractive and one of the stiffest which any Newton team has been called upon to play for many years, including as it does games with Brockton, Manchester, N. H., Everett and Waltham in addition to the regular league games and a few others of minor importance. As Thanksgiving Day does not come until the very last day of November this year the opportunity presented itself of making a ten game schedule instead of the nine-game list usually prepared by Faculty Manager Dr. Oscar Martin. With the exception of the Thanksgiving Day game at Brookline all games will be played on Saturdays.

As in the past two years Newton will meet Arlington High in the opening game with the lid to be pried off at Arlington on Saturday, Sept. 23rd. Newton will open the Suburban League season the following Saturday by entertaining Cambridge High and Latin at Newtonville.

A new comer to the Newton schedule will be met on the first Saturday in October, the 7th, when Watertown High comes to Dickinson Stadium to show its stuff against the larger and presumably stronger Newton squad.

The first big game of the season will take place on October 14th when Everett High is the visitor to Newton's gridiron. This game always draws a large crowd and this year should be no exception since the deep rivalry between the two schools is still at a high peak.

The Everett game will be followed by one of the severest if not the stiffest test the Newton eleven will face this fall. On Saturday, Oct. 21 the orange and black squad will go to Brockton. This game may well turn out to be one of the most important games of the schoolboy season as Brockton is in the thick of the mythical race for State scholastic honors every year. Coming immediately after the Everett contest the Newton squad will have plenty to prove its mettle.

Concluding the October list of games is Quincy High which was shifted to the later date from its usual position after the Everett affair, in order that Newton and Brockton could get together. Quincy will come to Newton as usual.

On November 4th Newton will go to Russell Field, North Cambridge to play its second Suburban league game of the season with Rindge Tech as its opponent. Then comes Armistice Day, Nov. 11th, on the second Saturday in the month. The capacity of the Dickinson stadium will undoubtedly be taxed on that day when Newton and Manchester (N. H.) High, stage what is hoped to be the first of series of annual games. Newton has seldom booked an out-of-state opponent in any sport and while this makes some sort of a departure from the usual regime there is no reason why it should not continue. Manchester always has one of the best football teams in the Granite state and is supported by football fans in spirited fashion.

The concluding games on the schedule are the usual encounters with Waltham and Brookline High Schools with the Waltham game scheduled for the Newtonville gridiron and the Brookline game for the Brookline high field. Newton alternates with these two schools on the playing field so that the home schedule always closes with one or the other. The Waltham game is listed for Nov. 18th and the Brookline game for Thanksgiving Day morning. Nov. 30, giving the local squad the usual eleven day rest between its final games.

What Newton's prospects are for the coming season are greatly in doubt. Coach Sanborn has lost a number of sterling players particularly in the trio of Warren Huston, three-sport captain and greatest athletic star in local high school history, Charlie Houghton, another three-sport athlete, and Alexander Kevorkian who also was a leading member of the football, hockey and baseball teams. While the loss of these players may be felt the Newton mentor has a nucleus of eight lettermen from the 1932 eleven around which to build his team. Much of the remaining material will be green and inexperienced although some of the players on last year's intermediate varsity will be in the race for varsity positions.

The 1933 team will be captained by Charlie Thompson of Newton Highlands who proved his merit last year blocking several kicks in important games which turned the tide in favor of the Newton eleven. Although Thompson did not play the entire season he and Dick Francis staged a great race for the centre position in the Newton line. An injury to Thompson gave Francis the edge in the race for a while but Thompson came back strong to finish on even terms with his friendly rival. Thompson undoubtedly will be one of the outstanding players on the orange and black squad this fall.

The remainder of the group of letter-men available this fall includes four backs, two ends and a guard. The backs are "Red" McCarthy who improved tremendously during the 1932 season and when the curtain fell last November seemed the logical successor to Huston as a triple-threat man. Time alone can tell whether this will be the outcome or not. Along with McCarthy in the backfield Coach Sanborn will have Bob Whitney, fullback, Louis Miller and Frank "Babe" Feola. The ends are Bertram Finberg and Teddy Johnson while Walter Rich is the guard who made his letter last fall. Other probable candidates for varsity berths who saw some action with the 1932 varsity but who failed to win their letters are Charles Flagg, John Kulesca, and Mascia, backs and Sheridan, Clavenger and O'Neil, linesman. Leading prospects from the 1932 intermediate varsity and junior varsity are such players as Gus Castoldi, Claude Frazier, Gilbert Myers, intermediate captain in 1932, Bernard Ryan, Paul Treannie, Melvin Swig, John O'Connell, and Norman Plukane. Clavenger, Castoldi and Myers each have two years of play before graduating.

NEWTON Y WINS CITY TWI HONORS IN THREE STRAIGHT

The Newton Y baseball team captured the city twilight league championship in three straight victories over the Newton Highlands A. A. winners of the play-off series with the Newton Cubs for the right to play in the annual local closing games of the Twilight League season. Throughout the entire season the Newton Y outclassed the rest of the field by stringing together a dozen games. In its league season the Y lost but one game and played but two tie affairs before darkness prevented playing to a decision. The only team to upset the Y nine was the Auburndale nine while the Cubs battled Manager Louis Bills aggregation in the two no-decision affairs. The Highlands, third place holders at the end of the regular season, then met the Cubs, runners-up to the Y, in a play-off series and winning two games of the three played earned the right to face the Y for championship honors.

The first game in this series was played last Thursday night at Cabot Park with "Red" Joyce on the mound for the Y and Bill Lansed, former Our Lady and St. Charles School athlete, behind the bat. "Tucker" Rhodes and Tommy Lyons, 1932 Newton High School battery were in the Highlands line-up. In the first inning a series of bunts set the Highlands off to a one-run lead which offset by the Y in the latter half of the frame by a similar mode of attack. Joyce then settled down to hold the Highlands players at bay while the Y settled the issue in the third inning with a four-run rally which with another single tally in the fifth gave them a 6 to 1 decision. "Penny" deMille, Newton high captain of a few years ago, was the batting star with a home run and a triple. Bill Sutcliffe, Y centrefielder, also connected for two safe hits while Joyce was limiting the Highlands to three safeties.

In the second game on Friday mound "Beanie" Barnes was on the mound for the Y with Phil Giles, 1933 Newton High twirler, throwing them up for the Highlands. Giles support was shaky and the Highlands players could do nothing with Barnes' delivery and the Y captured the game 6 to 0. Barnes held Highlands to but one hit with third baseman Coakley making the one clean blow. Charlie Gallagher, Our Lady High star athlete of the past three years, drove the ball over the tennis courts for a home run while deMille also hit for the circuit for the second time in two days.

The third and final game was played at Cabot Park on Saturday afternoon and in a full nine-inning contest the Y swept through to a 11 to 3 victory. It was expected that Howie Whitmore, former Newton High and Harvard star would twirl for the Highlands but after warming up Whitmore did not feel fit and Swett took the mound. Whitmore twirled a great game against the Cubs the previous Saturday as his first attempt this season after being out of action because of a back injury early in the summer. Hokanson pitched for the Y who could coast along easily after his mates fell on Swett for nine runs in the second inning. Giles relieved Swett and held the Y to two more tallies but the Highlands could not cut down the Y lead.

The Y team will be tendered a banquet at some time in the near future at which the championship trophies will be awarded.

NOBLE WINS AND LOSES IN YORK TENNIS TOURNEYS

Arthur D. Noble of Newton Centre, Dartmouth sophomore and tennis star, won and lost in the tennis tournaments at York, Maine, which concluded last week Saturday and Sunday. In the men's singles Noble faced Edward Fuller of Salem in the final match to lose in three straight sets. Noble was outclassed by the Salem player who won, 6—2, 6—3, 7—5 for his second successive year.

In the mixed doubles Noble, pairing with Miss Mary Cutter of Winchester, won their way into the final round to meet Mrs. Wyeth of Washington and Vaughan Pipes of Haverhill by scores of 7—5, 6—3.

In the men's doubles Noble and Paul Guibord of Melrose, also a Dartmouth tennis player, won the title in that event defeating Edward Fuller and William Fuller of Salem in a four-set match. The scores were 8—6, 6—2, 4—6, 6—3.

Newton Parrot Gets Much Publicity

An accounting filed in probate court on Wednesday caused Polly, a 28 year old parrot living in Newton, to make the front page of a Boston paper yesterday.

With a tidy little fortune amounting to $5160.12 invested in American Tel. and Tel. and other conservative investments, Polly is able to contemplate with equanimity the rising price of pecans, which form its exclusive diet.

The accounting shows its bills are all paid, including $270.77 for cage and board for the fiscal year ending July 16, 1933; $5.66 for income tax for 1933 and $23.28 for miscellaneous expenses. Its household and business budget shows a balance growing comfortably against an old age free from care, for as parrots go, Polly is in the bloom of early manhood or womanhood, as the case may be.

Its estate is being handled by the Union Trust Company and its health and happiness are the particular charge of Mrs. Nina B. Allen of Newton, who inherited the bird from her husband, Fred D. Allen, who died five years ago. Originally it was brought by automobile from Mexico, and despite the fact it pays an income tax, it has never become an American citizen.

Like all wealthy individuals, it talks very little and spends most of its time sitting and thinking, probably trying to figure out how to make an extra 1 per cent.

The accounting showed that during the year ending July 16, 1933, the Union Trust Company as trustee had as principal $5101.47; received $352.70 in income; paid $270.77 for cage and board and paid other charges making a total of $295.05, and so has a balance of $58.65.

Disbursements are set forth as $17.62 compensation to the trustee; $270.77 paid for cage and board, and $5.66 Massachusetts income tax.

"A parrot's money is as useful to the commonwealth as any other money," said Henry F. Long tax commissioner.

As to Polly's life history, it is comparatively simple, except that mystery surrounds his or her early life in Mexico. Brought to New England by automobile, it became the pet of Fred D. Allen's aunt, Sabra A. Salisbury, and on her death she left it to her nephew with admonitions to give it a good home.

He took the trust so seriously that in 1928, when he was engaged to marry Miss Nina B. Williams, now his widow, he wrote a will which made the little green bird with the yellow head a bondholder and a taxpayer on his death.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

Lionel Barrymore is always a welcome visitor at the Paramount Theatre in Newton. This time he comes in the role of "Grandpa Storr" in "The Stranger's Return" by Phil Stong.

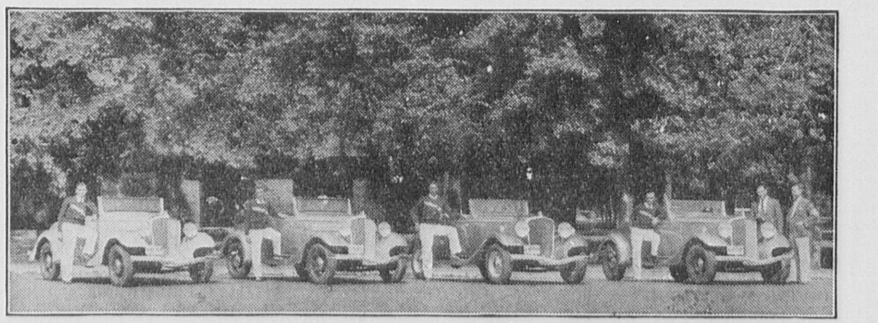
Co-starred with him is Miriam Hopkins. She is appealingly sincere in a role of difficult translation. The city granddaughter of the ancient tiller, she comes back to the farm to find peace, only to find it tragically interlocked with romance. Miriam can act. She is vastly more than an interesting personality and it was wizardry that made Vidor pick her for the part. On the same program will be seen Warner Baxter and Elissa Landi in "I Loved You Wednesday."

For the last half of the week, "Storm at Daybreak" with Kay Francis and Nils Asther will be the feature and Charles Ruggles and Mary Boland featured in "Mama Loves Papa". The summer bargain Matinees will be discontinued for the winter, new fall prices also go into effect next Sunday this applies however to balcony seats only.

Platinum Most Malleable

Colombia produces a large amount of the world's platinum. It is the most malleable of metals. It can be spun so fine that a cubic inch can be drawn into wire 50,000 miles long. It would take 13,000 of these strands to make the thickness of a hair.

Terraplane Team Off For Pikes Peak Climb



Four Essex Terraplane stock cars entered by the Hudson Motor Car Company in the Pikes Peak Hill Climb on Labor Day, left the Hudson factory in Detroit Tuesday for the scene of the contest. The cars, driven by Chet Miller, Al Miller, Glen Shultz and Paul Bost, who will also pilot them in the Labor Day climb, are making the trip to Colorado Springs by easy stages. The Pikes Peak Climb rules require that all entries be absolutely stock, even to all equipment details, down to the spare tire and rear view mirror.

A Terraplane 6, driven in the Pikes Peak event last year by Chet Miller, broke the stock car record for the mountain course and gave the Hudson Motor Car possession of the Penrose Trophy, for which the racers will compete again this year. Chet Miller will drive a Terraplane 8 in the coming test, as will also Al Miller.

Glen Shultz, who will be at the wheel of a Terraplane 6, is a veteran Pikes Peak competitor, having won either the stock or open class races there in seven of the past ten years. Paul Bost, driver of the other Terraplane 6, is best known for his performances on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

The Pikes Peak Climb, for years the most famous competitive event of its kind in America, will climax the series of tests in which Terraplanes have taken part since last Labor Day. Without a single reversal, Terraplanes have established new records for Lookout Mountain and Signal Mountain, at Chattanooga, Tenn.; Shades Mountain, at Birmingham, Ala.; Stone Mountain, at Atlanta, Ga.; Mt. Washington, in New Hampshire, and other courses in the Appalachian Range. A Terraplane 8 not only set a new record for the Mt. Washington climb, but was the first car to make this test run in high gear.

COMMUNITY SERVICE AND SERVICE CLUBS

That the local service clubs, the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs of Newton, are something more than mere luncheon clubs, where Newton business men gather once each week was never more clearly demonstrated than in connection with the NRA Consumer's Campaign here in Newton this week. Our news columns this week carry the story of the connection these service clubs had with the campaign, showing the readiness with which they willingly get behind any plan of community service. Efforts having failed to complete the task by the usual methods of directing a canvass, Chairman George L. White sought the assistance of the Rotary Club and the Kiwanis Club, of which latter organization he is president. Without hesitation members of both clubs turned their attention to this call of community service and true to their respective mottoes of "Service Above Self'" and "We Build", took over the task which at the moment seemed almost impossible of accomplishment.

To be sure, this is not the first time these clubs have served the community. They are continually doing so, each in its own way. Many times these services are unknown and not publicly recognized, but they are being done. It is not a service club principle to seek publicity and recognition for such accomplishments, but rather the attempt continually to serve the community until they become a necessary and vital factor for the civic betterment of the city whose name they bear. The NRA Consumer's Campaign called for community spirit, it was provided by the service clubs, it should be publicly recognized. We not only feel a certain pride in holding membership in a service club, but take pride in the fact that Newton has these service clubs and that they are a distinct asset to the community.

PATRONIZE NEWTON MERCHANTS

This week we present a page advertisement in which many Newton merchants and business men appeal to local residents to patronize local firms. All of these merchants have signified their intention to abide by the respective codes of the NRA which apply to their particular lines of business. These are not all of those who have signed and are members of the NRA here in Newton, but those whose names are listed are showing a co-operative desire to put the NRA message into the homes of Newton people. That message is to BUY—BUY NOW—BUY FREELY. As General Johnson says, the next few weeks are going to be the most important and if you buy to the very limit of your requirements and abilities the purchasing power that you will create in various industries will aid these merchants in the crisis. Do not fail them. Whenever possible call upon them for whatever services you require.

ANOTHER MILESTONE

With this issue, the first number of a sixty-second volume, the GRAPHIC begins another year of serving the city of Newton as a public-spirited weekly newspaper. For more than six decades the fundamental idea has been to give our readers all the news of local interest with impartiality to all. For more than thirty years the paper has been under its present management and for nine years under our personal direction. We have grown and expanded with the city and have a representative circulation in all of the various sections of the city. In the coming years we shall continue to hold the interests of the citizens who reside in, and make Newton the Garden City of the Commonwealth, as the first principle of our service.

As far as the Braves are concerned NRA probably means "NO ROOM ANYWHERE."

Newton People Invited to Attend Babson Meetings

Citizens of Newton are invited to attend the series of public meetings devoted to a consideration of the business outlook and the economic and political problems confronting the United States today which will open next Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 6, at Babson Park when the 20th Annual National Business Conference begins its sessions. The meetings extend through Sunday afternoon, Sept. 10, and business men from all parts of the country will be in attendance. Admission to all sessions is without charge.

Among the speakers will be Donald R. Richberg, chief of the legal division of the NRA, and is the one who drafted the major provisions of the National Industrial Recovery Act. He will bring to the conference the latest word from President Roosevelt as to the progress of the NRA program on Friday afternoon, September 8.

Each lot contains 7,200 square feet and the total value of the land is $7,000. Mr. MacNeil has already started the erection of a single brick colonial home on one of the lots, and will improve the other two lots immediately by the erection of two more houses.

All the above sales were negotiated through the Burns agency.

Citizen Recalls Good Old Days Of 'Brain Trust'

Is Newton Better Governed Than Thirty Years Ago

Times have changed. Yes, indeed. Political times are included herewith.

For example—many of us who have not yet passed the half-century mark can recall the good old days when the Republican "brain-trust" of Newton gathered annually in friendly conference, perhaps at the Newton Club or the Hunnewell Club, and decided who should be Mayor of Newton for the next year. If I am not greatly mistaken, they very frequently handpicked candidates for the Board of Aldermen. And they picked mighty good men, too. Comparisons are invidious, odious and all that, but rumor has it that the personnel of the old Boards compared extremely favorably with those elected under the present democratic system. The brain-trust, composed of men distinguished in business and in public service, men of whom we may all be justly proud, would scrutinize all available political timber and "put the finger" on men who, in their judgment, possessed unusual experience and qualifications. Furthermore, if the men selected were not available, pressure was occasionally brought to bear.

Now what was the result? Simply this. The Board was made up of men with records — men who were busy in their chosen fields—the very men who nowadays are alienated from politics because of the clamor and confusion and the petty bickering and squabbling. These men are not "too proud to fight," but they can ill afford the time for public service. They would, however, make the sacrifice if they were not bound to meet up with various and sundry gentlemen who put a reverse English on the maxim that "the office seeks the man."

Now I ask you,—What chance has the average successful business man in a knock-down, drag-out primary contest with a cocky, leather-lunged, soap-box orator whose chief qualification is frequently his overwhelming desire to hold public office? Answer: very little, unless he has a wide personal following who will take up the cudgels for him. Of course, if he is a man of the Alvan T. Fuller type, he may succeed in breaking in, but your typical conservative business man will find himself in a tough spot.

What am I getting at? Simply this. We may wave the flag and sing "The Star-Spangled Banner," and prate about the glories of democracy all we please, but, way down deep in our hearts we have a feeling—perhaps just a hunch in some cases—that under certain circumstances a "benevolent despotism"—intelligent, of course—may be an excellent thing.

Stop a moment and think. Is Newton governed more efficiently and more faithfully today than thirty years ago? Are our standards of public service higher or lower today? May we or may we not "point with pride" to our year in-year out public servants and say to our neighboring communities: "These are the men who make the Garden City what it is!"

Driver Arrested On Three Counts

Trapped on a one-way street at Newton Corner, James F. Dooley, 28 years old, a shoe worker, of 726 East Eighth st., South Boston, was arrested on charges of driving while under the influence of liquor, drunkenness, and driving without being licensed.

He was arraigned in the Newton district court Saturday and held in $400 bail for a hearing Wednesday August 30.

That Dooley had been involved in an automobile accident before reaching Newton was indicated by the fact that the front part of his car was found to be damaged. He was headed in the wrong direction on the one-way street when he was arrested by Patrolmen McDonagh, D. Keating, Brosnahan and Mooney.

COLLAPSES FROM FUMES OF PAINT

Overcome by paint fumes while working in the cellar of a house at 35 Lakewood rd., Newton Highlands, Robert Salfridge, 37 years old, of 1122 Massachusetts ave., Arlington, was discovered by the merest chance and was carried out into the open air and revived.

The man's unconscious form was found on Tuesday afternoon by a resident who lives nearby. Salfridge had been working in the cellar all day and paint fumes, together with the high humidity, caused him to collapse. When he was finally rescued, Dr. Joseph D. Ferrone of 1074 Centre st., Newton Centre, was summoned and he rendered first aid.

The house where the accident occurred is occupied by the family of Edward R. Rockwood, who are at their summer house in Falmouth.

Letters To The Editor

(Editor's Note—In last week's issue the details of the Aldermanic meeting regarding the NRA public works projects called attention to the fact that the protest of former President of the Board of Aldermen Thomas W. White regarding the borrowing of funds and the building of an incinerator in Newton Highlands was printed in detail in another column. Many of our readers failed to find this protest. We regret the fact that through error it was not printed.)

MR. WHITE'S PROTEST

To the Editor:

I noticed in the columns of last week's issue that Thomas W. White, candidate for mayor opposing Mayor Weeks, had submitted his protest to the Board of Aldermen against the erection of an incinerator in the City of Newton.

While his actual protest was not published in your paper, I understand from observers who attended the Board of Aldermen meeting of Thursday, August 24, and at which the protest was read in full; that there were two main arguments as to why the incinerator should not be built. The following will easily disprove these contentions.

Any chemist will tell you that odors from waste that is burned in an incinerator will be completely eliminated at 1100 degrees Fahrenheit. The ordinary incinerator has a combustion temperature of 1400 degrees Fahrenheit leaving a margin of 300 degrees Fahrenheit as a safety measure. Therefore, Newton's incinerator will be as odorless as the one that is located only a mile from the White House in Washington, D. C.

The condition of our dumps in this city makes it economical to build one at this time. We will have to have one in the near future. Why not erect it now when we can obtain 30% from the Federal government instead of having to pay 100% for it later on.

I wonder how many citizens know that there are fourteen dumps in this City which cost the City nearly $14,000 to maintain not including cost of fire-fighting.

The worst dumps are located at West Pine st., Warren st., Beacon st., North st. and Webster st.

If you as citizens are not familiar with their location, unsightliness or size, I suggest that you see them. Then write the Mayor and Board of Aldermen that it is your opinion that we build the incinerator as soon as possible.

The Aldermen who voted for the erection of this incinerator are to be commended. The Aldermen who voted against it are:

Alderman Sproat—Ward 1.
Alderman Cronin—Ward 4.
Alderman Temperley—Ward 5.

Unfortunately the farseeing action of the Mayor and the majority of the Board of Aldermen is not final. The money must be obtained from the Federal government. The committee appointed by President Roosevelt and headed by Ex-Governor Alvan T. Fuller will hold hearings as to whether this project will be allowed.

Watch for the announcement of hearing and plan to write a letter or be present yourself in order that this disease-breeding and unsightly menace may be eliminated from the Garden City.

GEO. A. BURDETT.

Honesty Rewarded

Although out of work for many months, Tony Lucente, 22, of 156 River st., West Newton, Wednesday promptly returned 37 shares of stock, valued at about $1200, to Miss Lucille Retan of 29 Forest ave., West Newton, which she lost as she left a West Newton bank Wednesday morning.

The securities, mostly bank stocks, were in a manila envelope when Tony found them on the bank steps.

Noting Miss Retan's name on the envelope he carefully seached the Newton directory until he found her address and then returned the stocks shortly after she had given a description of them to police.

Lucente is the only support of his father and mother. Tony was given a suitable reward and some odd jobs for his honesty.

N. U. SCHOOL OF BUSINESS, SERVES EMPLOYED MEN AND WOMEN

Dean Carl D. Smith, of the School of Business at Northeastern University, believes that every school of college grade in Boston should have a definite place in the educational scheme of the city. Not content with trying to build the best school of its type, he maintains that each school should cater to the requirements of a particular group of students.

"Here in the School of Business," he says, "we try to render the finest possible service to young men and women who are employed during the day and are at the same time ambitious to train themselves for positions of greater responsibility. Their day-time employment, instead of being a handicap to their education, becomes an advantage under our method of operation.

"Our instructors are for the most part business men actively engaged in the particular subjects which they teach. Thus the instruction is directly tied-in with current business practice, a particularly valuable arrangement in those days when business itself is undergoing so many rapid changes."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 3.

The Golden Text is: "He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?" (Micah 6:8).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And he preached in their synagogues throughout all Galilee, and cast out devils. And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. And Jesus, moved with compassion, put forth his hand, and touched him, and saith unto him, I will; be thou clean. And as soon as he had spoken, immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed" (Mark 1:39-42).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus beheld in Science the perfect man, who appeared to him where sinning mortal man appears to mortals. In this perfect man, the Saviour saw God's own likeness, and this correct view of man healed the sick" (p. 476).

Conservatory Expects Revival Of Good Music

The New England Conservatory of Music is looking forward to a revival in musical education and to increased opportunities for properly trained and educated musicians. Musical standards are being improved as witness the musical programs of the air. No longer can pseudo-musical expression claim the interest and approbation of the majority of radio listeners. Millions of people have been given a higher conception of the ministry of Music, which cannot fail to materialize in a desire to be participators as well as auditors.

While the attainment of college degrees and proficiency in academic subjects have seemed to be a drug in the employment market during the depression years, the vocational opportunities for trained musicians are by no means as static as many have been led to believe. Present students of the New England Conservatory, during the past year, have found opportunities for gainful employment . . . in some cases sufficient to enable them to earn enough to continue their studies at this famous "University of the Music Arts."

It has been said recently by a well known musician and composer, "We are going back to singing instead of listening." The great listening era, which dates from the advent of radio broadcasting, is on the wane. A desire for personal performance rather than mere audience is apparent. The place of Music in the public schools has jumped from a mere optional activity to one of first importance. Tens of thousands of young folks are graduating with their musical sense keen and on the road to fuller development. Another encouraging feature, evident in some of the Boston theatres is that soloists are featured at the performances and the acceptance by the public of this feature is such as augurs well for the further development of individual performance in our theatres.

To young men and women who look to the future with confidence and courage, the Musical profession offers splendid opportunities. The public and private schools, the radio broadcasting studios, the stage, the church, and private teaching, all offer a field of Musical activity for the trained musician, and the courses given at the New England Conservatory are arranged expressly to cover the ground adequately, even to the granting of Bachelor's and Master's degrees. For students who desire to study only one subject or instrument, the Conservatory offers the best instruction obtainable under instructors and musicians who have achieved national and international recognition.

The Conservatory begins its sixty-second year on September 21, and any who are interested in beginning or continuing their musical education are cordially invited to communicate with or visit the office of the General Manager, Ralph L. Flanders.

The Boston Sunday Globe should be in every home in New England. Its comic section—its editorial section — its magazine — its splendid news reports—and its many other features—are well worth your attention. Order your Sunday Globe for the Fall and Winter months. Your family will enjoy having the Boston Globe in your home every weekday.

Defendant Must Pay Damages

Stains which were imprinted on police uniforms by his own blood during a fight with several policemen cost Philip F. Andres, 22, of 61 Kirkstall rd., Newtonville, exactly $3.50 in the Newton district court.

The payment of that sum was ordered by Judge W. Lloyd Allen as restitution to Patrolmen Joseph Smith and William Maloney for the cost of having their clothes cleaned after the affray.

The restitution was a condition of the suspension of a sentence of three months in the house of correction imposed on the young man on a charge of assault on Patrolman Smith. A charge of drunkenness was placed on file.

The fight occurred when Andres resisted the effort of the police to arrest him for drunkenness on the morning of August 10 in Newtonville square. Andres was finally clubbed into submission and the blood from his wound was spattered on the clothes of the officers during the struggle.

Racing an Ancient Sport; Runners Would Fall Dead

All down the ages, foot racing has been practiced by grownups as well as by children. The Greeks were great runners, and the foot races at the Olympic games were famous all over the world. Some of these were so strenuous that we are told that several runners actually fell down dead at the end of the course, says the Montreal Herald.

In England in the Eighteenth century, races were run on foot for large sums of money, sometimes with ridiculous handicaps. For example, one man with a jockey on his back raced a fat, elderly gentleman; another bowled a coach wheel at eight miles an hour round a platform in St. Giles' fields in London; and a third ran from Hyde Park corner to Brentford with nearly sixty pounds of fish on his head!

It was quite usual at country weddings in the north of England, less than a century ago, for races to be run from the church door to the bride's house for ribbons. As soon as the wedding was over, the guests would race back to the house, and the first arrival was awarded the bride's ribbon, which was greatly prized.

Insects Show Intellect; Have Persuasive Powers

Bees can be taught to select boxes containing sugar by their color; butterflies can distinguish betwen apple juice and other liquids by touching them with their feet and one form of ant will respond to high staccato notes from a violin. Such are some of the examples of highly developed insect senses described by an official in an address before the Entomological society of London.

"Many insects are so highly organized," he said, "that I feel compelled to credit them with faculties at least in some degree more advanced than mere unconscious responses. Ants can recognize each other, and distinguish members of a rival colony. They can induce others to join them in some apparently purposeful action." Discussing the eyes of insects he said that in the eye of the butterfly there might be 5,000 independent components.

Pronouncing Chinese Names

There are a number of dialects in China, all from a common stock, but differing considerably in pronunciation and spoken vocabulary. When Chinese words are written in the Arabic alphabet they are written phonetically and should be pronounced as spelled, since no American or European, without studying the language, can hope to approximate the various tones and inflections of a Chinese. There is a broad distinction between the written and spoken language, and while a Chinese from Canton would not understand one from Foochow, they both (if literate) would be able to read the same characters. Mandarin, spoken around Peiping, is the standard form of the language, and is used by travelers throughout China, being most likely to be understood.—Pathfinder Magazine.

The Chicago Fire of 1871

The exact cause of the Chicago fire, which raged from October 9 to 11, 1871, destroying 250 lives and about 18,000 buildings, has never been determined. It is supposed, however, that the original flame was due to spontaneous combustion in Mrs. O'Leary's barn at 137 deKoven street, or to carelessness of someone smoking in the barn. The story that the fire was started by a kerosene lantern being kicked over by a cow which Mrs. O'Leary was milking was fabricated by a newspaper reporter, Michael Ahern. Ahern, who died in 1927, admitted several years before his death that he had invented the story about Mrs. O'Leary and her cow to make his account of the fire more interesting.

Costa Rica

Costa Rica is divided into three rather well-defined districts. The Pacific coast is, for the most part, "native." The East coast, largely banana lands, is inhabited by Jamaica negro laborers and white overseers. And the central region, a rich red table-land rimmed with mountains, is the home of finqueros, owners of the coffee fincas, and the "real" Costa Ricans—a pure Spanish race of beautiful women and industrious, prosperous men with almost no trace of the mixture of races so apparent in other Central American countries.

Volga Navigable Most of Length

The great Volga river, longest waterway of Europe, known to most Americans through the popular "Volga Boat Song," is navigable to within 65 miles of its source, 2,325 miles distant from its 200 mouths emptying into the Caspian sea. In the Valdai hills of Tver, where it rises, it is only 665 feet above sea level, while 1,500 miles from its entrance to the Caspian sea it is only 190 feet above the ocean level and 280 feet above the Caspian's surface.—Gas Logic.

Terns Like Their Woodwork

Noddy terns like to sit on wood so well that they will lay and hatch eggs on a piece of board if they can't build a nest of twigs and bits of wood, according to an official of the Smithsonian institution. The terns, he declares, used to build their nests in the trees, but hurricanes have left many of the small islands bare

Alligators Take Swim in Crystal Lake

An alligator hunt was in full swing at Crystal Lake, Newton Highlands, yesterday after three alligators which escaped from a nearby private pool terrorized women and children bathers when they were discovered near the municipal bathhouse.

One of the alligators was killed by Life Guard Leo Hughes by a blow with an oar, but the other two escaped and were later seen in another part of the lake.

It was learned later that the alligators, which are about two feet in length each, escaped from the pool on the estate of G. Harry Adalian, 230 Lake ave., Newton Highlands, Adalian, who is a Boston rug merchant, brought them from the South recently and installed them as pets in his private pool.

As the end of the season approaches results of the training begin to show and courses in Life Saving are completed. At Crystal Lake John Shields and Clifford Kittredge have completed the Senior course and Dorothea Kruger and Priscilla Hall the Junior course.

At the Girl Scout Camp, Camp Mary Day, Constance Linberg and Ruth Ohler of Newton Centre, Virginia Warren of West Newton and Jean Tennant of Newton Upper Falls completed the Junior course.

At the Boy Scout Camp Charles Brad and Achison Thompson, Richard Hurd, of Newton Highlands; Stanley Gruber, L. O'Mara, Austin Blogastiner of Newton; Leonard Emery, A. B. Root, 3rd, Ernest Gould of Waban; Raymond Hurley of West Newton; Robert LeCroix of Newton Centre; James Keeley of Newtonville; Mark Corthell, Lloyd Chaisson, Albert MacAuslan of Auburndale completed the Junior course and M. CORRECTION FOR LEGION AUXILIARY

Due to the serious illness of Mr. John J. Reilly of 9 Henshaw st., Mr. A. R. McCarthy and family of 4 Henshaw place were unable to spend their vacation at Centre Harbor, N. H. Mr. Reilly is the father of Mrs. A. R. McCarthy who is president of the American Legion Auxiliary of Newton.

The Starling Is Prolific

A hardy, muscular and powerful bird, somewhat resembling the crow, the starling is unusually prolific. In cities it nests in crevices of buildings, frequently driving out sparrows. In the country and in parks it nests in trees, generally preferring to seize the home of a woodpecker.

Greeks and Grecians

In the New Testament a sharp distinction is made between Greeks and Grecians. A Greek was a Gentile, either a native of Greece proper or of some country using the Greek language, while a Grecian is a Jew, speaking Greek, and using the Greek translation of the Old Testament.

Keep an Eye on Your Time

Uncle Ab says that if you know how to spend your time you need not worry much about how you spend your money.

Ingenious Revolving Urn Was World's First "Movie"

The Emperor Ch'ien Lung of China had his virtues and he had his faults, but he was never dull. He came to the throne of the celestial empire in 1735 and kept things moving until 1795, writes Spencer Kingman in Asia.

Ch'ien Lung, always restless, always on the move, strove for motion even in such things as porcelains. In the course of his reign were produced two extraordinary pieces, which evidently made a pair. Similar pieces may have been manufactured in the period, but, if they have survived, their whereabouts are not known.

These masterpieces were revolving vases, and they not only are beautiful and ingenious to the highest degree, but exhibit a skill in manufacture and an accuracy of working parts which would delight an engineer.

The revolving vases of Ch'ien Lung were so made that, when the cover was twisted, a cylindrical inner vase would twirl easily and a beholder, peering through one of the four openings which occur on the sides of the outer vase, could observe the scene on the vase turning inside.

Ch'ien Lung was every inch an emperor and a scholar. One of the reasons he holds a particular interest for us of the Twentieth century is that his revolving vases were probably the first attempt to produce a moving picture.

Blindness to Taste and Smell Common Affliction

While science knows something about taste and smell, it has been able to make little progress in improving or aiding those organs. In fact, science is about in the same state that it was in the Middle ages as far as this field is concerned. Telescopes allow one to see stars invisible to the unaided eye; scales weigh masses too large to lift or too minute to feel; microscopes bring into range the world of creatures too small to be seen; amplifiers magnify sounds inaudible to human ears, and ammeters measure electric currents too feeble to shock the most sensitive. But tongues and noses must struggle along without mechanical assistance. "Blindness" to taste or smell is relatively common. There are chemical compounds that some people declare to be disagreeably bitter and others cannot taste at all. Similarly, the lemon verbena smells to some and not to others. So science is still seeking ways to aid tongue and nose. Perhaps "microscopes" and odor amplifiers may be developed; and here is an opportunity for inventors.

Turks Love Their Pigeons

The love the Turks show for pigeons is remarkable. These birds are encouraged to nest in the nooks and crannies of many beautiful mosques in Istanbul and other places, regardless of the amount of damage they do, which is said to be considerable. Special holes are left for the pigeons in many walls. Each year during the Bayram holiday Mosque-goers and others make it a point to provide the pigeons with a great feast, especially in front of the courtyards of the Eyoub and Bayazid mosques. During this time old women stationed in the courtyards of the mosques sell millet for about a penny a cupful, which is a very high price for many of the poor people who buy it to feed to the much admired birds.

Cigar Smoke Tests Draft

Cigar smoke is used in testing the draft and pressure in boilers, furnaces, chimneys and air ducts with a glass-tube gauge. Smoke is blown into the gauge at the upper end, which is then closed with the finger. The tip of the other end is inserted into an opening in the chimney or air duct and a small stream of the air current passes into the instrument. As the air rushes in, a dividing line forms between the incoming current and the cigar smoke. Calibrations on the gauge make possible a reading at the dividing line, showing the draft without making calculations.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Most Densely Populated

There are no accurate population figures of world-wide scope, as there are many millions of persons on earth who are unknown to the census taker. Available figures, however, show that the little province of Macao, China, an island at the mouth of the Canton river and a colonial possession of Portugal, is the most densely populated country. This is according to a list given in the World Almanac. Macao's area is four square miles, and the 1927 census gave it a population of 157,176—39,294 persons to the square mile.

Rattlesnakes Held Sacred

Rattlesnakes, believed to be the "little brothers of the underworld," are particularly sacred to Navajo Indians, because they are the literal go-betweens, carrying the prayers of the people to the deities in the dark and mysterious underworld where the gods, good and bad, are supposed to dwell. Invocations are made to the snakes in times of drought and crop failure; any disrespect shown to a rattlesnake would render these prayers useless.

Assuring Respect

"You are wise in putting the portraits of your great men on your money," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown. "It assures them some measure of modern respect."

Population of Paraguay Cut to One-Fifth in War

During the Five Years' war, 1865-1870, one of the most sanguinary conflicts in history, known to the Paraguayans as the War of the Triple Alliance, this inland nation fought its three more populous neighbors—Brazil, Argentina and Uruguay, writes Harriet Chalmers Adams in the National Geographic Magazine.

The Paraguayan proved his valor. When the tide of aggression turned, he battled like a tiger in defense of his homeland. It is doubtful that a nation has ever fought more absolutely to a finish.

In the course of the long struggle, all lads over fifteen were called to the colors. Even boys of ten entered the army. As the men fell, the Spartan women took up the fray.

Paraguay's fields lay waste; most of the herds were killed; industries were ruined. Poverty and disease stalked the land. The population was reduced to a fifth of its pre-war numbers. The proportion of men to women was one to seven. The land ceded to the allies totaled 56,000 square miles.

In passing judgment on this country, we must start with 1870 on a foundation of ruin.

Postage Stamps Put End to Sending Mail Collect

Postage stamps in the United States were first authorized by an act approved March 3, 1847, and placed on sale in New York on July 1 of that year. This series consisted of two denominations, 5-cent stamps bearing a portrait of Benjamin Franklin, and 10-cent stamps bearing a portrait of George Washington.

The postage stamp grew out of the necessity for issuing a receipt for money paid in advance for the carriage of letters. Previous to their use, postage was collected in money directly when the mail was delivered. More often it was collected on delivery. Sir Rowland Hill, a British postal reformer, believed that postage should be prepaid, and to facilitate prepayment he proposed the postage stamp. The first stamps, therefore, were issued by Great Britain, and were first put on sale May 1, 1840. Stamps put an end to sending letters collect.

Boy Scouts of America

The Boy Scout movement originated in the British Isles, Sir Robert S. S. Baden-Powell being the prime mover. At that time there was a small movement in the United States, organized in 1900 by Ernest Seton-Thompson, and called "Woodcraft Indians." About the same time Dan Beard organized a similar movement called "The Sons of Daniel Boone." These were merged into the Boy Scouts of America in 1910—two years after Baden-Powell started the scout movement in England. The idea behind the movement is in training boys in the essentials of good citizenship. It is non-military, interdenominational and non-political.

Statue of Liberty

The height of the Statue of Liberty from the base to the torch is 151 feet 1 inch; from the foundation of the pedestal to the torth, 35 feet 6 inches. The figure of Liberty from heel to top of head, is 111 feet 6 inches tall. The head measures more than 17 feet from chin to top, and is 10 feet thick from ear to ear. The mouth is 3 feet wide. Liberty has a hand 16 feet 5 inches long; an index finger 8 feet long, and a fingernail which measures 10 by 13 inches. The thickness of the figure at the waist is 35 feet, and the tablet she holds measures 23 feet 7 inches by 13 feet 7, and is 2 feet thick. Forty persons can stand in the head, and 12 in the torch.

Napoleon's Wife

Marie Louise, Napoleon's wife, after he was sent to St. Helena, took her son and returned to her father, the emperor of Austria. Following Napoleon's death in 1821 she made a morganatic marriage with her chamberlain, Count Neipperg. He died in 1829, and four years later she was secretly married to his successor as her chamberlain, Count Bombelles. She died December 14, 1847, in Vienna. Her son, known as the king of Rome, also lived in Vienna, as Duke of Reichstadt. He died at twenty-one in 1832.

See Sunlight 1,700 Feet in Sea

Sunlight is visible at a depth of 1,700 feet, about one-third of a mile, in the ocean. An investigator reported the presence of sunlight at that depth as he descended 2,220 feet in his bathysphere, apparatus for exploring the ocean floor, off the southern shore of Bermuda. Deep-sea fish carry their lights which are so efficient that other illumination is unnecessary in studying the strange species.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Can't See Neutrons

Scientists talk glibly of neutrons, yet they have never seen one. They say that these tiny atomic particles are about one-millionth the size of the smallest wave length of light, and that man will never see anything smaller than the smallest light wave, even under the most powerful microscope.

Traffic Light for Doctors

Berlin doctors are allowed to carry an extra light on their automobiles showing a red cross on a green background to be used only in case of emergency to get through traffic.

Newton Company Will Broadcast Over WNAC

Will Start Series of Entertainments Sept. 9, at 10 P.M.

Beginning September 9th, the Newton Drama League, a newly formed organization of Newton people experienced in dramatic work, will start broadcasting over WNAC at nine o'clock on Saturday evenings. The presentation will be a series of dramatic book reviews.

Although many sketches are done over the air and there are occasional straight book reviews, we believe that this is the first time that an audience interested in modern books fresh from the press, will have an opportunity to hear them presented in the form of one-act plays, a presentation which should lend a vividness which is impossible to obtain in the ordinary book review. Gordon W. Daly of Waban, originator of the idea believes that whether one is interested in this half hour solely for information about the books, or as a complete dramatic sketch, the idea should appeal.

The Newton Drama League is composed of experienced players, who have done both stage and radio work. These players have been brought together by Estelle G. Marsh of Newtonville, who is well known throughout the Newtons for the many plays she has presented in the past four years.

The author of this series is Marjorie Chalmers Carleton of Newtonville. Mrs. Carleton has been writing since she graduated from Smith College where she was one of the editors of the college monthly. She has also published a number of short stories, and two novels one of which was bought by the First National Film Studios.

The cast is composed of Mrs. S. L. Sholley, well known leading lady. Besides playing in many local plays, she toured one season with a stock company in Minnesota and recently broadcast over WEEI in a skit entitled "The Forgotten Melody." John W. Stanley has played many leads, toured with the Barnstormers in New Hampshire and has broadcast over WNAC. Helen Brown, popular Auburndale character woman, has played many varied roles, also toured through Maine and Connecticut playing the leading roles in "Sun Up" and "The Show Off." Charles L. Pierce should be particularly commended for his splendid characterization of the role of Nils Krogstad in a recent presentation of Ibsen's "A Doll's House."

He has also appeared in many varied roles. Hubert W. Pierce, who for the past thirty five years has been playing character and comedy character parts with such companies as The Castle Square, St. James, Copley and other various companies has done coaching and broadcast over WEEI in "The Forgotten Melody."

The Station expects that this series will have a widespread popularity throughout New England.

Daly Post V. F. W.

Clam Bake at Stow

Sergt. Eugene Joseph Daley, Jr. Post, No. 2384, V. F. W., will conduct a clam bake next Sunday, Sept. 3, at the Stow Golf course.

Chairman Martin Stanton has arranged an elaborate program, consisting of a ball game between married and single men of Post; tug of war, horse shoe contest and various other sports.

Dinner will be served at 1 p. m., after which the sporting events will be held on a nearby field. An automobile parade will leave V. F. W. Hall, West Newton, at 10:30 a. m., on that day, proceeding via Waltham to Stow. This affair is open to the public and as this is the initial venture of this sort it is expected to be a banner event. Those desiring tickets may obtain them at Post headquarters, West Newton, or from Comrade David L. Keefe at the Newton Corner fire station.

At a meeting of the Post held Monday evening at V. F. W. Hall, Commander Keefe selected a committee to co-operate with the local Chamber of Commerce in the NRA drive. Comrade Howard Woodbury is chairman.

Those anticipating on going to this affair are requested to assemble at Post Headquarters at 10.30 a. m. on that day to proceed to Stow by automobile parade via Waltham.

Original Versions of Bible

The original manuscripts of the Bible are not preserved in their entirety. The three great original versions of the Bible still in existence are the Peshito, the Syriac and the Aquilea. These are respectively in the possession of the Vatican at Rome, the Museum of Great Britain, and in the possession of the Soviet government of Russia. Information from Russia is that the version is housed in the museum at Moscow.

Grinding Action of Blowing Sand

Blowing sands are an important factor in reducing rocks to dust. Evidence of this cutting action of sand is afforded by the transformation of window-glass, in a few years, into ground glass, and even by holes cut completely through it. One who has seen strong sand blasts used to clean dingy stone and brick buildings, can readily appreciate the cutting power of wind-driven sand.

Great Poems

It is characteristic of great poems that they will yield of their sense in due proportion to the hasty and deliberate reader. To the practical they will be common sense, and to the wise, wisdom; as either the traveler may wet his lips or an army may fill its water casks at a full stream.—Thoreau.

Rotary Club

This week's Monday Rotary Club meeting was addressed by Mr. George L. White, of the Newton Trust Company and member of Newton Kiwanis Club. He spoke on the canvas undertaken this week by the Newton Chamber of Commerce of all Newton consumers urging them to buy only at NRA stores. If the two service clubs of Kiwanis and Rotary, said Mr. White, would put their shoulders to the wheel for a few days, every household in the city could be reached, since the clubs would take those districts not already assigned to other groups and individuals. With the aid of a map of the city, the speaker made plain the feasibility of the plan, and at the close of the talk it took but a few minutes for eleven members to accept the responsibility for as many districts. Others volunteered to help those in charge of districts. Mr. White assured the Rotarians that the Kiwanians would rise to the occasion in similar fashion on Tuesday and help put the city wide campaign across.

Mrs. Endicott Rantoul, sister of the bride, was the only attendant.

Playground Opera Pleases Audience

Under the auspices of the Playground Department, a children's opera, "The Woodland Princess", was given on the Newton Centre Playground stage Wednesday evening, before an interested audience of parents and friends. There were brightly attired choruses of flower elves, goblins, sprites and fairies, all of whom sang and danced with spirit and grace. The soloists were unusually good and showed considerable histrionic ability.

Little Miss Marian Means had the title role of Princess Elsa, Winifred Smith made a handsome little Prince, Phyllis Asbell was a stunning "Lord High Betrothal Maker." As the "head goblin," Billy DeStefano did some clever acting and tiny Marian Cappadona sang two solos with surprising vocal ability for such a wee mite. Miss Elvis Semperucci came from Newton Upper Falls to take the part of the "Water Sprite," and she also pleased the audience with a solo dance. The exacting role of the fairy was assumed by Anita Florin of Newton Highlands, and a winsome little Buttercup was Gilda Ciccone, while her nurse was adequately portrayed by Charlotte Walker. Mrs. Florence Wood Russell was the pianist and had the assistance of Miss Norma Daniels and Mr. Charles Goddard, violinist, and Mr. James Grouch, trumpeter. A chorus of little folks as woodland elves and two groups of older girls as roses also came from the Upper Falls to add much to the charm of the entertainment, having been especially trained for the occasion by Miss Frances Warren.

The opera was given under supervision of Mrs. Margaret Hills, who, with Miss Warren, arranged and trained much of the dancing, while Mrs. Russell directed the acting and the singing. About seventy children took part in the production. Prizes were awarded for the best behavior and best work in the opera to the following: first prizes, Anita Florin and Billy DeStefano, second prizes, Julia Tracy and John Cappadona, honorable mention, Louise DeVos and Jean Goodwin.

WIND PLAYS TRICKS ON HORNETS

The high wind played some queer tricks in the Garden City this week. On Woodland road, a limb containing a hornet's nest was blown from a tree and the air was thick with the insects for a time. Finally, the situation was cleared up when Foreman George Rogers of the Forestry Department soaked the trunk of the tree with gasoline and ignited the fluid. The resulting flare scattered the hornets and rendered many of them hors de combat.

At City Hall, a half a dozen crab apples were blown from a tree through a window of the street department office and into the laps of employes.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

New England Conference

Newton clubwomen who enjoy the annual fall trip into the mountains in groups made up for motor parties, or by train in other groups of friends, with attendant interesting club reports of wide New England scope, are reminded that the date is only about two weeks away and their reservations and plans should be made at once.

The twenty-fourth New England Conference of the State Federations of Women's Clubs will be held in Manchester, Vermont, September 19 to 21, opening at 2 o'clock on September 19th and closing at noon on the 21st.

Manchester has been known for more than seventy years as a vacation resort and is one of the most attractive towns in New England. Equinox mountain is on the west, the Green mountain range on the east, and Mt. Aeolus on the north, forming the picturesque valley in which the historic village is located. Manchester is famous for its beautiful summer residences and estates, having many excellent hotels. It is known as the center of summer golf, with two very fine eighteen hole courses. The town is two hundred miles from New York, Boston and Montreal.

The Vermont Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Ralph Jenkins, of Johnson, president, is providing an interesting program. Mrs. Dorothy Canfield Fisher, whose home is in Arlington, Vermont, is in Europe at present, but it is expected she will return in time to address the convention. Mrs. Elizabeth Pigeon, of Boston, chairman of Education in the General Federation of Women's Clubs and a member of the Boston school committee, will be present and address the convention. She will introduce a member of her committee, Mrs. M. Caswell Heine, formerly president and director of the New Jersey Federation of Women's Clubs and recently elected to the Board of Regents of New Jersey. Mrs. Heine has made an exhaustive study in the fields of higher education. Mr. R. A. Maddux of the New England Council has chosen as his subject, "Vacations in New England." Besides reports of the various chairmen and interesting musical numbers a trip has been planned to Bennington where a visit will be made to the new Bennington College for Women.

The officers of the New England Conference are: Mrs. Edward H. Whitney, chairman of Cowesett, R. I.; Mrs. George H. Stoughton, vice-chairman of Hartford, Conn.; Mrs. George F. Morris, secretary-treasurer of Lancaster, N. H., and Mrs. Lewis J. Hathaway, chairman of publicity, of Middlebury, Vt.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Nichols of 234 Park st., Newton, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Katharine Nichols, to Henry Davenport Winslow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Winslow of Cambridge. Miss Nichols is a graduate of the Buckingham School, Marot Junior College and Skidmore College. Mr. Winslow prepared at the Rivers School and graduated from Harvard with the class of 1932. He is at present attending the Harvard Law School.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Katherine Louise Gruenwald, daughter of Mr. Eugene Gruenwald of Lafayette, Indiana, to Howard Porter Fitts, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Fitts of 79 Pembroke st., Newton. Miss Gruenwald graduated from Mount Holyoke College, class of 1931. Mr. Fitts is a graduate of Williams College. No date has been set for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Ogg, formerly of Newton Centre, and now of Cincinnati, Ohio, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jean Fordyce Ogg, to Lyman Hall Allen, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman H. Allen of Malden. Miss Ogg graduated this year from Miss Child's School of Fine Arts. Mr. Allen is a member of the class of 1934, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and B. U. fraternity.

Pribilof Islands

The Pribilof islands were part of the Alaska purchase from Russia in 1867. From 1870 to 1890 the United States government leased the islands to the Alaska Commercial company. In 1890-1910 the North American Commercial company held the sealing monopoly, and they were taken over by the United States bureau of fisheries in 1910, which has since conducted the sealing operations.

Just Like Others

The lower Yukon natives greatly humor their children. The youngsters are not compelled to perform tasks and are given everything they cry for, according to a traveler in that region, who recounts that the teacher at one of the villages asked a native father why his son did not attend school. "Oh, he say he no feel like it," the father replied.

Rats Die on Milk Diet

Young rats fed on exclusive milk diet soon develop anemia and die, the explanation given by nutritional experts being that milk does not contain a sufficient quantity of iron and copper, two substances which have been found essential for the production of hemoglobin, the red-coloring matter of the blood.

Bull Fight Divided Into Three Acts Like a Play

A bull fight can be said to be a play, divided into three acts. Pageantry is added to the dramatic spectacle by a parade of all the characters before the play begins. The first act is the one which generally disturbs the foreign tourist. This is the act of the picadors mounted on their miserable-looking horses, armed with a long lance.

The second act is when the banderilleros appear on the scene. By this time the dead or crippled horses have been removed from the arena, and very often the tourist is making for the exit, ashamed of having entered the bull ring at all. If he stays on he has decided that it is the most brutal and disgusting affair and a disgrace to civilization, and refuses to recognize the art and technique which exists in the second and third acts.

The matador appears for the third act. He is the principal character in the dramatic spectacle. With a muleta, a sort of red cape, he executes a series of "passes" which all have their special names to the crowd. The slightest slip, and the matador is flung in the air on the long horns, as if he were a toy. It all happens quickly. There is no referee's whistle to control the game, the bull continues to gore the matador until others of his team rush with brightly colored capes to attract the bull from its victim.

Dalmatians Have Served Under Variety of Flags

The Dalmatians, now partly Yugoslavian and partly Italian in their national allegiance, have had a varied career in history, first passing under the flag of one nation, then another.

At the time of the outbreak of the World war, the Dalmatians were part of the Austrian Empire, their coast along the Mediterranean being of vital importance to the Austrians. The area of the province is not very large, but by its picturesqueness with many mountains, rivers and small lakes has always had a romantic appeal to travelers.

The population, partly Italian, partly Albanian, partly Jewish and partly German, has been noted for the fine physique of the men. The chief occupations of the people have been for centuries cattle raising, seafaring and fishing.

At one time Dalmatia was quite a sizeable kingdom, but after it finally fell before the assault of the armies of Augustus, it had a varied career. After the fall of Rome, Dalmatia passed into the hands of the Goths, Slavonians, Venetians, French and Italians, finally winding up as a part of Austria up until the World war.

Refunding Bonds

The process of refunding means the exchange of a new debt obligation for an old one. When for example a government is unable to repay money borrowed from the bond holders on the date repayment is due, it may issue new bonds and exchange them for the old ones, or sell them to obtain cash to pay off the maturing obligations. This is frequently done by railroads and other private corporations which regard their bonds as representing a portion of the capital employed in their business. Lutz' Public Finance states that public debt which represents capital invested in reproductive commercial undertakings may properly enough be refunded from time to time in this way, while there is a disapproval of the general practice of refunding the mass of public debt which represents outlays for nonproductive purposes.

Animals Tamed in Stone Age

Domestication of animals, those who have delved deepest into the world's remote past assure us, began in the old Stone age, when the hunter's dog was sometimes buried with him. The dog is believed to have been the first animal to live with man, but just how it came about is not known. "It may have been," suggests a famous Scotch naturalist, "that attractive young wolves were taken home to please the children!"—Gas Logic.

Has Water Filling Stations

Egypt has its filling stations just like America, but the more common kind dispenses water instead of gasoline. In Cairo, curb vendors tend their water pumps which somewhat resemble the gasoline pumps used in this country and cater to customers who bring their own containers, the seller carefully measuring the desired amount and collecting for it just as does the gas station attendant here.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

The Last of the Yahgans

Scientists predict that within a few years there will be no more Yahgans. This tribe, which Darwin described as the lowest order of humanity, has been reduced from 2,500 to a handful during the 60 years of its contact with civilization. They inhabit the Tierra Del Fuego archipelago at the southern tip of South America, and are the most southerly inhabitants of the earth.

Holidays

The only holidays observed nationally are New Year's day, Washington's birthday, Independence day, Labor day, Thanksgiving and Christmas. There are no national legal holidays, all holidays being given a legal status by states, if at all. There are numerous legal or public holidays observed locally in various parts of the United States.

The Gregorian Calendar

The Gregorian calendar was adopted by England and her colonies in 1752. Dates about that time were reckoned in two ways—"Old Style" and "New Style." Thus Washington's birthday used to be given for two different dates. The Gregorian calendar was not adopted by Japan until 1873, by the Chinese in 1912, by Turkey in 1917, by the Russians in 1918, by Rumania in 1919 and by Greece and Greek church in 1923.

Seascouts Return From Ten Day Ocean Cruise

Fall Program Is Now Under Way

Seascouts of Ship 13, Seascout Division of the Council, have just returned from a ten-day cruise on the ship Tabor Boy, which was chartered by the Ship for that time. The full cost was met by the fee charged the Seascouts, so the cruise, like the Council's summer camp, was entirely self-supporting. The cruise was along the seacoast and full details will be given later when the log of the cruise is delivered to the Council Headquarters. The following went on the cruise: Skipper (and Commodore of the Council), William V. M. Fawcett; Mate of Ship 13, Donald M. Curtis; Chairman of Ship 13's Committee, Mr. C. J. A Wilson and these Seascouts and guests; Stanton Amesbury, W. R. Amesbury, Jr., Brenton Bullock, Calvin Cronan, John Enegess, Alexander Fitz Herbert, Thomas Fleming, Robert Gammons, Norman McIntosh, George F. Neilly, Jr., John S. Nicholl, Jr., Harold L. Pratt, Robert M Rocktaschel, Richard Schanzle Frank M. Wicks, Jr., and George W Young, Jr.

World's Fair Trips

The Council Headquarters has received constant telegraphic reports from the leaders of the two trips to the World's Fair; one headed by Assistant Scout Executive W. R. Speirs and the other by Scoutmaster W. Bradford Gove, II. They report the Scouts all fine and having an excellent time. One group camped at Utica, N. Y., the first night out and the other at East Springfield, Mass Thence, the routes lay to Niagara Falls and through Canada to Detroit, where they went to see the Highland Park plant of Ford Motor Co. They each spent several days in Chicago and then started for Washington, D. C At this writing they are en route home and will be here on Sunday, September 10th.

Fall Program Under Way

A complete calendar of the year's activities of the Council has been printed and is to be issued to the entire membership of the Council, so that Troop programs may be built around, if Scoutmasters desire. The first big feature is the "Scouters-Outers" at Camp Barker, Douglas, Massachusetts, on the week-end of September 23 and 24th. There the men will discuss the year's program; Scoutmasters will be placed in one group to consider Troop programs and problems and the members of Troop Committees in another, to talk over their plans for helping their respective Scoutmasters.

It is definitely understood and all plans are laid to that end that the Scoutmaster is the key-man in Scouting and that all other personnel is for the purpose of helping him and making his work more effective. Too much cannot be said for the loyal Scoutmasters, the men who lead Troops, for the time and thought and energy and effort they spend in working with the Scouts. The same may be said of Cubbers, who head up Cub Packs and Skippers of Seascout Ships. It is those leaders who make all phases of Scouting what it is and on them rests the success of the Scout program in Cubbing, Scouting, Seascouting and Rovering.

Hughes, Chief of the Newton Police Department, and our prominent guest of the day, Nicolas Veduccio, who has just been appointed Police Captain.

Testing of Mains Clouds Water

During the past week much of the city has been receiving water which has been decidedly filled with sediment, and of a quite brownish hue. The reason for this condition of the water is the testing of water mains at a number of places in the city in the course of the pitometer survey of the water system now being made. These tests have been made at points west of Chestnut st. and the northerly side of Washington st. They have caused isolation of the water supply in certain sections of the city by cutting off the supply from some of the larger mains restricting it to one feeder main. This increased the flow of water through the one main used, and sometimes caused a reversal of the flow. This caused the release of crenothrix and other sediment from the water mains.

The tests are being made in order to take calibrations of the water flow to assist the Water Department in ascertaining the capacity of the mains, and to give indication as to whether or not there is any unwarranted leakage from the mains where the tests are made. The survey has been in progress for the past few weeks and will continue until the water mains throughout the city will have been tested.

Girl Scouts Home From Camp

"Goodby!—See you again next year," was heard on every side as the girls piled their duffle bags and suit cases into waiting automobiles and started homeward on Thursday, August 24, when Camp Mary Day ended its eleventh season.

Camp opened on June 26 and during the eight weeks, when laughter and good times made the woods ring with happiness, 126 girl scouts had the much talked about vacation at that lovely spot which is so dear to all the girl scouts of Newton.

Forty seven girls could be accommodated at one time and they were divided into three units. The youngest girls lived in the Cedar Unit. Miss Betty Cudworth had charge of this unit of fifteen girls with Miss Eleanor Brown, Miss Ruth Wilkie and Miss Mary Carrick as her assistants.

Miss Sally Tarbell had charge of the Birches Unit, made up also of fifteen girls and her assistants were Miss Marcia Myers and Miss Ruth Hibbard.

The older girls were housed in the Pines and their Unit consisted o seventeen girls with Miss Lisbeth Leighton as head counsellor and Miss Elizabeth Barbe, Miss Virginia Haynes and Miss Gertrude Lancaster as helpers. The Pine Unit is made up of the village overnight cabins, a little ways from the Camp and this year with their new wash house and the Upper Falls cabin for the counsellors they were quite complete.

Each group of girls planned and built, with the help of their counsellors a very complete outdoor unit kitchen. Many happy hours were spent in this work and a lot learned about the best way to build a fire place that will "draw," how to keep fire wood dry, a cache for food proof against robbery of the many four footed friends at camp, a grease pit and other gadgets which makes outdoor cooking easy and great fun.

The "Pines" went a bit farther after their kitchen was completed. They cleared a very attractive spot—enclosed it with a very pretty birch rail, dragged in some large logs and had a most attractive woodsy dining room This unit did a good deal of outdoor cooking and many new recipes were tried and pronounced "Yummy".

After morning capers were done, the dread inspection over, court of honor (each unit held its own every day with the exception of Wednesday and Saturday mornings when the camp council met just before the assembly in which all the units joined) and crackers and milk been enjoyed by more than the underweights, the girls met in special interest groups and accomplished much in their scout advancement. Nature Lore was stressed especially, and the Wild Flower Finder groups were large and enthusiastic. Every day, one could see another group searching under rocks along the shore of the pond or wading up the brook in search of hidden life for the Fresh Water Life Finder Merit Badge. Birds and Trees came in for their share of observation also and at night (when the stars were generous enough to shine) the heavens were studded—and constellations pointed out amid stifled giggles and many "SH—Sh'es don't wake up the others."

Camp is a fine place to do Mapmaking and many girls were able to pass off that requirement for the First Class Badge. Also Signalling done in the open is so much more fun—First Aid with Miss Ferry the Camp Nurse proved very popular and of course the Pioneer Badge was always sought.

Mail was distributed at the close of this group work, and great excitement always prevailed as it was handed out. Dinner and rest hour and then swimming the most popular and looked forward to part of the day's fun. Many girls learned to swim while at camp this summer—Ten passed the Swimmers Merit Badge and sixty seven did their First Class Swim. Ten girls passed the Junior and three the Senior Red Cross Life Saving test Miss Betty Cudworth was in charge of Water Front Activities and Boating which was almost as popular as swimming was scheduled and arranged for by her.

Every evening, just after supper the camp "fleet" of two row boats and three beautiful new canoes could be seen on the lake and many girls learned to paddle and to row.

Games, Campfires, and singing made up the evening programs with special stunt nights—charades—costume parties and so forth. A Pirate breakfast—weenie roasts and picnic suppers kept the program varied and a very real and exciting circus held one afternoon to help raise money for girls scout donation to the Admiral Byrd Equipment Fund was a huge success.

A banquet the last night at camp was the last thrilling event of the summer. The first one ever attempted at Camp Mary Day but so successful that it will surely have to be an annual event from now on. A long table, very prettily decorated, a real feast as to food, a toast mistress, a prophecy, Camp Will, "Who's Who a Camp Mary Day" and "Can You Imagine?" all gotten up and planned by the Counsellors was a real surprise to the girls and greatly appreciated by them.

Miss Caroline Freeman directed the camp again this season and Mrs. Henry Skelton was the business manager Mrs. Franklin Pierce of Cambridge was the dietitian and she and Mrs. Caroline Leighton of Newtonville were largely responsible for the many pounds gained by all the campers.

Newton Centre had the largest number of girls at Camp Mary Day during the summer. Twenty-nine girls from four of the Troops. Newton Highland came next with 18 girls, Newton 14 Newtonville 13, Waban 11, Auburndale 10, West Newton 9, Newton Upper Falls 8, and Nonantum 2. The Camp Committee announced in th Spring that if there were any vacancies after June 1st that Girl Scout from other Communities would b taken at the Newton Camp Eigh girls from Belmont, 2 from Cambridge 1 from St. Johnsbury, Vt., and 1 from Chicago, a former scout of Newton Centre, were at camp during the summer.

Hughes Appoints Veduccio Captain

Lieutenant Nicholas Veduccio of the Newton Police Department, who received the highest rating in the recent examination held for the office of captain, was appointed to that position on Tuesday by Chief of Police Michael Hughes and the appointment was confirmed by Mayor Weeks. Captain Veduccio assumed the duties of his new office on Wednesday, succeeding the late Captain Joseph Seaver. His desk was decorated with floral tributes presented by his associates in the department, with whom he is quite popular.

Captain Veduccio was appointed a member of the police department on March 1, 1915. He was advanced to the rank of sergeant on August 7, 1925; was promoted to Lieutenant on Sept. 20, 1930, and now becomes the second ranking officer of the department.

Chief Hughes requested the Civil Service Commission to allow him to appoint as Lieutenant, to fill the vacancy caused by Captain Veduccio's promotion, one of the sergeants from those ranking highest in the recent examination for Captain. The three first on the eligible list (following Veduccio) are Sergeants Mahoney, Leehan and Meehan. This request was refused by the Civil Service Commission. As a result, another examination must be held in the near future to fill the vacancy in the rank of Lieutenant. All the sergeants in the department will be eligible to take this examination. Also, an examination will be held for the office of sergeant to fill the vacancy which will occur by the advancement of one of the sergeants to the rank of lieutenant.

WORCESTER TURNPIKE SPEEDERS FINED

Motorcycle Officer Alfred Hammell had twenty-seven speeders in the Newton court yesterday for using the new Worcester turnpike through Newton as a route where the "step on the gas" artists thought they could drive "hellbent." After Judge Bacon had imposed fines of $5, $10 and $15, the space killing autoists got wise that they cannot pull the Newburyport turnpike stuff in this city. Alfred Grunberg of Milk st., Boston drew the $15 fine when he tried to tell the judge that he had been driving at a speed of only 15 to 25 miles an hour. Hammell testified that Grunberg had been hitting 55 miles. Speeders who had been driving between 45 and 60 miles an hour were assessed $10 fines. Those who had been driving between 40 and 45 miles were fined $5 each.

In the Newton court yesterday John W. Whittemore of 43 Otis st., Newtonville was fined $5 for parking double on Walnut st.

Newton Hospital Has Many Friends

The citizens of Newton and Wellesley and even neighboring towns continue generously to remember Newton Hospital patients. Newspapers and magazine subscriptions are among the most acceptable gifts. Unfortunately at present the number of publications gratuitously furnished is considerably less than in the past. For some time the Newton Order of Elks has been sending a liberal supply of Sunday papers. For several years a local bank supplied several dozen daily papers, which were a joy to the patients. For reasons of economy this gift has been regretfully discontinued. It is hoped these subscriptions may soon be renewed, in part at least by other friends of the institution.

Plants and flowers are always most welcome. Remarks are frequently made about the pleasant and friendly atmosphere of the waiting room where sits the hostess. These remarks are most often heard when there are several bouquets in evidence.

Another rather unusual gift recently enjoyed was the volunteer service of an occupational therapist, Miss Cleone Place, who did much to help in the recovery of patients during a dreary convalescence by supplying interesting diversions for them. Many doctors remarked on the benefits their patients with a broken limb or impaired heart had derived by being kept busy during the recovery period.

The Hospital Aid Association, composed of public spirited Newton women, has, as usual, been most generous. In an extraordinary degree this association has for years ministered ceaselessly to bring comfort to the patients. Its latest gift is an electrocardiograph, an instrument for testing heart conditions. It is a valuable and costly instrument and greatly adds to the efficiency and service of the hospital. Another gift from this association is an x-ray tube by means of which pictures may be taken in a shorter time than with the old tube.

A new "Mrs. Chase" has also arrived. Every school of Nursing knows "Mrs. Chase." She is an adult sized doll used in the classroom for demonstration and practice of various procedures before new students are allowed to care for real patients. She gets her name from the manufacturer, The Chase Doll Company.

Several groups of women have come frequently to the hospital to make surgical dressings and to sew. Other groups of women have done this work outside the hospital. The Rotary Anne's, the Newtonville Women's Club and the women of Waban have done a great deal of this work. A continuation of these services will be particularly acceptable this year with prices going up and the number of free care patients increasing.

These are by no means all of the gifts received, but those mentioned give an idea of the generosity of its friends and the variety of needs of the hospital.

Upper Falls Man Killed at Waban

Michael J. O'Rourke, 29, of 949 Chestnut st., Newton Upper Falls, was fatally injured last Friday morning when the ice truck he was driving overturned while rounding the corner at Woodward and Beacon sts., Waban. O'Rourke was pinned under the overturned truck. Robert Davis and Eldred Rainey, employed in a nearby store, rushed to O'Rourke's aid, and with the assistance of others, lifted the truck off him. He was rushed to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance and died shortly after his arrival there. He had received a fractured skull, fractured jaw and other injuries. It is supposed that a shifting of the load of ice caused the truck to overturn.

Mr. O'Rourke, who was a lifelong resident of Newton Upper Falls, and formerly a member of the Newton Fire Department, is survived by his parents, John and Alice (Harper) O'Rourke; three brothers, Richard, John and Jerry O'Rourke; and three sisters, Mrs. Elinor Eames of Newtonville, Mrs. Katherine Buckley of Cambridge, and Miss Marie O'Rourke.

His funeral service was held Monday morning at Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church, Newton Upper Falls. Rev. Dennis Donovan was the celebrant of the solemn requiem mass; Rev. William Kerrivan, deacon; Rev. Daniel Dunn, sub-deacon. The pall bearers were six brother members from Crystal Lake Court, Foresters of America. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery, Needham.

Six Take Nomination Papers Out In Several Wards

Several residents of this city have taken out nomination papers for the office of Alderman during the past couple of weeks. Included in the number are James P. Akins of 48 Lewis st., Newton, candidate for Alderman-at-Large, Ward 1; W. Clarence Lodge, 375 Cabot st., Newtonville, candidate for Alderman-at-Large, Ward 2; William Kelleher, 23 Hale st., Upper Falls, candidate for Alderman-at-Large, Ward 5; Ellis Sutcliffe, 112 Charlesbank rd., Newton; candidate for Ward Alderman, Ward 7; James Manning, Pearl court, Newton, candidate for Alderman-at-Large, Ward 7.

Mr. Akins is a lawyer. He is a native of Newton, a graduate of Boston College and Boston University Law School. He has been active in politics in Newton for several years and has been a candidate for Alderman and Representative. Mr. Lodge is a well-known resident of Newtonville. Following his graduation from Newton High School he studied construction engineering and for many years was engaged in mine engineering and construction work. He was an Inspector in the Public Buildings Department for a few years. Because of his training and knowledge of the city, he has the advantage of possessing unusual qualifications for the office he seeks.

Re-Elected Pres. State Federation

At the 28th annual convention of the Federation of State, City and Town Employees, held in Springfield, September 2nd, 3rd, and 4th, A. Leslie Moriarty of Newton was reelected to the office of National President, which position he has held for the past five years. In recognition of his efforts in behalf of the Federation for the past year, he had no opposition.

The annual banquet was held Saturday evening in the Hotel Clinton and was attended by more than 150 delegates and guests.

The key-note of several addresses was one of optimism and hope of better times for public service employees as a result of improved conditions under the National Recovery Act.

One of the resolutions passed in convention was to the effect of making it mandatory on the part of all cities and towns to be placed under Civil Service.

The Federation of State, City and Town Employees was founded in Boston in April, 1905, by a number of Municipal Employees believing the interests could be best served by an organization that devoted itself to improving conditions existing in the State, Cities and Towns.

Other Newton men elected to office were—Alfred Guzzi, Vice President; Daniel Roche, member of Finance Committee. Mrs. Margaret Moore of Springfield was made Mistress of the Women's Division. Visitors from Newton to the convention included Richard Murphy, Peter Butler, William McGrath, Joseph Guzzi and John D. Russo.

Allow Ice To Needy Families

As a result of perishable food spoiling during the warm weather which prevailed since the food dole system was put into effect by the Welfare Department of Newton, the decision was made the past week to allow families obtaining this form of relief to be provided with a 25 cent piece of ice three times each week. Previously, no ice was allowed the large number of families to whom the food orders had been sent and to whom no cash is given. As a result of protests about the food decaying it was decided that some ice is necessary.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

MANY CANDIDATES REPORT FOR HIGH SCHOOL GRID TEAM

Over one hundred candidates for the Newton High School 1933 football team reported to Coach Ralph N. Sanborn yesterday morning when the initial practice session got under way. Faculty manager Dr. Oscar Martin began issuing equipment on Wednesday morning and at noontime yesterday reported that 110 would-be players had been equipped. Inside of another week this number will undoubtedly approach the two hundred mark with the opening of school set for next Monday and the resultant influx of many other candidates. The hundred youths already equipped are, with but a very few exceptions, seniors and juniors with the sophomores scheduled to get in line this morning. This latter group will probably number between forty and fifty and the most likely looking prospects will be kept under Coach Sanborn's eye while the remainder will be turned over to the assistant coaches for the time being.

With several of last year's leading linesmen and backs graduated from school or ineligible to compete this year there are many holes to be filled in the Newton team. The greater part of the squad has had but little football experience and Coach Sanborn and his assistants will spend considerable time on the fundamentals of the sport. While there are four linesmen and seven backs with more or less varsity experience a year ago ten of the eleven positions on the team are considered open. Captain Charlie Thompson at centre at the present time is the only player who seems certain of his berth. And in this regard it is within the realm of possibility that Thompson may be shifted to another position if a centre of equal ability is uncovered among the newer candidates.

Thompson leads the list of eight letter men on hand with Bernie Finberg and Teddy Johnson as two ends who start with an advantage over the other candidates and Walter Rich as a letter man at one of the guard positions. The four letter wearers in the backfield are Bob Whitney, "Red" McCarthy, "Babe" Feola and Louis Miller. This quartet will have a battle for starting positions right from the start with Charlie Flagg, John Kulesca and John Mascia. The latter three all saw considerable service last fall but just missed making their letters.

As for the past two years Coach Sanborn will have Charlie Considine as his immediate assistant and line coach with the Newton mentor taking charge of the backfield players. Assistant coach L. P. (Jeff) Jones will again handle the intermediate varsity while a change has been made in the coaching staff of the junior varsity. This latter group which is expected to be large in numbers due to the record numbers expected as members of the incoming sophomore class will have as its coaching staff Howard L. Ferguson and D. P. A. Willard. The former is a new member of the Newton high school faculty having been added to the staff in the social studies department on account of the expected increase in the sophomore class. He is a graduate of Colby College with the class of 1931 and while at the Maine college played a guard position on the varsity eleven. For the past two years he has been coach at Hanover (Mass.) high school and has done creditably with the material at hand. Among the coaches he is regarded as one of the best among the smaller schools on the state. His acquisition may augur well for the future as Newton varsity football coaches for many years have been under the handicap of having no football instruction in the junior high schools at all and limited knowledge, though willing services, of members of the high school faculty when it came to the secondary teams in the school. This handicap has meant that the varsity coaches have had to spend an extraordinary amount of time on fundamentals at the beginning of the season. With the opening game of the season but a few days over two weeks from the first practice session it does not give the coaches much time in which to get together a team ready to start with the opening whistle. While the team is in good physical condition it has not had sufficient drill on but a very few simple plays. It is hoped that the appointment of a teacher-coach of Mr. Ferguson's type will make its results felt within a few years.

Despite the handicaps of time and green material Coach Sanborn is not over-pessimistic about the prospects. The 1933 material will perhaps average up with that of previous years and although hard work is necessary local football fans are looking forward to the coming season, with its most attractive schedule of six games at home and four on foreign fields, with considerable interest and hopes. The Newton team this year will be defending its Suburban League title of 1932 and with hopes of repeating. Time alone will tell.

Legion Auxiliary

On Wednesday evening, September 13th, the Newton Unit No. 48, American Legion Auxiliary, will hold a meeting at the Memorial Building, Homer st., Newton Centre. The meeting will be called to order at 8 o'clock by the president, Mrs. Mary McCarthy.

The Executive Committee will meet on Wednesday evening, September 13th, in the Memorial Building, at seven-fifteen o'clock.

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS

A series of Turkey Whist and 45 parties under the auspices of the Sergt. Eugene Joseph Daley Jr. Post No. 2384 V. F. W. will be conducted on each Thursday evening at V. F. W. Hall, West Newton. Several persons attended the first of these parties which was held Wednesday evening, under the chairmanship of Comrade John J. Hickey.

The first Clam Bake under the auspices of the Post was well attended by several of the comrades and friends on last Sunday at the Stow Golf Club. This affair was preceded by an auto parade from Post Headquarters to the Golf Club after which dinner was served and various sports were enjoyed till a late hour.

Another important meeting of the Post will be conducted on next Monday evening, Sept. 11, at V. F. W. Hall uder its presiding officer, Commander David L. Keefe.

HOSPITAL AID BENEFIT SHOP REOPENS

The Hospital Aid Benefit Shop reopened Wednesday, Sept. 6, at 5 Washington ter., Newtonville, where the shop has been located for several years. About the middle of September the new location at 795 Washington st. will be open and many fresh goods will be ready.

This activity of the Hospital Aid has proved not only a help in supplying the hospital with equipment which few hospitals of its size own, but has been of inestimable help to self respecting citizens during the depression years by offering necessities at very low prices. The Benefit Shop asks Newton people to use this organization as a means of helping the class of people who do not wish to ask for charity but who need this help. Every Wednesday the truck will collect donations if the donor will notify Mrs. Perkins, W. N. 1774J. Men's and children's clothing and bedding are especially needed. And don't forget that old gold and silver jewelry are a special source of income. Visit the Shop and see just what it does. It is open Monday night from 7.30 to 9, Wednesday and Friday mornings from 10 to 12.

The Chevrolet sales department of the company is managed by Constantine Lupo and a full line of these popular automobiles is on display at the salesrooms of the company.

"I learned something new about automobiles first time I drove a car like yours, sir. Terraplaning is the nearest thing to flying I've ever found on the ground."
"That's why I bought one. The Terraplane cruising speed of between 60 and 70 is so smooth you hardly notice the road or the engine."

Fastest and Most Powerful in its Class

THE SIX $425 AND UP F. O. B. FACTORY

In talking with you about its cars, the Hudson Motor Car Company tries pretty hard to make only statements that can be easily proved by anybody.

So, when we say, "The Terraplane Eight is the fastest and most powerful car in its price-range," you can not only have confidence in the truth of the statement—you can easily prove it.

The Terraplane Eight's engine is rated at 94 horsepower in all official lists of motor car specifications — the two next highest ratings in its price-range are 82 and 77 horsepower.

THE EIGHT $565 AND UP F. O. B. FACTORY

The Terraplane Eight's top speed of 85 miles an hour has been proved under official supervision of the American Automobile Association.

The Terraplane Eight's ability to out-climb and out-accelerate any car on the road, regardless of price, is provable, not only by 32 official A.A.A. records, but by yourself, any time.

The New De Luxe TERRAPLANES with RADIO as Standard Equipment are now on Display

The greater roominess of the Terraplane Eight is measurable—a simple dressmaker's tape is all you need to prove it.

We are glad to have built such a car. We think you'll be glad and proud to own it.

SCHOOL DAYS ARE HERE AGAIN

Next Monday the schools in Newton open once again. Indications point to a considerable increase in the number of students to be enrolled. One of the most interesting aspects found in the field of education is the attitude of the student toward the resumption of studies after a vacation period. Many are glad to get back to school. Others regard the coming months as confining and laborious. We would remind the returning students that their school days will ever be a source of pleasant memories. It is an opportunity to build a foundation for the future and a privilege to obtain an education to fit themselves for worth-while living.

A DESERVING PROMOTION

It is now Captain Nicholas Veduccio, the new captain of the Newton police having been appointed to fill the vacancy left by the sudden death of the former Captain, the popular Joe Seaver, several months ago. Captain Veduccio has served in the Newton police department for nearly twenty years with the faithfulness and honesty of purpose that Newton citizens expect of their guardians of the law. The promotion of Sergeant Veduccio to the rank of Captain is a deserving promotion and it is a pleasure to offer our sincere congratulations.

Newton Rotary Club Entertains At Brae Burn

Visitors Include Cambridge and Needham Clubs

"Boston is the natural highway between America and Europe, and the best passageway westward," said Rev. Lyman Rutledge, past president of the Dedham Rotary Club, to an inter-city gathering of the Cambridge, Needham, and Newton Rotary Clubs on Tuesday at the Brae Burn Club House. There were about seventy-five visiting Rotarians in attendance.

Dr. Rutledge gave an illustrated lecture on the natural advantages and the potentialities of the metropolitan areas, and contrasted very interestingly the absence of many disadvantages in and about Boston with such other large cities as San Francisco, Chicago, Philadelphia, and New York. He explained that many of the large cities have been built in the air which added to the congestion, and reduced life to a state of frenzy. To overcome natural handicaps, vast sums of money have been expended annually in other cities like New York, Philadelphia, and San Francisco for bridges. He depicted Boston Harbor as potentially one of the greatest harbors in our country, its greatest need being dredging. He was extremely optimistic for the future of Boston when he stated that favorable action had been taken on the improvement of the harbor through federal finances. He paid a tribute to the extensive parks and parkways in and about Boston. He said, "No city has been better provided with parks and parkways than Boston." Accessible to Boston are many reservations and primeval forests from Plum Island on the north to Marshfield on the south.

In concluding he paid a high tribute to Newton for the splendid system of zoning now in operation and as a Dedhamite stated that Newton had a very far sighted policy.

Mrs. Coolidge Commends White

Thomas W. White of Newton Upper Falls relinquished the office of Collector of Internal Revenue at Boston Sept. 1st. A couple of days before retiring he received a letter from Mrs. Grace Coolidge of Northampton, widow of ex-President Calvin Coolidge. Mrs. Coolidge wrote—

"If Mr. Coolidge were here I feel sure that he would be sending you a letter, as the time of your retirement from the public service as collector of internal revenue draws near, commending you for your faithful discharge of the duties of that office.

"I can in no way speak for him, but I cannot refrain from adding my own word of friendly interest at this time, and expressing the hope that long years of continued service are before you in whatever duties you undertake.

"Please accept my hearty good wishes."

AWARDED M. I. T. SCHOLARSHIP

John W. Lane, of 28 Warwick rd., West Newton, has been awarded a graduate scholarship of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, according to an announcement today by the committee on the graduate school.

The award, which is made on the basis of high scholastic standing, will enable Mr. Lane to continue his graduate studies next year at the Institute, where he will be a member of the staff of the department of mechanical engineering.

Mr. Lane was graduated from the Institute in the class of 1931, and since that time has carried on graduate work.

Injured in Fatal Auto Crash

Ruth Howlett and Edith Howlett of Newtonville avenue, Newton, were slightly injured and their sister-in-law, Mrs. Margaret Merritt Howlett of Holyoke, was killed in an automobile accident at Cambridge on Saturday morning. Mrs. Howlett's 18-months-old baby escaped injuries in the crash. The accident occurred on Fayerweather st., Cambridge, near Concord ave., when the Howlett automobile collided with a car driven by Alfred Barnard of Hurd ave., Belmont. Mrs. Howlett received injuries which caused her death before she arrived at the Cambridge Hospital.

Mrs. Howlett, who was the wife of Duncan Howlett, was 26 years old. Besides her husband and child she is survived by her parents and a brother. Her funeral service was held Monday at Mount Auburn Crematory Chapel. Interment was in Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett.

Bus and Auto Collide on Avenue

A Middlesex & Boston bus, operated by Edward Adams of Auburndale, and an automobile driven by Arthur Bright of Maple ter., Melrose, collided about 5:15 Tuesday afternoon at the intersection of Commonwealth ave. and Walnut st., Newtonville. Bright was driving north along Walnut st. and reported that the green light was showing when he started to cross the intersection. Several persons riding in Bright's car were reported as having received injuries. Included among them was Della Fisher of 19 Park pl., Newtonville.

Auto Hits Bicyclists

The dangerous practice of two children riding on a single bicycle resulted in injuries to Margaret Murphy, 12, of Edenfield avenue, Watertown, and Dominic Morrone, 12, of 375 Main st., Watertown, last Saturday night at Chapel and California streets, Nonantum. The bicycle was operated by young Morrone and the Murphy girl was riding on it. The car which struck them in the dark was operated by Vincent diBenedetto of Bigelow st., Brighton. Both girl and boy received slight injuries.

Fall Fatal To Nonantum Man

Francisco Delliccichi, 40, of 220 California st., Nonantum, died on Sunday at the Newton Hospital of a fractured skull received when he fell down a flight of stairs. He was born in Italy, 40 years ago, and had lived in Newton for 13 years. He is survived by a widow and one child, who reside in Italy, and by one brother who resides in Nonantum. His funeral service was held Wednesday morning at Our Lady's Church, Newton. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

WILL EXTEND WILTSHIRE ROAD

Wiltshire rd., Newton, which heretofore has been a dead-end street, running from Adams st. to Laundry Brook, is to be extended through to Jackson rd. as a result of the brook having been recently enclosed in a concrete conduit. Residents of Wiltshire rd. and Jackson rd. petitioned for this extension and a public hearing will be held on this matter at the meeting of the Aldermen next Monday night.

Because of the fact that there is a dangerous blind corner at the Adams st. end of Wiltshire rd., opposite the parochial school of the Church of Our Lady, it has been suggested that Wiltshire rd. be made a one-way street in order to prevent probable accidents at this traffic hazard.

First Harmonicas

It is not positively known where harmonicas were first made, but it is believed that they were first made by Frederick Hotz in Knittlingen, Saxony. Matthias Hohner established the business which bears his name about 1857.

About Town

By Edward H. Powers

In the Newton Graphic of August 25th was an article stating that former Alderman Timothy C. Hickey of West Newton had been appointed Deputy in charge of money value stamps in the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue at Boston; the appointment having been made by Thomas W. White, the then Collector of Internal Revenue. This statement was erroneous. Mr. Hickey had been serving as Stamp Deputy and he was promoted by Mr. White to the office of Cashier, one of the most important positions in the Internal Revenue office at Boston.

The promotion of Lieutenant Nicholas Veduccio to the rank of Captain in the Newton Police Department was well merited. Captain Veduccio was up to the front in the recent examination held for advancement to this office. Since becoming a member of the department in 1915 he has filled the duties incumbent upon him capably and faithfully. In prior examinations which he took for sergeant and lieutenant he obtained high marks and was promoted on proven merit. He has won the esteem of his associates in the department and of the public for square dealing.

"Bob" Washburn, the dynamic political writer for the BOSTON TRANSCRIPT had very eulogistic comments to make about "Tom" White in the Tuesday issue of the TRANSCRIPT. He gave a biographical sketch of Mr. White which told of the Upper Falls man's struggles against adverse conditions in his boyhood days and of the prominence he attained in public life. Among other tributes paid Mr. White by "Bob" Washburn were these—

"I have watched him closely since he came into the Massachusetts House in 1910, when I was a member, and where I was a close committee associate of his. The delegation from the city of Newton, of which he was a part, was the strongest in the House, from any constituency, in my day, and there was no stronger member of it than he, in my opinion. It was apparent, from his repeated re-elections, that he had the approval of his constituents, for he was taking the effectual care of them in legislative matters that justified it. He knew his city, and what it wanted, and, more than this, he had the ability to go out and get it."

"I was impressed by two of his qualities, which too rarely run together, the faithfulness of his legislative service, in the measures involved, and his ability as a politician, a term which is unreasonably discounted. I found him, further, to be an adept in his human contacts, because of which a politician is effectual and without which faithful legislative service is quite ineffectual. He seems to get along, always, with all sorts of people. I have seen no one in the Republican party, hereabouts, who has been more sought than he for counsel, by men in high public office, not only in their campaigns but also in the performance of their official duties. He is one of those men who get things done. He knows what to do, how to do it, and whom to ask to co-operate. And to be asked by him to co-operate is to respond. When his hose is thrown into a well, it never sucks cobblestones."

In conclusion Mr. Washburn told of the confidence reposed in Mr. White by Calvin Coolidge, staying that "Mr. Coolidge turned to him, perhaps as much as anyone else throughout the whole of his career from 1912 when he first appeared in the State Senate. This he did not only in matters of official administration but also in those political and personal.—Mr. Coolidge trusted Mr. White at crises, and few men more so. The confidence of Calvin Coolidge is evidence, quite conclusive, of the substance and appeal of Thomas W. White."

ELIOT CHURCH MID-WEEK SERVICES WELL ATTENDED

The mid-week services held Thursday evenings at Eliot Church during the summer under the direction of the Committee have been well attended and most interesting. Ten speakers were secured, each, bringing new ideas on present-day needs, thanks to Miss Isabel Conway, who had charge of the music and got several new voices from outside which added much to the meetings.

At the last night after Miss Luliona Barker's address, the committee in charge was given a surprise in the form of a social and refreshments, in appreciation of their faithfulness. Mrs. F. H. Gorrill as chairman, assisted by Mrs. Anna Conway and Mrs. Judd W. Cone, served the refreshments. Beautiful flowers were furnished by Mr. Gorrill and as each one left the vestry, he gave them a large bunch of gladioli. All were glad they came, and stay-at-homes had a helpful summer and are awaiting the return of their pastor, Dr. Ray A. Eusden, to carry on.

Presidents as Travelers

The late President Warren G. Harding traveled widely throughout United States. His one trip beyond its continental borders—to Alaska—ended in his tragic death. Calvin Coolidge visited Havana while in office, and Herbert Hoover, as President-Elect, swung around almost the entire Latin-American circuit.

Yosemite's Popular Highway

Wawona road in Yosemite National park is approximately 28 miles in length and extends from near the foot of Bridalveil falls to the Mariposa Grove of Big Trees. Built jointly by the national park service and the bureau of public roads, this road is one of the country's outstanding pieces of highway construction.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

Speaking for those who remained at home, there has never been a summer that provided more exercise—wiping away perspiration.

The Diligence of Diet

When I hear a solemn truth it sinks in. Naturally impressionable it is not uncommon for me to gather various important facts during the course of a day, Sundays not excepted. The source of information plays an important part in my gleanings. If somebody shoots a dart of knowledge my way I promptly make appraisal of the shooter. The higher he may stand in the community the deeper my appreciation. Therefore, I now unhesitatingly repeat something I picked up in an eating place.

Food is a topic in which you will find all men interested. There are, I have observed, hearty eaters among women. On one of those occasions where I was forced to grab a bite there were numerous men and women devouring their lunches. I could not help but notice the number who were drinking milk. Not but what it was an appropriate place for such a beverage, although there was plenty of the other stuff available.

My companion was a man of science. They have to eat, too, you know. So I called to his attention the quantities of milk served. "Ah," said he, "did you not know that there is more nutrition in a glass of milk than in an egg?" I looked at him in astonishment. "True," he went on, "the greatest nutrition expert in this part of the country is authority for that." Thereupon he proceeded with details, quoting the man whose teachings are not to be disputed.

And I've been wasting my waiting for eggs to be boiled when I could have gulped a beaker of milk and had it all over, with myself so much more to the good!

Fading Fame

Feats of world famous fliers still hit the front pages but not with as large headlines as of old. With the exception of New York which is still firm for ticker-tape showers, the presence of a great airman is getting a trifle commonplace. Are we losing interest in aviation or is it that these truly daring exploits are becoming everyday occurrences? The recent visit of Wiley Post to Boston was under the auspices of an enterprising business concern which had its eye, and rightly too, on the advertising value of whatever publicity might accrue.

Somehow, the appearance of Mr. Post, although accompanied by the usual formalities, didn't make a deep impression. In anticipation of surging crowds the Boston police provided long lanes constructed of ropes attached to spikes driven into the ground. But there was no surging mob and the ropes were unnecessary.

True to the traditions established when Lindbergh first came to Boston after his epochal flight the customary procedure was followed. A troop of motorcycle cops led the way but had little or no clearing to do as the way was unobstructed. The newsreel camera men did their stuff and all went off as scheduled. Mr. Post is used to cheering throngs and I feel he must have noted their absence. He smiled in gracious acknowledgment of the laudations of State and city officials and responded appreciatively. Everybody did their part well—except the populace. They didn't show up. If we have any more of these receptions we certainly ought to provide a gallery or employ professional extras from Hollywood. It can't be very satisfactory to a noted personage to be invited to show himself and be subjected to frost-bites.

Massachusetts Afloat

You know how some item or other in the daily press will catch your eye and hold your interest long enough for you to wish for further details. That's the way I felt about the sending of a Gloucester fishing schooner to the Chicago fair last month. Apart from one or two meagre dispatches I never learned just what happened. Among those who made the trip were a score or more members of the General Court. The other day I met one of them. I didn't need to ask questions. Immediately he began an enthusiastic description of the sail along the Atlantic coast to the St. Lawrence River and then on through the Great Lakes until they reached Chicago.

"It took 19 days and was a wonderful trip," said he. "We had plenty of adventures for the seas were at times very rough and once we ran aground. But Capt. Ben Pine is a wonder and our voyage was in every respect a safe one. We put in at several ports and there were crowds on hand to welcome us.

"Talk about a goodwill tour—you never saw the beat of it. Everywhere there were throngs on hand who wanted to come aboard. And they were welcomed. We didn't follow the custom of the Canadian schooner, Bluehouse, and charge 25 cents admission. No, sir, we opened up the whole vessel—free. There was an interesting historical exhibit on board and maybe they weren't glad to view it! In the smaller ports we gave the youngsters a feed and sent them away with candy and cookies. They were delighted.

"You don't know, unless you've been there, the thrill of going through the locks on the way to the Great Lakes. It was exciting, every minute of it. When we got to Detroit it seemed as if everybody in the city was down to give us the glad hand. The biggest crowd was in Chicago. I don't know how many thousands visited us the first day. And they tell me it is a big feature out there. From what I saw I am sure it is one of the hits of the exposition.

"The trip and the schooner were intended to advertise Massachusetts and I will take my oath that the plan has surpassed the expectations of the most sanguine. You have no idea of the far reaching success of the enterprise and I wish all the people in the State could have seen the fine reception the schooner received."

When he paused, I injected a bit of cynicism, remarking, "Some of you must have been seasick, especially crossing the Bay of Fundy."

"That's right," he answered. "There were some seasick ones, but they got over it. You know how it is."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Substance" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 10.

The Golden Text is: "Thy name, O Lord, endureth for ever; and thy memorial, O Lord, throughout all generations" (Psalms 135: 13).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal: but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal; for where your treasure is, there will your heart be also" (Matthew 6:19-21).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christianity causes men to turn naturally from matter to Spirit, as the flower turns from darkness to light. Man then appropriates those things which 'eye hath not seen nor ear heard.' Paul and John had a clear apprehension that, as mortal man achieves no worldly honors except by sacrifice, so he must gain heavenly riches by forsaking all worldliness. Then he will have nothing in common with the worldling's affections, motives, and aims" (p. 459).

Heath, General Secretary of the Massachusetts Baptist Convention; Mr. James A. Patch, Chairman of the Mass. Council of Baptist Men, and Dr. Everett C. Are You Seeking a Position?

SIX "WHITE COLLAR" MEN AND WOMEN WANTED

Beginning September 5, 1933, at Babson Park, Wellesley, a two months' training course will be given to enable young people to analyze themselves and prepare themselves to secure and hold good positions.

A limited number from each of the nearby suburbs will be accepted,—that is, from the applications that are received from Newton people, twelve will be invited to attend the School.

The School will be the only one of its kind in the United States, being unique in three particulars: (1) its dynamic and practical course of lectures, (2) its command of radio station WBSO for helping graduates to secure positions, and (3) its GUARANTEE, whereby everyone who does not secure a position after graduation gets his tuition of $65 paid back in full,—no questions asked.

This, of course, is an extraordinary offer, and explains why the number must be limited. A booklet with full particulars will be sent upon request.

Marionette Shows

Marionette shows were known to the Greeks and Romans. Figures with movable limbs have been found in the tombs of ancient Egypt and Eturia, though many of these were probably children's dolls and afford little evidence of a puppet drama, the earliest development of which was in India.

Gunpowder in 12th Century War

Japanese records shows that gunpowder was used in the Twelfth century in a war between Mongols and Japanese. Gunpowder was used for the first time in western Europe at the battle of Crecy.

Moon as Weather Prophet Fails to Prove Correct

The moon gets blamed for a lot of things with which it has nothing to do, declares a scientist in Pathfinder Magazine. The weather bureau has failed to find proof that the moon exerts any control over the weather whatever, although its appearance in three instances does indicate the weather according to ancient proverbs.

There is nothing in the belief that moonlight causes heavy frosts. Frosts usually do occur on clear, cloudless nights, however, and it is on such nights that the moon can be seen most clearly.

A halo around the moon (or sun) does not indicate a storm, for the halo is caused by the refraction of light on tiny ice crystals in the upper atmosphere, the crystals being formed by cold air coming in contact with moist warm air—a condition that causes storms.

Sharp horns on the moon do indicate windy weather, but this is only because the winds have cleared away the dust and haze so that the illuminated portion of the moon can be seen more distinctly. There is no reason for planting and harvesting according to the moon's changes.

Many Historic Markers Abound in Buckeye State

Ohio probably has more historic markers than any other of the middle western states. During the formative period of the nation this state was the scene of events that affected the whole trend of the country's history.

A few among the many events which have been marked in Ohio were: Indian massacre, ten miles south of Ashland; Dunmore war, monument at Hockingport; battle in War of 1812, ten miles northwest of Wapakoneta; erection of Fort Hamilton, in Hamilton; Battle of Piqua; second "woman's right" convention in the world, at Salem; birth of Thomas A. Edison, at Milan; birth of Gen. George A. Custer, New Rumley; establishment of branch of Mormon church, at Kirtland; college for the first time in United States admits negroes, at Oberlin; Anthony Wayne defeats Indians in 1794, between Maumee and Waterville; Perry's victory, on South Bass island; first church and school house in Ohio, at south edge of New Philadelphia; first permanent settlement in Ohio, at Marietta; world's largest airship constructed, at Akron.

Lobsters Do Not Travel

Among the creatures that have been studied with a view to discovering the extent of their migratory tendencies are lobsters, which it has been found rarely wander far from their home areas. While making a study of the lobster fisheries in the North sea for the Danish government a number of young lobsters were livetrapped and then returned to the sea after their shells had been notched in a manner to make them recognizable again. Nearby neighborhoods were then watched for the reappearance of the marked lobsters. None were recovered at a distance of more than 15 miles from their point of release, only a few traveled as far as five miles from home and the majority stayed within a mile or two of their native habitat.

Bandicoot, Largest Rat

The bandicoot rat, a native of India and Ceylon, is the largest known species of rat. Its body, black above and gray beneath, is frequently more than a foot in length and its tail, which is very thick at the base, is equally long. This rodent finds both favor and disfavor among the natives. It feeds chiefly on grain and roots and is very destructive to gardens and poultry, burrowing under walls to reach what it wants. On the other hand its flesh is a favorite article of food with the coolies in arid, hilly districts. Its flavor is said to resemble that of young pork.

No Insurance on Capitol

All government-owned buildings, including the United States Capitol and post offices throughout the country are under the jurisdiction of the Treasury department. This department does not place policies of insurance on the Capitol or any other federal building for the reason that congress does not appropriate any money to pay for insurance. Many of these buildings are fireproof, or nearly so, and generally an open space of perhaps 40 feet wide is maintained around each building for protection from fires which might occur in adjoining structures.

"Thunderer of Waters"

"The Thunderer of Waters" was the old Indian name for Niagara falls; the superstitious natives of the United States and Canada believed that the Great Spirit lived within its bounds. Guides at the falls relate that each year the Indians made a sacrifice to the spirit of the spectacle by sending the fairest maiden of the tribe over the falls in a canoe laden with fruit and spoils of the chase. They believed by so doing they could appease the wrath of the "Thunderer of the Waters."

Cost of World War

According to the Treasury department report published in May, 1919, the total cost of the World war between April, 1917, and April, 1919, was $21,850,000,000. During the last ten months of the war, the average daily United States expenditure was $44,700,000.

Andrew Johnson's Rise From Extreme Poverty

Andrew Johnson was the son of a poor sexton. He was born December 29, 1808, at Raleigh, N. C. Fatherless at three; never attended school a day in his life. At ten was bound out to a tailor to help support his mother.

At eighteen he was established in his own tailor shop at Greenville, Tenn. As he worked, his wife read to him and at the end of the day taught him to read and write.

Most apt in oratory, his favorite hobby was debating on the political issues of the day, and before of age, his ability was recognized. At twenty he was elected city alderman and two years later, mayor. At twenty-five, was a member of Tennessee legislature and at thirty-three, a state senator—served four years—elected to congress—served ten years. Governor of Tennessee, 1853-57 and United States senator the four years following. Was appointed military governor of Tennessee in 1862 by President Lincoln and on the ticket with him—1864—elected Vice President.

At Lincoln's death he became the seventeenth President of the United States, April 15, 1865—served one term. At expiration of his term he retired to his home at Greenville, Tenn.; remained active in politics—elected United States senator in 1875, but lived to serve only four months. He died near Carters Station, Tenn., July 31, 1875, aged sixty-six.

When Silver First Came Into Monetary Limelight

Free coinage of silver means that the currency system of the nation permitting the free coinage of silver accepts silver bullion for coinage into standard silver monetary units in unlimited quantities in some prescribed ration to gold.

When the American currency system was established it provided for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 15 to 1—15 ounces of silver being presumed to have the same value as one ounce of gold. In 1834 the ratio of silver to gold was pushed up to 16 to 1, where it remained until silver was demonetized in the United States in 1873. This is the ratio William Jennings Bryan set forth in his platform when he ran for President on the Democratic ticket in 1896.

The free coinage of silver was authorized early in this nation's history because of the scarcity in precious metals and the need of employing gold and silver as a basis for the monetary system. Silver was dropped from the American monetary system and from the monetary systems of the leading European nations because of the wide fluctuation in its value and the impossibility accordingly of maintaining an equivalent value between silver and gold.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin"

The story of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was begun by Harriet Beecher Stowe in 1850, ten years before the outbreak of the Civil war, and the first chapters were written at her home in Brunswick, Maine, under many domestic difficulties. Money was scarce and Mrs. Stowe's time was divided between the care of an infant child and her literary labors. There is a tradition that the work was begun on scraps of brown wrapping paper. It was first printed as a serial in the National Era Magazine, Washington, D. C., and in 1852 it appeared in book form and in the same year it was dramatized and started on its world-wandering pilgrimage of propaganda.

Where Farm Plants Came From

Vavilov, the Russian geneticist, found that there were five world centers from which our principal agricultural plants came. Afghanistan gave us bread wheat, beans, peas, lentils, carrots and pomegranates. From southeast Asia came naked oats, naked barley, millet, soybeans, fruit trees and probably rice. The Mediterranean and Abyssinian regions produced the ancestors of our oats, peas, large seeded flax, many vegetables, durum wheat and hulled barley. The fifth center is the New world with Mexico Peru, Chile as the original homes of potatoes, Jerusalem artichokes, maize (what we call corn), tobacco and the occidental cottons.

Cactus Juice

In harvesting, the roots are the most valuable part of the cactus plant. These are dried in the desert, then packed and shipped to the factory, where they are boiled under 400 pounds' pressure, at a temperature from 212 to 215 degrees Fahrenheit. This process extracts the active principle of the plant. It is a pale, yellowish liquid which foams when shaken. It contains a weak organic acid, but the acidity index is so low that it is noncorrosive in contact with metals easily affected by acid. In common use, the lime and magnesium salts of water neutralize the acid of the juice.

Sleep With Eyes Open

You can't catch a fish with its eyes shut, but you can catch it asleep, is the claim of a Fisheries Institute official. Ordinary fish have no eyelids, but they do sleep, he says. The ordinary fresh-water fish sleeps in a brown study; its eyes wide open, but not seeing. Such species as the sunfish, bass and perch sleep resting on the bottom of the lake or stream, while others lie on the weeds and water vegetation. The little silver-sides and the gar sleep up against the water surface.

Explorer Tells of Three Hours Spent in Volcano

To be lowered into the active crater of Stromboli, clad in an asbestos suit and wearing a helmet strong enough to resist falling stones, with a breathing apparatus to save him from asphyxiation, was the exciting experience of an explorer.

The rope with which he was lowered into the depths of the crater had to be asbestos-covered lest it should shrivel up like tow and let him fall into the inferno below. Yet he remained down for nearly three hours, actually leaving his rope and making observations on the crater's floor.

On returning from his hazardous expedition, he said: "It was like being in hell to watch the fury of the volcano. The boiling lava was reminiscent of the sea in a storm. Every now and then great waves rose and, exploding, hurled over the rim of the crater masses of burning lava, hundreds of big stones, and clouds of ash. On the floor were pits, ten to thirty feet deep, lava seething in them like boiling porridge. As the bubbles burst there was a crash, and stones and other incandescent material was flung aloft. The walls around me assumed black, red and yellow tints, while from great cracks poured sulphur vapor."—Tit-Bits Magazine.

Mysteries of Human Ear Still Awaiting Solution

The mechanism of the human ear has been known during long ages, but the manner in which it conveys definite information to the brain is another matter. The world is still far from a final pronouncement, however learnedly one may speak of sound-waves striking upon the drum of the ear and establishing a vibration which is communicated to the brain by a row of white threads attached to a series of wonderfully articulated bones. That the threads, like the aerials which catch the flutterings of the ether bearing sounds across the oceans, and give them rebirth exactly as they were born thousands of miles away, to the last squeak of the clarinet or chirp of the piccolo; translate to human brains the meaning conveyed by the air vibrations which lap against the ear-drum or tympanum does not greatly help.

A writer says: "We call the threads nerves, but how the tympanum adapts itself by contraction and relaxation to the different pitch of sound without our will intervening we have no idea. We know only that it does."

When Hair Turns Gray

Many authorities believe that hair turns gray because the hair follicles where it is born no longer furnish the oxydizing agent that oxydizes the pigment. Others think that the color is still there, but is hidden by air bubbles which form to take place of the shrinking hair cells. These give the hair its gray appearance, and when enough of them have formed they make it white. Although opinion on what turns hair gray is divided and nobody has been able to satisfactorily explain how hair can suddenly turn white over night from terror or grief we know that the first gray hairs to appear in a scalp are bigger and stronger than the rest. We also know that in extreme old age the hair grows thinner and finally becomes fine and short like those on the scalp of a baby.

When Balloons Carried Mail

During the siege of Paris in 1870, 55 balloons carrying mail rose from the beleagured city, and 47 of them landed safely beyond the encircling German lines. It has been estimated that 100,000 letters were sent out of the capital in this way. The first balloon was the so-called Neptune. It left Paris, September 23, 1870, and carried 250 pounds of letters. The second was the Citta di Firenze, of Italian construction, with 300 pounds of mail, and the third was nicknamed the United States, "because it was composed of three small bags, tied together." The fifth balloon, unnamed, was brought down near the German lines, and both armies fought for its cargo, consisting of postcards, stamped at 10 centimes.

World's Largest Cross

Stolberg, a tiny city in the Hartz, with the Stolberg palace, is little known outside Germany, but it possesses two distinctions. One finds here the largest collection of funeral sermons in the world, comprising 20,000 volumes of eulogies delivered in the Seventeenth and Eighteenth centuries, and on the outskirts of the city stands the world's largest cross, on the "Josephshone," at an elevation of 1,886 feet, erected more than a hundred years ago in the form of an observation tower 124½ feet high.

Indian Mounds

The Indian mounds found through much of the Mississippi region are believed by many to be caches of Indian treasures. This belief, Smithsonian archeologists point out, is entirely without foundation. Many mounds were used for burial of the dead. Excavation often reveals cherished personal objects interred with the bones of prominent Indians. But such objects have no material value and are of interest only as they throw light on the pre-Columbian culture pattern.

The Irish Free State

The Irish Free State (Saorstat Eireann) was brought into existence on January 7, 1922, when the dail or parliament ratified a treaty with Great Britain. This government includes 27,349 square miles of territory, while the remainder of the island of Ireland, 5,237 square miles, is from its location known as Northern Ireland and has an entirely distinct and separate government.

NRA Committee Appointed Here

Will Attempt To Enroll Every Employer Under Eagle

Within the past week, George L. White, executive chairman of the Newton NRA Committee, has appointed a local committee whose function will be to enroll every employer in its community under the Blue Eagle. The Committee will also be prepared to settle and administer problems of interpretation and conciliation. Similar committees are being organized in every city and town throughout the state and nation. Ex-Representative Rupert C. Thompson of Newtonville is chairman of the local committee. Other members are Sydney Holden, of Newton Centre, a member of the Board of Aldermen; George P. Hatch of West Newton, well-known coal merchant; James A. Waters of Newton Centre, well-known local attorney; and J. Ernest Gibson of Newtonville, prominent Nonantum market man.

A meeting of this committee was held on Monday at the Brae Burn Club with Chairman White, James P. Gallagher, president of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, and L. J. Fleming, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Considerable discussion of plans of operation of the committee was held and much headway made. Frequent meetings of the committee are to be held and all instances of failure to observe the spirit and intent of the NRA. should be communicated to the committee at its headquarters which will be at the office of the Chamber of Commerce at 277 Washington st., Newton Corner.

Mr. Thompson and other members of the committee attended a meeting of the chairmen and members of the local NRA committees of lower Middlesex County on Tuesday evening. The meeting was called by Judge Edward A. Counihan, Jr., Chairman of the Mass. State Recovery Board for lower Middlesex, and was held at the Cambridge Industrial Association in Kendall square. The workings of the NRA program were explained in detail.

Made Pastor New Jerusalem Church

Mr. Briggs is a graduate of Melrose High School, and the New Church Theological School in Cambridge, Mass. He also spent two years at the Harvard Theological School, after which he went to Lakewood, Ohio, where he served as Minister until taking up his duties in Washington.

Mrs. Briggs, a Radcliffe graduate, is a granddaughter of the late Rev. John Worcester, first pastor of the Newtonville New Church Society, which he served from 1857 until 1900.

Rob Gas Station At West Newton

The gasoline filling station at 1974 Washington st., West Newton, was broken into during the early hours of Saturday morning. The break was apparently made by some one familiar with the place, as the thief knew where George FitzGerald, the proprietor, had his cash hidden, and stole $20. Entrance was effected by forcing a rear door.

Aldermen Listen To Protests on Highlands Garage

Boylston Residents Object to Repair Shop

The regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night was featured by the attendance of a number of World War veterans who came to voice protests against the method of relief now in operation in this city. They were given the opportunity to present their complaints. A detailed account of this hearing is printed in another column of this issue.

Also present were a number of residents of Jackson rd., Newton. They came to protest against the condition of the parkway in front of their homes, above the recently constructed conduit over Laundry Brook. After the brook had been enclosed in a large cement conduit, the conduit was graded over, grass seed planted and the job appeared quite attractive as the young grass commenced to grow. Then a heavy rainfall came and the fill caved in at places. Also, the walks which had been laid out from Jackson rd. to the houses west of the brook location became impassable. The men from Jackson rd. were assured by Alderman Murray, chairman of the Public Works Committee, that the condition resulting from the rainfall would occur wherever newly filled ground is located, but that the condition will be remedied and the walks placed in proper shape.

The first matters on the docket were hearings on petitions from the Edison Company for pole locations on various streets. No objections were presented to these petitions. Neither did anyone appear to protest against the following petitions: Academy of Sacred Heart, to keep 27,500 gallons of fuel oil in tanks near the heating plant at 785 Centre st.; Peter Volante, to store 500 gallons of gasoline (for private use) at 391 Dedham st., Newton Highlands; Cashman & Ginsberg, to store 1000 additional gallons of gasoline at 2285 Washington st., Lower Falls; Antonio Antonucci, for permit to store 2500 additional gallons of gasoline at 383 Boylston st., Newton Centre, and to install extra tanks—total storage to be 4000 gallons.

Julius Lucht, librarian of the Newton Free Library, opposed the petition of Posts Taste-T-Foods, Inc., for a permit to store 500 gallons of gasoline at 15 Spencer st., West Newton. Mr. Lucht explained that this locus abuts the West Newton branch of the library, that disagreeable results have occurred from the proximity of the large bakery there, and the storage of this large amount of gasoline close to the library is not desired.

Malcolm Green of 38 Woodward st., Newton Highlands, opposed the petition of Walter Jewell for a permit to erect a garage repair shop at 1009 Boylston st. Mr. Green said the neighborhood is essentially residential, there is no business between the Jenney filling station and Chestnut st., Upper Falls, and the Aldermen should consider the bad effect the repair shop would have on real estate values in the section. K. S. May of 200 Lincoln st. also opposed the petition. He said the garage will create an additional traffic hazard. Leo Hamburger, owner of nearby properties, opposed the petition on the contention that the garage would decrease the values of nearby real estate. Lawrence Ball of 130 Dickerman rd. favored the petition. He said he had sold the land to Jewell, it is in a business zone, and Jewell is within his rights in asking for the garage repair shop permit there.

On recommendation of the Licenses Committee a common victualler license was granted William Robblee at 1239 Washington st., and a permit for three pool tables to Henry Goldberg at 357 Watertown st. John Dewey was granted a waiver of the set-back line from 25 to 15 feet at his lot corner of Cabot st. and Academy rd., to enable an addition to be erected to his residence.

The following applications for common victualler licenses were refused: Mullen & Blackler, 869 Washington st.; Antonio Magni, 138a Adams st.; Abraham Ginsberg, 163 Hicks st.; Charles Robertson, transfer from 163 Hicks st. to 11 Prospect pl. Licenses to sell second-hand furniture were refused Vincent Ali at 249 Centre st. and David Plate at the same address.

Communications presented to the Board of Aldermen included one from Chief Randlett of the Fire Department asking for prohibiting of parking on Centre and Vernon sts. adjoining Vernon Court Hotel; Irving I. Green, for restricting or rerouting of heavy trucks which now use Centre st. between Newton and Newton Centre; H. J. Marks for amelioration of dead-end street at Walnut st. and Boylston st., caused by placing of curbing at Worcester turnpike; Patrick O'Loughlin, asking that nine acres of land on Boylston st. adjoining Hammond Pond Reservation be changed from residence to business zone.

More claims for alleged damages from blasting in connection with the new high level sewer were received from the following: Mary J. Moore FitzGerald, 273 Tremont st., Ward 7; Emilio Nardone, 103 Langdon st., Ward 1; Robert N. Theyson et al., 11 Cufflin st. and 3 Ricker ter., Brighton; Frank A. Reinhard, 257 Cabot st., Ward 2; Wallace W. Stuart, 17 Newtonville ave., Ward 1; Mrs. Katherine O'Brien, 11 Newtonville ave., Ward 1; Mrs. Katherine H. Dunne, 157 Washington st., Ward 7; P. J. Toye, 46 Bennington st. and 1 Mt. Ida ter., Ward 1; T. P. Gervais, 26 Playstead rd., Ward 7; Mrs. Jennie C. Donnell, 6 Salisbury rd., Ward 1; Charles K. Beatty, 12-14 Winchester rd., Ward 1.

Aldermen Refuse Permit For Big Fuel Oil Plant

Will Not Allow Business At Newton Highlands

The petition of the Metropolitan Ice Company to use the former ice making plant of the Purity Ice Company, near the intersection of Beacon and Walnut sts., Newton Highlands as a distribution station for fuel oil, was turned down on Monday night by the Board of Aldermen. The Purity Ice Company was absorbed a couple of years ago by the Metropolitan Ice Company, which also purchased some of the other ice companies in this vicinity. The artificial ice sold by this company has been manufactured largely the past year or more at a plant in West Watertown.

The first attempt to obtain a permit to change the use of the plant at Newton Highlands for oil business purposes was made about three years ago when a petition was presented to the Board of Aldermen to have this property changed from a residence to a business zone. This petition was never acted upon. Subsequently the ice company stored fuel oil at the plant, distributed it from there and even sold it there. Last year Alderman Temperley called attention to this violation of the zoning law, and the sale of oil was stopped there.

When the ice company recently presented another petition seeking to have its Newton Highlands property placed in a business zone, so that it might be used as an oil distribution centre, strong opposition developed. Protests were received from Newton Highlands civic organizations. The character and extent of the opposition caused the Aldermen to unanimously turn down the petition.

Ask Wiltshire Rd. Be One-Way Street If Extended

Traffic Committee to Consider Fr. Mantle's Request

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night a public hearing was held on the laying out and accepting of Wiltshire rd., Newton, from its present end over the recently constructed conduit to Jackson rd. Heretofore Wiltshire rd. has been a dead-end street. With the covering of Laundry Brook at the easterly end of Wiltshire rd., the conduit was so constructed at this point that the street can be extended over it.

At the Adams st. end of Wiltshire rd. is a cement wall alongside a residence which is built well above the level of Adams st. This wall causes a blind corner and creates a bad traffic condition. Across the street from this blind corner is Our Lady's parochial school. Wiltshire rd. as a dead-end street had little automobile traffic other than the few automobiles owned by residents on the street. As a connecting street between Adams st. and Jackson rd. it is expected that automobile traffic on it will be largely increased. Because of this, Rev. Robert Mantle, assistant pastor of Our Lady's Church, was present at the hearing on Monday night.

Father Mantle said that he represented Rev. Lawrence Slattery, pastor of Our Lady's Church. He said that he had an open mind so far as the matter of extending Wiltshire rd. is concerned. But, if this road is extended to Jackson rd., Fr. Mantle stated that it is the desire of Fr. Slattery that Wiltshire rd. be made a one-way street, with automobile traffic entering at Adams st. This recommendation is made because of the danger to the small children attending the parochial school, many of whom travel along Wiltshire rd., and who would be jeopardized by cars coming out of the blind corner at Wiltshire rd. and Adams st.

Leo Riley of 173 Jackson rd., Newton, opposed this proposal. Riley said his garage is on Wiltshire rd. and that he would have to drive two-fifths of a mile each time he would have to enter it by driving in from Adams st.

The Board voted to appropriate $552 for the extension of the road. The matter of making it a one-way street will be considered by the Traffic Committee.

Turnpike Contract Is Awarded

On Tuesday the State Department of Public Works awarded the contract for the construction of another section of the Worcester turnpike. This section will extend from the finished part of the turnpike near the Newton-Brookline boundary, and extend for 5755 feet ito Brookline. State engineers had estimated this job would cost well over $300,000. As evidence of the unhealthy competition prevailing in the contracting business is the fact that the low bids were about one-third less than this estimate. The contract was awarded to Coleman Brothers of Boston, the lowest bidders, at $208,363. The next two lowest bidders were M. McDonough Company of Saugus, $209.464.55, and Simpson Brothers Company, $224,826.82.

Hearing at State House on NRA Loan For City Projects

City Officials Speak in Favor—No Protests

A hearing was held at the State House, Boston, last Friday afternoon on the petition of the City of Newton for a loan of $63,000 from the NRA funds for certain municipal projects. These include a new school at Newtonville, on Nevada st., and Linwood ave.; an addition to the Bigelow School on Park st., Newton; an addition to the Day junior high school on Walnut st., Newtonville; and an incinerator at Newton Highlands.

The hearing was held before the Massachusetts Emergency Finance Board. Joseph W. Bartlett, City Solicitor of Newton, who is chairman of this Board, was not present. Mr. Doherty, one of the members of the Board, presided. Mayor Weeks spoke in favor of the loan and gave his reasons for the proposed erection of the school buildings and the incinerator. The school buildings were designated as being of primary importance. George H. Tracy, chairman of the School Committee, and John Lund, Superintendent of Schools, agreed with Mayor Weeks in pleading for the need of the schools.

In addition to Mayor Weeks' argument for the incinerator, Street Commissioner Stuart, City Engineer Morse and Chief Randlett of the Fire Department also contended that this project is needed and desirable. Harrison Eddy, an engineer, whose company would have the supervision of the erection of the incinerator, explained the plans of the structure. No persons appeared to oppose the proposed loans.

Slight Increase in School Enrollment

The total number of pupils enrolled in the Newton public schools on the opening day Monday, September 11 was 11,265. On the opening day last year the enrollment was 11,163. The enrollment in the high school was 2133. Last year on the opening day the high school enrollment was 2034. It is expected that these enrollment figures will be increased by a considerable number before the end of the month when all pupils will have returned from places where they have been spending the summer.

Lights Soon on Boylston Street

Boylston street from the Wellesley to the Brookline borders will soon be lighted at night after having been dark for the past couple of years. At least, the long suffering residents of that thoroughfare, now part of the Worcester turnpike, hope the lights will soon be installed. On Tuesday employees of the Edison Company started to place wires along the street for the long needed lights.

A man came in to the store, made a purchase which called for a payment of 20 cents, and tendered a $10 bill. Albano gave the man $9.80 and then discovered after the fellow had departed, that the bill was a counterfeit.

War Veterans Make Protests To Aldermen

Asserts City Is Treating Them As Paupers

For a second time a delegation of World War veterans came on Monday night to a meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen to protest against the new method of relief now being given them by the city in the form of food doles. A couple of weeks ago when the veterans came to protest at a sepcial meeting of the Aldermen, they were denied this privilege. Alderman Gallagher, who was presiding on that night, as Vice President of the Board ruled that it would not be in order to permit the veterans to be heard.

At the meeting last Monday night Alderman Cronin of Auburndale, who had vainly attempted at the preceding meeting to obtain a hearing for the veterans, again asked that they be allowed to voice their protests. Alderman Floyd of Auburndale took the floor and started to contend that the matter of giving aid to veterans is an executive function and that the Aldermen have no control over this matter. While Floyd was talking, Alderman Gallagher walked to the rostrum and spoke to President Collins of the board. Gallagher then walked back to where Floyd was talking and said something to the Ward 4 Alderman, whereupon the latter terminated his remarks and sat down. President Collins then asked Floyd if he objected to the veterans being allowed to express their protests and Floyd answered "No."

The first veteran to speak was John J. Kenney of Rowe st., Auburndale. Kenney explained that he is not obtaining soldier's relief, but that he is in sympathy with his comrades. He commented that Mayor Weeks is also a veteran, but is not in sympathy with his fellow veterans who are in need. Kenney argued that the unemployed veterans are not getting a cent to provide them with carfares or enable them to telephone in their endeavors to search for employment. He said that some of the food delivered to the veterans has not been fit to eat and that deodorizers would have been useful after some of the tins containing canned food were opened. He contended that the law specifies that veterans cannot be treated as paupers and that Newton is the only city in Massachusetts which is making paupers of the veterans.

Robert Cunningham, Commander of Newton Post, American Legion stated that the same kind of food is being sent to all the veterans receiving aid from the city, and that many of them, of various racial types, are accustomed to food of a different nature and cannot eat the food provided. He also said that some of the children of the veterans cannot go to school because they lack suitable clothing and food. He argued that the aid given by the city should be in cash, to a certain percentage at least.

Alderman Cronin presented a petition signed by over 200 Newton veterans demanding that cash payments be restored to the veterans. Cronin argued that the system now being used in this city is in violation of the State law. He called attention to the fact that the veterans have not a cent to get hair-cuts for themselves or their children, money for carfare to look for jobs, or other essential needs. He said that when one veteran received the weekly dole of food for himself and his family, four of the eggs delivered were rotten. Some of the oranges delivered have been quite small in size and contained little, or no juice.

Alderman Gallagher took the floor and stated that he had been severely criticised for having refused the veterans the privilege of protesting at the special meeting over which he had presided. He advocated allowing them to be heard and approved President Collins for granting this privilege. He asserted that he had just prevailed on another member of the Board not to object.

Louis DeGregorio of Jones court, Nonantum said that he had received rotten eggs in the food dole sent to him, and that when he went to City Hall to complain he was told to get out. He said he has five children, his disability allowance has been discontinued by the Federal Government and that he has been without a cent in his house to obtain medicine for his children when they have been ill. He added that the check sent him by the city for the payment of the rent of his home was not sufficient to pay the rent. He stated that he and his family do not eat white bread, as eaten by Americans and have had to beg for the rye bread they do eat. He commented that this country did not have to beg for us to go to the war.

John Kenney again took the floor to complain that discrimination is being practiced by the city. Some of the veterans are being given cash payments — other veterans are refused cash payments. Arthur Brouillette of Waltham st., West Newton, Past Commander of the Spanish War Veterans of this city, said that he is not receiving aid, but he protested against the injustice being done to the veterans who are in need in this city. He said that veterans here have been asked to sign papers which would pauperize them, and that Newton is the only place in the State which is treating veterans as paupers.

Frank DeGregorio of Emerald st. complained that he and his family have always been accustomed to Italian food and have been allowed but two pounds of macaroni a month. He said he would be satisfied if he would receive more spaghetti and cheese.

The Aldermen took no action following the protests, but it was subsequently announced that the food allowances sent out by the Welfare and Soldiers' Relief Departments will be modified so that food articles will be sent to the Italian and French recipients of a type to which they have been accustomed.

Kiwanis Club

At the regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club held at noon Tuesday, Sept. 12, at the Charles River Country Club, the members were addressed by the Hon. Owen Gallagher, member of the Massachusetts Senate.

Mr. Gallagher, a practicing attorney, has served two terms in the Massachusetts House of Representatives and is at the present time serving his first term in the State Senate. He was, therefore, well qualified to discuss before the club the advantages and disadvantages of the recent act providing for a preprimary convention in Massachusetts.

"Constitution Week," which is annually observed by Kiwanis International, is to be part of the Newton Kiwanis Club's program on September 19, according to plans announced by President George White. Kiwanians of this community will take part in what is a nation-wide observance of the occasion by all Kiwanis clubs in the United States. The time is fixed for the week of September 17-23 which includes the date of the anniversary of the signing of the Constitution, September 17, 1787.

"Our club is but one of over 1800 in the United States which will hold Constitution Week meetings," said President George White. "Because of the many problems which face our citizens, there never was a more fitting time than the present for our community to study the Constitution and to demonstrate its patriotism. We hope that all schools, churches and other civic and fraternal groups will join us in this event."

EXIDE DEALERS TO MEET

Battery dealers of the Newtons and surrounding territory will be invited to a meeting to be held by Electric Storage Battery Company, Exide Battery wholesalers, at 100 Ashford st. Allston, on Tuesday, Sept. 19, to discuss methods of merchandising batteries during the recovery period.

A feature of the meeting will be pictures of actual battery sales, with sound, in which battery dealers and their employees will be shown how to sell to the various classes of motorists.

"Battery Selling," said Philip Bram, Newton EXIDE distributor, "during the depression has, in too many instances, become merely a matter of selling any kind of battery regardless of whether or not it is adapted to the job it has to do on the purchaser's car so long as it conforms to the car owner's idea of economy and the dealer gets paid for it.

"No one is to blame for this state of affairs. It is the result of the depression. The car owner needs a battery and, being financially pinched, feels that he cannot go too deeply into the other angles of battery buying. The dealer, knowing the futility of trying to guide the purchaser and in this way fail to meet competition, has been content to follow the lines of least resistance. Although price will undoubtedly continue to be an important factor in buying, we believe the motorist will more and more take quality and operating advantages into consideration when spending his money for a battery."

FOOTBALL SQUAD WORKING HARD FOR OPENING GAME

With the opening game scheduled for a week from tomorrow at the Arlington High School field the Newton High School football team is working diligently to be ready for the curtain raiser. Last year Newton faced a veteran and well-balanced Arlington eleven on the Newtonville field and met with the only defeat suffered by the orange and black outfit throughout the season. While Coach Ostergren of Arlington has a number of veteran and seasoned players available this season it is doubtful if the team there will be as far advanced as that of 1932. Consequently Coach Ralph Sanborn of the Newton High team has hopes that Newton will get off on the right foot this year. The Newton mentor is facing many problems this year in an attempt to build an eleven around a few players of experience.

With one of the largest, if not the largest, squads in the history of Newton High football on hand one of the first problems to cope with has been that of selecting those players who have shown the best prospects of developing in the coming weeks. With that end in view Coach Sanborn and his assistant, Charlie Considine, have chosen about fifty lads to comprise the varsity squad. These selections, however, are not final, and some of those who are found wanting will be replaced by those on the intermediate varsity squad who may come along faster. All in all the Newton coaching staff is handling about 195 fully equipped candidates and out of this group it is expected that a characteristic Newton team will be developed.

At the present time Captain Charlie Thompson at centre and Frank "Red" McCarthy are about the only two players who are fairly certain that they will be in the starting line-up. Thompson is expected to be a bulwark in the line. The three boys who will flank him on each side are about as uncertain as the weather. Teddy Johnson and Bernie Finberg, letter wearers, are prospective ends having an edge on their rival candidates in the matter of experience. Neither was a regular last year and may be pressed for starting positions by a number of the remaining wing candidates.

At the tackle positions, both of which were left open through the graduation of Alex Kevorkian and Charlie Houghton, there should be plenty of competition. Among these who have a chance of earning the call to start are Richard Howe, Frank Joyce, Henry Ryan, Kenneth Halliday and Arthur Smith.

Walter Rich earned his letter as a guard on the 1932 eleven but is being pressed for a position by a number of candidates among whom the foremost are Ben Grow, Joe Castoldi, Ben Hartley, Gale Wislack and Sam Miller. Melvin Swig is one of the leading centre candidates who may understudy Capt. Thompson.

In the backfield much may depend on McCarthy. The sorrel topped youth developed fast last year and might well have been more outstanding than he was but for the over-shadowing brilliance of Warren Huston and Palmer York. McCarthy is dependable and a good running back with the possibility that he may develop into a triple threat. Another lad who should see considerable service in the backfield is Bob Whitney. The latter has shown considerable promise as a blocking back and while he may not carry the ball frequently he will bear a good share of the burden of the Newton offence in this respect. At the close of the 1932 season Charlie Flagg gave promise of being developed into a steady and reliable quarterback. As a member of the basketball and baseball teams for the past two years Flagg is one of the leading all-round athletes in the high school this year. Louis Miller is another lad who may be in the Newton backfield when the whistle blows to open the 1933 season. Frank Feola and Charlie Mascia are two other lads who saw some service last fall and may be in there.

Another week of practice and Coach Sanborn will be ready to announce his starting line-up and while many of the eleven players who get the call will have had but little experience they will be ready to do their best for Newton High.

In a four-set match Hayes was the victor by scores of 6—2, 6—4, 2—6, 6—1.

Feeling that the tax-payers are at the present time paying excessive taxes the association went on record as favoring a reduction in real estate taxes based upon present fair cash valuations and not city valuations, with a maximum rate of twenty dollars per thousand.

Also, that a minimum yearly water rate of Eight dollars per year be established, for which the customer will get 6000 cubic feet of water and the discontinuance of all other rates.

THE LOCATION IS MOST IMPORTANT

Several weeks ago the Newton Board of Aldermen voted to apply for Federal loans under the NRA program for several public works projects in Newton, among them an incinerator. Three of the Aldermen voiced their objections to this particular project and at the same time requests for public hearings on the matter were considered. As it is one of the functions of the State Emergency Finance Board, which may approve or reject plans for projects submitted to it, to conduct hearings on each matter before passing on them, the majority of the Aldermen felt it would be a duplication of effort as well as delaying the carrying out of the program. Thus the matter was given local approval and submitted to the State Board. Hearings were held on the various projects which Newton seeks to carry out. Surprising as it may seem there was no one appearing to protest any of the projects. As we see it the chief importance of the question lies as to the location of the proposed incinerator. We regard it as an improvement of merit, but believe that extremely careful consideration should be given before definite decision is made as to its location.

REVISING ELECTION LAWS

Considerable publicity has been given to the recent hearings of the commission considering the revision of election laws with the object of eliminating certain practices which have caused considerable argument in recent elections. Although it is probable that the commission will advocate nothing more drastic than changes to correct these practices one of the most desirable changes that could be made would be a step toward the so-called "short" ballot. More and more it is becoming evident that some offices should be filled by appointment or legislative acclamation.

About Town

By Edward H. Powers

Did you see the sunset on Monday evening? If not, you missed one of the most glorious, gorgeous, magnificent (or what you will), sights this region has had the privilege of witnessing for a long time. The masses of cumulo-stratus clouds in the northwest changed from a flaming, golden hue to dull copper, and a background of sapphire blue, rarely seen in this part of the world, afforded a spectacle which drew exclamations of admiration from thousands.

We have been requested by members of the American Legion in this city to again call attention to individuals wearing caps inscribed "Disabled Soldier" who obtain money from residents of this city. We are told that in some instances they have posed as members of Newton Post, American Legion. No member of Newton Post is permitted to solicit money on the streets of this city by selling flowers, real or artificial, or by selling any other article. The persons who resort to this method of obtaining money along the sidewalks, usually in the business sections of the Newtons, are not residents of the city. They make a regular occupation of getting money by this method, and protect themselves from arrest by using a State license for peddlers. Residents of Newton should refrain from giving money to these fellows. There are plenty of veterans in the Newtons badly in need of assistance. If you have anything to give, including donations of clothing or shoes (for adults or children) get in touch with Herbert M. French, 47 Paul st., Newton Centre, Welfare Officer of Newton Post, American Legion, or the Welfare Officer.

When men and women conducting small business activities are forced to comply with NRA codes, even though they are in financial difficulties, why should billion dollar corporations like big railroads be exempted? Why should the Federal government not practice what it preaches by restoring the postal service to something like its former efficiency; this to be done by putting postal employees back to work and filling vacancies? Why should not the Commonwealth of Massachusetts co-operate by awarding its contracts on public works to contractors who have signed up on the NRA instead of to contractors who did not sign up and who will continue to work employees on State projects 48 hours (and probably more) each week?

The annual howl against compulsory insurance rates is on—and justifiably so. Automobile owners of Massachusetts are annually compelled to pay high insurance rates because insurance companies pay hundreds of thousands of dollars to dishonest persons who make claims for fake injuries alleged to have been received in automobile accidents. And many of those who obtain money dishonestly on spurious claims, profess to be upright individuals, go to church regularly, and would wax indignant if accused of crookedness. Yet, they take false oaths and deliberately lie. The insurance companies pay such claims because they can pass the buck on to the automobile owners who must bear the burden.

There are many cars in Massachusetts registered from the summer addresses of their owners, places where low insurance rates are enjoyed. These cars are garaged for nine months of the year in higher rate zones, but their owners readily fill out insurance application blanks giving misleading information. There are many automobiles operated the year round in Massachusetts registered in other States. Cars can be seen in this city month in and month out bearing out of State number plates. It ought to be a comparatively simple matter to apprehend those who violate the law in this manner; but such action is not taken. The use of dealer's number plates is also abused. We have observed in this city large trucks owned by a certain person who has been given considerable work on public projects and his trucks bear dealers number plates. And there are a suspiciously large number of cars on the highways bearing paper number plates. It is not to be wondered at that persons who obey the law and are forced to pay heavy insurance rates complain at the burden.

Double parking and stopping of automobiles in business sections of this city is becoming more and more prevalent; just as it is in other cities. This practice is a violation of both State law and city statutes; it has caused many accidents and should be stopped. Incidentally, the practice of double parking automobiles nights at the parking space at Newton Corner is again being permitted. This practice has been forbidden in past years and should not be allowed now.

How would you like to be without a cent in your house from one end of the month to the other? Particularly if you had children dependent upon you. This is the condition under which many honest, frugal men and women find themselves in Newton.

Local Politics— With Apologies To Neal O'Hara

Draw up your chair, my dear, and get an earful:

Did you know that there are five aldermen with enough intestinal fortitude to decline to agree, in advance, to support Mayor Weeks? Aldermanically speaking, Wards 2 and 7 are the only Wards solid for the Mayor.

And what do you suppose is going to happen to at least one of these courageous gentlemen? Simply this: if he doesn't see the light and step up on the firing-line for the Mayor, he will suddenly discover that he has an opponent who will knock his block off at the next election. Dear me—how rough some of these pols are! Looks as though only "yes-yes" men were wanted here.

Also, that a quick check-up on the front page story of one of our local papers (not the GRAPHIC) last week reveals the fact that it "just ain't so" that three distinguished citizens are considering throwing their brown derbies into the charmed circle?

One of the men was a popular Democrat—another a prominent alderman and the third a genial Medico.

Here's another tid-bit: The Democratic war chest in Massachusetts hitherto somewhat emaciated, has swelled up with pride and ducats and threatens to overflow into our fair city. Translated this means that you will see a lot of good Democrats (both 6 o'clock and 10 o'clock models) running for office in these parts from now on.

Well—let's see now. Just suppose that the administration persuaded some personable Democrat to run for Mayor. That wouldn't help Tom White at all—at all. Split the anti-Weeks vote, wouldn't it? True, but—just suppose that the astute Thomas checkmated that little scheme by inserting a candidate of his own—some one who looked and acted like the Weeks' type. Well, that would be a horse of another color.

Roaming about City Hall we met up with a young lawyer who contributed this interesting thought as an explanation of White's candidacy: The G. O. P. is in tough shape throughout Massachusetts and the time is now ripe for a good old-fashioned boss of the Murray Crane type. Furthermore, Newton, right now, is the chief bulwark of the G. O. P. in the eastern part of the state. Do you get it? If White beats Weeks, conceded by nearly everyone to be one of the strong men in the young Republican group, he could make a grab for the reins and attempt to drive the party machinery. Right now, the G. O. P.'s marching song is entitled, "I Don't Know Where I'm Going, but I'm on My Way." White knows the game of politics like a book — he would develop a program and then provide leadership and pep.

One more item: Today a veteran State House reporter, while chewing the rag with yours truly, handed out some excellent advice for our local city committee. Said the veteran, "It's bad business for a city committee to interfere in party primaries or in city election fights because (1) it's none of their business (which is supposed to be licking the other party in the election) and (2) every single candidate who is not endorsed in a city election will remember that fact and sooner or later pay back the score. It won't be many years before said city committee will find itself in a jam—and that's that."

Selah, as they said in the good old days.

P. W. C.

Men and women who were always industrious and respectable, and who were self-supporting prior to the economic collapse now in its fourth year. It does not redound to the credit of the City of Newton to reduce decent people to such a strait. Neither does it show that those responsible for such pauperization of persons never indigent in normal times comprehend the import of existing economic, social and political conditions. If those in authority were to practice an unsympathetic attitude towards the millions in distress in this country, people who are not shiftless or thriftless, it is not difficult to visualize the result. We have seen what has happened in other countries in recent years; history tells what happened in former generations.

This is a time when humaneness is equally as important as low taxes; when deserving persons should not be penalized because some who have been receiving aid have misspent the cash given them. Each case should be treated according to individual merit or demerit.

What riles us is to listen to some benificent individual who happens to have been fortunate enough to have employment say—"Why don't the persons getting aid go to work and earn some money?" Our dander especially rises when such a critic happens to be a person with a public job; one whose pay envelopes have been coming in regularly the past four years, and whose salary has been little diminished. We tell such self-satisfied beings that if they were unemployed, they would soon discover how difficult it is to find a job. And we ask them if they can assist us to find some employment for several worthy men who have appealed to us to find work for them, and who we have been unable to assist in this way so far. When we put this question to one of the "optimists" who contend that opportunities for employment are plentiful, we were told of one man who is obtaining a little income by scavenging on a public dump. Are not some persons quite practical and helpful?

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

If the Boston postal service upsets you take a look at the swell new building and think how nice and clean your letters will be lying round there.

Hard to Please

The upswing has put broad smiles on many faces where formerly you couldn't discern a sickly grin. It looks—and that's the best part of it—as if the bright and snappy view of life was going to remain, which is pleasant to think. Of course there are some who haven't changed their expression and who cling to frowns and scowls as if determined never to part with them. Sort of makes you peeved when you realize how important it is to sustain a feeling of optimism. One example of reluctant recovery I encountered struck me as funny and I'm hoping you'll agree with me.

A talented man whom I have known a long time had displayed marked ability as a painter of oils and water-colors. Possessing no business head he never acquired money and really wouldn't have survived but for a resourceful and devoted wife. (Bachelors take notice.) The husband, nevertheless, permitted nothing to worry him. With or without funds he was always the same. Come to think of it he seemed much more contented when "stony broke". Funny about those artistic guys, isn't it?

The wife had ambitions. When the depression knocked the props from under every artist's easel in the country she was at her husband's side with words of encouragement. Moreover, she decided to be the bread-winner. Borrowing money from her parents she established a tearoom on a much-traveled highway. Greatly to her husband's disgust she displayed his paintings for sale. The enterprise was boring to "hubby". Probably there was too much industry—too much concentration of effort.

What happened? Well, I lost track of them until one morning last week I met the husband in Boston. He was stepping out of an expensive roadster and wore clothes that a movie star would covet. Talk about getting into "big money." Well, it so surprised me I forget to be diplomatic or even cordial. Bluntly, I asked, "What's this mean? Has the tearoom and picture selling combination put you on easy street?"

"Yes," he sighed wearily, "the —— thing is a big success."

The Risk of Reminiscence

Some people object to others who "hark back to the good old days." That raises the question as to how far one should go in the pursuit of memories. My answer is, "As far as you like, if they are pleasant ones." But not everybody agrees with me I have found. Some have an idea you can overdo it.

Two Newton men, who have grown up together and have passed the half-century mark in good form, were re-visiting the haunts of boyhood days. It had been done at the urging of one of them—his life-long friend giving in to his old pal's notions.

The first was eloquent in reminiscence. "There's the hill we used to climb and look way off. And there's the pasture where we found the big hole and called it an Indian cave. 'Member?"

The other, who was driving, nodded assent.

"And there's the field where the old farmer let us ride the horse when he was plowing, and down there's the meadow where we had so much fun pitching hay or trying to and thinking we were helping the hired man."

"Guess you're right," grudgingly admitted his chum.

"Stop a minute," the enthusiast went on. "Pull in down here. There's the spring we used to drink from. Let me out. I'm going to be a boy again." With that he hopped to the ground and cautiously slid down the bank. Placing his knees firmly on the brink he lowered his head and quaffed freely of the clear, cool water.

"Gee, that was great," he proclaimed as he returned to the car.

The pessimistic pal looked at him. "You would," he said.

"Why, what's wrong?"

"With all the real estate development, new building and everything that's taken place," the grouchy one continued. "I'll bet you've gathered a million microbes. Probably you'll die of poison before we get home. Drinking that pollution! Bah!"

Postponed Pleasures

As long as it's all off for reasons that will be readily understood I don't mind admitting that I had planned to do a little bicycling this Fall. Having read about the great increase in wheeling in other parts of the country, particularly New York, I resolved I'd take a turn myself. Maybe you haven't heard, but a large number who haven't cars and others who used to own them have found in bicycling an abundance of exhilarating outdoor sport. Figures show that in some cities the renting of bicycles has become an extensive money-making enterprise.

I even went as far as engaging a wheel from a friend of mine who has ridden year in and year out all his life and who has never cared whether he was the only bicyclist at large in his town or not. I knew the police wouldn't bother me if I occasionally used the sidewalks. They let a young man ride his wheel on the sidewalk in Nonantum square the other day, for I saw him.

Just shows how quickly one's plans may be upset. Why, I'd even gotten as far as an appropriate costume. Of course I meant to start on the back streets and confine my wheeling to daylight hours. But then—the folly of counting one's chickens before they're hatched. Just a simple little tumble due to a clothes pin on the laundry floor and I'm limping between home and the finest set-up of electro therapeutic instruments one could desire for baking strained muscles, etc.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Matter" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 17.

The Golden Text is: "In God I will praise his word, in God I have put my trust; I will not fear what flesh can do unto me" (Psalms 56:4).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought yet to be in all holy conversation and godliness, looking for and hasting unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat? Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness" (II Peter 3:11-13).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual,—they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite,—in order that sin and mortality may be put off. This scientific sense of being, forsaking matter for Spirit, by no means suggests man's absorption into Deity and the loss of his identity, but confers upon man enlarged individuality, a wider sphere of thought and action, a more expansive love, a higher and more permanent peace" (p. 265).

"Screen Oddities," by Capt. Roscoe Fawcett—sketches and spicy paragraphs about celebrities of Hollywood, every day in the Boston Globe.

ANSWERS CITIZEN'S ARTICLE ON "BRAIN TRUST" OF THIRTY YEARS AGO

Dear Editor:,

Enclosed please find a few words replying to the letter of one signed by P. W. C. Trusting you may find space for the same

I am,

Very truly yours,
F. K. H.

Having perused the somewhat lengthy article over the signature P. W. C. in the GRAPHIC of Sept. 1st, I wonder where the target is for his barrage. I feel that it is a fine thing that the so called good old days have passed into oblivion.

The right of franchise gives the people the power to choose candidates for political office and does not confine that choice to the selection of any hand picked individuals who may be named by the Republican brain trust. As far as the qualifications of those chosen, select, elect or what have you, children of the group who guide the hand of Destiny, the less said the better. The chief asset many of them often possessed was an ability to forget the people, also their oath of office, and barefacedly vote yes on each and every measure which had the approval of the Executive department.

Realizing that it must be more than a blow to the pride of these self styled brainy people, that Democracy should ever gain a foothold in our fair city, I will remind the worthy gentlemen that our present Mayor on Jan. 3, 1930, referred to abolishing the preferential ballot in our city elections. If this ever occurs the Brain Trust will awaken to the fact that their great majority will assume the proportions comparable with a cheap bathing suit after the first immersion. Furthermore I sincerely trust that P. W. C. intended no insult or slur to the people of Newton when he intimated that they lacked the intelligence requisite in naming candidates for public office.

For a number of years this closed corporation has functioned successfully, as far as attaining their own ends is concerned, to their enjoyment and to the gain, financial, or otherwise of the parasites who have been close to the throne.

I wonder somewhat as to the feeling of the women voters of our city when they become aware that for some time they have been cajoled into casting ballots for men who lack the intestinal fortitude to voice an opinion, if they ever had one of their own. And to climax the whole situation we now have an insurgent in their ranks, who, contrary to Brain Trust ethics, dares to declare himself a candidate for the throne of Mayor. I suppose because of the fact that he is not to the manor born, his candidacy will be mightily frowned upon.

For my part, give me the man who dares. One who is not a consistent dodger of real issues, and above all things a man who knows conditions as they really exist. The people are tired of being handed goldbricks. Let us have a new Deal without stacking the cards, and stop deceiving the voters.

"Tugboat Annie" At Local Theatre All Next Week

In line with its policy of billing sound pictures that the public wants to see, the Paramount Theatre, Newton, will show "Tugboat Annie," Metro-Goldwyn's vivid drama, for the entire week beginning Sunday, Sept. 17th. Co-starring Marie Dressler and Wallace Beery, for the first time since "Min and Bill," the production has been shown to hundreds of thousands in many theatres throughout the country. Recognizing the popular demand of "Tugboat Annie," Manager John Snider of the local theatre plans to give Newton people every opportunity to see the film which is based upon Norman Reilly Raine's Saturday Evening Post tales of the redoubtable feminine tugboat captain.

Puget Sound tugboats, built to withstand the terrific storms of winter in the Northern port, cameras slung from cables, or from their booms, to film them in churning seas, a great liner, chartered for a picture, and placed in the center of a raging storm at sea—these are among the amazing technical feats accomplished in the filming of "Tugboat Annie."

The story was filmed at Seattle Harbor, original locale of the tales, and in other waterfront locations. Seagoing tugs race for wrecks, there is an amazing engine room climax in which Beery invades a blazing firebox to plug boiler tubes and save a great liner, and hilarious comedy abounds between dramatic incidents.

The play called for more than usual technical and engineering skill. An entire ship chandlery was reproduced for one scene. Robert Young is seen on an actual steamer bridge, as a captain, operating navigation instruments. A complete engine room was used as a floating set for another of the vivid scenes, and a Puget Sound tug was moved, in toto, from Seattle to San Pedro harbor for "closeups."

Miss Dressler and Beery are seen actually operating this tug at sea. Professional tugboat men acted as technical aides, and the author himself worked with the director, Mervyn Le Roy, famous for "Five Star Final," "Little Caesar" and other film hits.

An elaborate cast appears in the new picture, including Robert Young, Maureen O'Sullivan, Willard Robertson, Tammany Young, Frankie Darro, Jack Pennick and Paul Hurst.

Rotary Club

"The story of the State Legislature for 1933 would not be complete without reference to the unusual efficiency, the forceful personality, and the sound and impartial judgment of the Speaker of the House, Leverett Saltonstall," said Warren K. Brimblecom, the local representative, in summarizing the work and accomplishments of the 1933 State Legislature, when addressing the Newton Rotary Club on Monday noon at the Brae Burn Club House.

Mr. Brimblecom explained the vast volume of business before the recent legislature when more than 2100 matters were considered, resulting in 359 acts and 60 resolves.

It was evident that the speaker had a very active part in the last session, as Clerk of the Power and Light Committee, and took an active interest in many bills before the House.

Mr. Brimblecom reviewed a few of the important bills of the last session, including all bills on governmental economy, provision and relief bills, tax title bills, and the borrowing bill for $30,000,000. Other bills mentioned were enabling legislation for the Home Loan Bill, NRA program and the Public Works bills, beer bill, parimutuel bill, and several others.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

The officers of the Young People's Inter-church Council met last Sunday and planned for their first Council meeting of the season, to take place Friday, September 22, at the Waltham Universalist Church. At this time the plans for the Andover Week-end Retreat will be made and reports of summer Y. P. leadership training camps will be given by selected campers.

Each church is entitled to five members of this Young People's Council; two boys and two girls (ages 16 to 24), and one adult councillor. The purpose is to plan and conduct the annual inspirational conference for young people and to carry on such other activities as will help to improve the standards of young people's work in the co-operating churches. The purpose in a phrase might be said to be "leadership training."

The District Executive Secretary is planning to visit as many local church teachers' meetings as possible this year. She began by attending the Waltham Universalist teachers' meeting, the first to be held this fall in the District, last Tuesday evening. Interesting plans were discussed at this meeting for the following up of absentee pupils, for an all-school World Inter-dependence Project, and for Religious Education Week.

Crane To Run For Alderman

Nomination papers for the office of alderman-at-large from Ward 7 were today taken out by friends of Arthur H. Crane, 11 Sunset road, Newton Centre. In announcing his candidacy, Mr. Crane says:—

At the urgent request and solicitations of many friends throughout the city, interested in my candidacy, who have promised me their support, I have consented to contest for the seat of Alderman-at-large from Ward 7.

I feel that the continuation in the same political office by any one man for a prolonged term does not react to the best interests of the people and that a periodic change inures to greater service.

NRA Compliance Board Enrolling Newton Employers

Results Will Be Issued in Weekly Statements

The local N. R. A. committee which was appointed last week by Mr. George L. White, chairman of the N. R. A. executive committee in Newton, has been designated as the Compliance Board similar to the term which is used in other cities and towns throughout the State. The local compliance board is comprised of Rupert C. Thompson, chairman; J. Ernest Gibson, George P. Hatch, Sydney B. Holden and James A. Waters.

At the present time the committee is engaged in ascertaining the number of Newton employers who have not enrolled under the N. R. A. and endeavoring to bring the enrollment to one hundred per cent. The vast majority of Newton employers, numbering twenty-five hundred, have signed the President's Agreement and are observing both the letter and spirit of the Act. Those not enrolled represent for the most part those employers not familiar with what is requested and it is felt that explanation will soon bring them within the ranks.

The local executive committee is taking steps to issue weekly statements showing the results of the N. R. A. activities in Newton indicating the increase in employment, increases in payrolls, increases in production of local factories, increase in business in retail stores and similar material of value. It is not unreasonable to expect that Newton's first report will show gratifying results. Reports from nearby localities are already significant. A town near Boston, much smaller than Newton in area and population, has reported twenty-two firms with a net increase in employment of 1765 persons and an increased weekly payroll of over $36,000.

Ward 1 Society Seeks Several Improvements

The Ward I Improvement Association met on Wednesday night at the Lincoln School, Newton. Miss Julia M. Enegess, President of the association was in charge of the meeting. Among the matters discussed were the need of repairs at the Eliot School on Pearl street and improvements at Boyd Park Playground. It was voted to request the Playground Department to endeavor to have this playground grassed over by the latter part of next Spring. Much of the playground is covered by weeds or bare ground. It was also urged that the tennis court at the playground be placed in proper condition.

It was moved that the City Government be requested to make the necessary alterations at the Chaffin house on Vernon street to convert this building into a children's library The city purchased this property a few years ago at a cost of $23,000 for this purpose, but the work of changing the building into a children's library has not been done, although the cost would be comparatively small and it would afford much needed work at the present time. The condition of the streets and sidewalks in the Ward was also discussed.

The officers elected for the ensuing year were—President, Miss Julia M. Enegess; Vice-President, William A. Sproat; Secretary, Miss Margaret H. McDonald; Treasurer, A. Charles Dunne.

Residents Near Reservoir Ask For A Hearing

Residents of Waban Hill have petitioned the Newton Board of Aldermen for a public hearing on the matter of enlarging the water reservoir at the summit of that hill. This project is one of those which the city government plans from funds which will be borrowed through the N. R. A. from the Federal Government. The Waban Hill people are somewhat apprehensive regarding the danger which might exist should the reservoir above their homes be doubled in size.

Dam in Edmands Park Bursts From Heavy Rainfall

Had Been Erected To Make Artifificial Pond

A large earth dam at Edmands Park, Newton, near Westchester rd. burst on Saturday when it gave way under the pressure of water caused by the heavy rain. The dam was built last winter under the supervision of the Playground Department by unemployed men. It was about 75 feet in width and 15 feet high and was constructed of gravel and sand. Towards the centre of the dam where Edmands Brook coursed through, a cement pipe was laid to drain the artificial pond created by the dam, and a concrete spillway was built. The pond, about two acres in area, rapidly filled during the heavy rain of last Friday night and Saturday. The pressure of the water caused the dirt dam to give at about the point where the pipe was located.

A large section of the dam was washed away. The concrete spillway remained suspended in the air for a few hours before crashing to the ground. A concrete manhole about 15 feet high also toppled over. Another concrete manbole constructed by the Sewer Department remained standing.

The rush of water, after the dam crumbled, flowed largely along the old course of Edmands Brook towards Blake st. Some of the flood reached Westchester rd. The cellar of one house at the corner of Blake and Cabot sts. was flooded.

No decision has been reached yet as to whether, or not, the dam will be replaced. If it is, it is probable that a more substantial structure will be built. The artificial pond which the dam had created, could have been used for skating purposes this winter.

Fined $185 For Drunken Driving

Fred Dunlop of 207 Brown street, Waltham was fined a total of $185 in the Newton court yesterday morning by Judge Bacon when he was found guilty on several charges. For drunkenness he was fined $10; for driving a car while under the influence of liquor $100; for leaving the scene of an accident without revealing his identity $25; for not stopping when ordered to do so by a policeman $50. Dunlop appealed and his bail was set at $400. Patrolman Charlton testified that Dunlop was the driver of a car which hit another car at West Newton square on the night of September 1. Dunlop claimed that his brother was driving the car, and the brother also testified to this effect

Sullivan Wants N. E. Power Plant

C., this week in conference with the administration officials and Tennessee Valley power authorities regarding the possibility of establishing a government electric plant in this section of New England, the work to come under the head of the National Recovery Act.

Davidson to Run Again From Wd. 5

Nomination papers for the office of Alderman-at-Large from Ward 5 have been taken out in the interest of William A. Davidson of 182 Beethoven ave., Waban. He will be an opponent of John Temperley of Newton Upper Falls who has held this office for the past six years. Mr. Davidson, who conducts the Waban Electric Shop was a candidate for this office last year against Donald D. McKay.

More Claims Are Filed for Damage From Blasting

New High Level Sewer Cases Total Near Fifty

Taxpayers of the City of Newton will have some bills to foot because of alleged damages from blasting in the new high level sewer if all the claims presented to the city are eventually paid. At the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen a dozen additional claims were received. These were from Mary J. Fitzgerald, 273 Tremont street; Emilio Nardone, 103 Langdon street; Robert N. Theyson et al, 11 Cufflin street and 3 Ricker terrace, Brighton; Frank A. Reinhard, 257 Cabot street; Wallace W. Stuart, 17 Newtonville avenue; Mrs. Katherine O'Brien, 11 Newtonville avenue; Mrs. Katherine H. Dunne, 157 Washington street; P. J. Toye, 46 Bennington street, 1 Mt. Ida terrace; T. P. Gervais, 26 Playstead road; Mrs. Jennie K. Donnell, 6 Salisbury road; Charles K. Beatty, 12-14 Winchester road.

With the claims previously made, the total is around fifty. Some of the houses alleged to have been damaged by the blasting are located quite close to the new sewer. Others are some distance removed. If the claimants can prove their contentions, it will be shown that the force of the blasts was quite erratic in its wanderings; skipping nearby houses to damage buildings much more remote. City Solicitor Bartlett, in addition to his other activities, including the chairmanship of the State Emergency Finance Board, has plenty of work facing him in representing the city in the matter of these many claims.

Claflin Club Plans Season

The Claflin Club, the men's organization at the Newtonville M. E. Church, is planning for the coming season. The executive committee of the club met on Monday evening at the home of Carl S. Ell, Dean of Northeastern University, and president of the Club. Plans for the year's program were definitely made for the third Friday evening of each month from October to May. There will be a Fun Night, Ladies Night, Show Night, Father and Son Banquet in addition to four lectures. Among the speakers who have already been scheduled are Dr. Charles R. Brown, Dean Emeritus of Yale University, and Dr. Payson Smith, State Commissioner of Education.

The executive committee confirmed the appointment of the following committee chairmen: Membership, Allan J. MacQuarrie; Finances, Carl H. Stange; Programs, Carl C. Davis; Visiting, William Taylor; Religious Work, Chester A. Baker; Athletics, Edward A. Teschner; Bowling, Leon Bellamy; Dinners, Stanley O. MacMullen. In addition to President Ell the executive committee includes Elmer E. Colcord, secretary; Carl C. Davis, vice-president; Rev. Laurence W. C. Emig; Herbert L. Stevens, treasurer; George W. Taylor and Samuel L. Thompson.

Gets Nine Months For Gambling

Olaf Helgeson of James st., West Newton, was sentenced by Judge Bacon in the Newton court on Wednesday to serve nine months in Middlesex County prison when found guilty on two gambling charges. He was sentenced to serve six months for allowing a building occupied by him to be used for gambling purposes, and to three months for having a lottery ticket in his possession. He appealed and was placed under bonds of $1500.

Helgeson got a tough break when a Waban man went to sleep in his garage at 69 Elmwood street, Newton on the night of September 12. During the early hours of the morning of September 13th, this fellow broke one of the windows at the garage in making his exit, awoke a woman residing in a nearby house and caused her to telephone police headquarters under the impression that a burglary was being committed. The police rushed to the scene and arrested the Wabanite on the charge of drunkenness. They also made a search of the garage and in court Wednesday morning testified that they found a large number of "nigger pool" slips at the premises. The raiding party comprised Serg. Crowley, Patrolmen Condrin and Charles Jenkins. The latter explained to Judge Bacon some of the details of how the "pool" is played.

Counterfeit Bills Still Being Passed

Another counterfeit $10 bill was passed in this city on Monday at the drug store of Alexander Fox, 332 Watertown street, Nonantum. It was passed by a man in payment for a money-order at the sub-postal station which Mr. Fox conducts. The bill, a very clever imitation, was detected by postal employees at Boston.

Veterans' Council Names Committee On Welfare Relief

To Confer On Plan For Part Cash To Veterans

On Monday night a meeting of the Veterans Council of Newton was held at the Memorial Building at City Hall park. A long discussion was held on the matter of modifying the new system of relief in operation in this city, whereby cash payments are not given to veterans; the aid being limited to food doles, payment of rent to the limit of $20 monthly, and payment of light and gas bills to the limit of $2 monthly. In addition to members of the council Mayor Weeks, Soldiers' Relief Commissioner Dungan, and City Solicitor Bartlett were present.

Mayor Weeks gave his reasons for putting the needy of the city under the commissary system and stopping payments of cash. He contended that the duty of this city is to provide proper nourishment and housing for the unemployed, and that under the present system these necessities are assured. Mr. Bartlett told the council that he is chairman of the State Emergency Finance Board which is determining how the millions of dollars of Federal aid will be distributed to cities and towns in Massachusetts. He stated that his Board has reached the conclusion that cash payments are not the best method of giving welfare relief to the enemployed. He also said that Newton is more liberal in the matter of rent allowance than other cities; some of which make no allowance for rent. Mr. Dungan told the council that 147 payments of soldiers' relief are being made monthly in Newton. Of this number 66 are on the commissary system; the remainder are cash payments given to widows and unmarried men.

Julius Ramm, head of the Veterans Council appointed the following committee to confer with Commissioner Dungan—Arthur McCarthy, Newton Post, American Legion; David L. Keefe, Eugene Daly Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Fred Fanning, Thomas Burnett Camp, Spanish War Veterans. This committee will meet with Mr. Dungan and endeavor to have the present system modified so that veterans will receive part of the relief given them in cash.

Planning Board Asks Changes in Names of Streets

Cite Seven Cases of Duplication To Aldermen

A communication from the Newton Planning Board to the Board of Aldermen takes definite action on a matter that has received some attention in this city for many years—the duplication of street names in the Newtons. Two or more streets in the Newtons having the same name has been the cause of much annoyance and loss of time to many persons in past years. Men driving delivery trucks, letter carriers, physicians and particularly strangers visiting the city have been put to much troubl by this condition. The Planning Board cites seven instances of streets with duplicate names and recommends tha the names of some of these streets be changed to eliminate the duplication. It also recommends that no unaccepted street be accepted whic bears a name already given to an accepted street, until that name wil have been changed.

The seven cases of duplicate street names are—Beech street, Newtonvill and Beach street, Nonantum; Cook street, Nonantum and Newton Highlands; Devon road, Newton Centre and Newton Highlands; Maple street, Newton and Auburndale; North street, Newtonville and Newton Centre; Norwood avenue, Newtonville and Newton Centre; Rogers street, Newton and Newton Highlands.

Other streets in the city bearing duplicate names are—Charles street, Auburndale and Newton Highlands; George street, Newton, West Newton and Newton Highlands; High street Newton Highlands and Upper Falls Howard street, Newton and Wes Newton; Lake avenue, Newton Centre and Auburndale; Russell road, Newton and West Newton; Upland road Newtonville and Waban; Walnut place, Newtonville and Newton Highlands; William street, West Newton, Williams street, Newton and Upper Falls. Much confusion is also caused by streets which have the same name but have different endings such as street, avenue, road, park, lane, place and terrace.

New Fire Truck At Nonantum

A new fire truck was delivered to the city on Monday by its makers, The Maxim Company of Middleboro. It is a combination piece of apparatus with a pump having a capacity of 600 gallons per minute and an auxiliary water tank with a capacity of 130 gallons. Water from this tank will be pumped through a small hose to extinguish minor fires. This method replaces the former chemical tanks and causes less damage to property. The new truck will carry over 1000 feet of large hose, in addition to several hundred feet of smaller sizes of hose It also has a deck gun through which a powerful stream can be directed. The cost of this new apparatus was $6400. It will be stationed at Hose 8 house in Nonantum and will replace a hose truck which has been in service for 18 years. It will be placed in commission next week.

Planning Board Approves Projects

The Newton Planning Board has placed its approval on the projects proposed by the Mayor and Aldermen of Newton under the funds expected to be received through the N. R. A. These include an incinerator, a new school at Nevada street and Linwood avenue, Newtonville; and additions to the Bigelow and Day junior high schools. An addition to the water reservoir on Waban Hill is also tentatively proposed.

Want Changes Made at Walnut Street and Pike

Alderman McKay Active In Seeking Crossing

Alderman Donald McKay of Newton Highlands has been persistently endeavoring to correct the inconvenience caused to citizens of Newton by the closing of Walnut street at its intersection with the new Worcester turnpike at Boylston st. Mr. McKay first became interested in this matter last May when he learned that Walnut street was to be closed to vehicular traffic at Boylston street by curbings placed along the turnpike centre reservation. This would result in traffic being detoured through the underpass on Centre street. It seemed obvious that to avoid this round about route motorists would travel through Woodcliff rd. and Parker street; two narrow streets not adapted for heavy traffic.

Interviewed on this subject, Mr. McKay said—

"After sounding out the opinions of the residents I took the matter up with the Highway Commission, and a hearing was set for June 7th. About a hundred people living in this vicinity signed a petition asking that Walnut Street be made a cross-over with traffic lights. I represented the neighborhood at this hearing, presented the petition, but the Commissioners were determined to carry out their original plan. They stated that if after giving it a trial it proved unsatisfactory that they would then consider the change requested."

"The Boulevard has now been open for several weeks, and there is an insistent demand that the change be made. It had been my hope to work this out in a quiet way with the Highway Commission, but many citizens possibly not knowing of my efforts are writing to the Governor, to the Commission and to the Mayor. At the last Board meeting as a result of such communications the matter was referred to the Public Works Committee. My activities by the way have been carried on in consultation with the Street Commissioner, the City Engineer and the Chairman of the Public Works Committee. I believe that all these officials and the Planning Board are in agreement that the change should be made. I base this on my conversations with various members, although possibly they have not taken formal action in Committee meetings."

"Besides the present inconvenience caused to motorists there is a very serious danger to the pedestrians and especially young school children. At my instigation a special policeman has been placed on school duty at this point. This, of course, affords protection only during certain hours. At other times pedestrians are at the mercy of the speeders. A solution of this phase of the problem would be the installation of lights which could be operated by the pedestrians, similar to those installed at Lake Street, but if lights are to be put in it would seem much better to make it a complete job and allow traffic to cross."

Alderman McKay calls attention to the new residential development south of Boylston st. and a large new area is being planned. Real estate men tell him that prospective customers are deterred from buying by the traffic arrangement affecting Walnut st.

Y. M. C. A.

Camp Frank A. Day is being used more and more for conferences and outings after the regular season has closed. On Sept. 9th and 10th the Young People of Eliot Church met under the direction of Miss Bessie L. Stratton for their Annual Planning Conference. The tropical storm on Sept. 16th and 17th interfered with the outing of the Boston Y. M. C. A. Secretaries and Directors. On the 30th of September there will be a conference of young men from the Y. M. C. A.'s of Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

The ten evening courses in "Economic Problems of Today" which the Newton Y. M. C. A. is promoting for men and women has already met with a very favorable response. The opening meeting will be Wednesday, Sept. 27th, at 8:15 P. M., at the "Y" building, and all men and women who are interested will be welcome without obligation.

The popular evening course in Public Speaking for business and professional men will open at the "Y" on Friday, Sept. 29th, at 7:30 P. M. Mr. Frederic B. Eastman, Trust Officer of the State Street Trust Company, will preside. Mr. Edward M. Rowe, who has so successfully conducted this course, will be in charge again this fall.

Gymnasium Classes

The Newton Y. M. C. A. gymnasium classes for men and boys start again on Monday, Oct. 2nd. No change is to be made this season in the arrangement of the age groupings and the time of meetings of the various classes. As before, the classes will meet at a time which will allow the attendance of not only residents of Newton, but also of the places about here.

The schedule will be as follows: Business and Professional Men—Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 5:15 P. M., Seniors—the same days at 8:15 P. M.; High School boys—Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 3 P. M. (Friday, a swimming period only, at 3:30 P. M.); Junior High School boys—Tuesday and Thursday at 3:45 P. M., and Saturday at 10:30 A. M., the Juniors on the same days at 2 P. M. and 9:30 A. M., a second Junior class on Monday and Wednesday at 4:15 P. M., and Saturday at 9:30 A. M., and the Employed Boys on Tuesday and Saturday at 7:00 P. M., and a swimming period on Thursday at 7:45 P. M. Each boys' period will be followed by a supervised swimming period.

During the next few weeks, while the weather will allow it, the boys' classes, excepting the Employed Boys, will meet on the athletic field for tag football and soccer. This week the gymnasium is closed while cleaning and repairs are being done in preparation for the opening.

J. Sherman Irving, chairman of the Y. M. C. A. Tennis Tournament Committee, has arranged a singles tournament to be played off on the next two Saturdays. M.; Ken Gerritson vs. (opponent to be selected) at 12 M.; Art Jacobs vs. Jim Carr at 2 P.M.; Dick Lee vs. George Carter at 2 P. M.; and Eliot Sharpe vs. A. Anderson at 2 P. M.

Track

The following members of the Y. M. C. A. Track Team will run in the Athletic Day which is being held at Russell Hoyt Playground at Cambridge, this Saturday afternoon at 2 P. M.: 100-yard dash—Stan Cullen, Johnny Morris, Harold Mearls, George Dearborn, Bob Quigley, Art Linthwaite, and Bob Gutzler; Five-mile run—Clif. Boudrot, Art Jacobs, and Dr. L. B. Perlmutter.

Cross Country Team practice is being started this week at the Y. M. C. A. under the direction of Coach Henry Pierce. The team will compete in at least three meets which have been definitely arranged for already. On Saturday, Oct. 14th, the team will run on the Franklin Park course against either the freshman team or a combination of the varsity and freshman teams of Northeastern University. On Saturday, Nov. 11th, the Y. M. C. A. Two-State Cross County Run Championship will be held in Newton, and later in the month at Franklin Park there is the N. E. A. A. U. SPORT NOTES

Huston at Springfield

Warren Huston, Newton star the past three years, has entered Springfield Y. M. C. A. College. Palmer York is at Andover and will go to Yale. Alex Kevorkian is at Exeter where he should be one of the leading athletes of the year. He expects to enter either Brown, where his older brother starred, or Harvard. Charlie Houghton is enrolled at Clark School and is headed for Harvard. The Crimson would have a great pair of tackles in Houghton and Kevorkian. Eddie Grethex is going to Clark School also. Dick Francis, 1932 football centre at Newton high is at Roxbury School and may go to Yale. Dick Forbes, a back in 1932, is a freshman at Cornell.

Gulian On Harvard Squad

George Gulian, former Newton athlete, now a sophomore at Harvard, is a guard on the Crimson varsity C team. He and Carl Pescosolido, one of the leading backfield prospects, are the only two local youths on the Harvard squad. Francis and Donald Gleason are not playing football this Fall having passed up the sport on the doctor's advice. Both were susceptible to injuries last year, Francis on the varsity and Donald on the freshman team.

On Dartmouth Squad

Wilbur Powers, Bob Bennett, and Frank Spain are the three local youths on the Dartmouth varsity football squad. Powers, who is right in the thick of a great battle for a regular backfield berth, was high scorer of the Green team a year ago. He will undoubtedly see considerable action. Bennett is trying to displace the veteran Dave Hedges in the backfield while Spain, who has not played football since he quarterbacked his freshman team two years ago, is attempting a comeback. Sammy Fishman, whom Spain outranked as a freshman, has an edge on the varsity berth over all other candidates.

Newton Girls Win Honors

Several Newton girls were among the prize winners of a competition lasting all summer at the B. U. Sargent School of Physical Education camp at Peterboro, N. H. Miss Louise Kerr won six stars, the highest honor, as did two other girls from other states. Jane Waggoner of Newton won four stars and a Sargent S. Natalie Howland earned two stars and a riding prize and Harriet Conel received two stars. Competition was held in tennis, archery, swimming, fistball, riding, boating, driving, dramatics, dancing, arts and crafts and posture.

Newton Youths at N. U.

Several Newton youths may be in the line-up of the first varsity football team at Northeastern University this fall. Francis Tuscher, end, and Bob Buell halfback on the first freshman team last year are among the leading candidates for varsity berths. Henry Furdon, Husky junior, and a former Newton high football star is a third Newton youth who may make the team. Bob Claffee, a tackle, has been tried out in the backfield by Coach Al McCoy, who is a former Newton high athlete. Bob Frye is a halfback with considerable punting ability.

Gallagher at Providence

Charley Gallagher, Our Lady High basketball and baseball star of the past few years, has entered Providence College along with John Joyce, teammate of Gallagher's on both sports. Tony Lombardi and Joe Herlihy, both on the 1933 baseball team, have entered Boston College.

NEWTON ELEVEN DETERMINED TO UPSET ARLINGTON

The Newton high school football team journeys to Arlington tomorrow afternoon to mix with the Ostergren coached gridiron team in the curtain raiser of the local football season. Although Coach Sanborn is not over enthusiastic over his squad's chances of upsetting the Spy ponders on their home field the Newton squad has grit and courage and has determined to get away to a fine start. In fact in these days of the N. R. A. the Newton lads can see nothing but "Newton Routs Arlington" in the letters. Although Coach Sanborn and his assistant, Charlie Considine have had but little more than two weeks to prepare the team for its first game and much of that time the weather has been decidedly unsuitable to football the team has progressed fully as well as could be expected. The Newton mentor has announced his starting line-up with all eight of the lettermen left from last year's team getting the call. The four backfield players are veterans. It is possible that two of these eight may not be able to play Saturday as they suffered slight injuries during scrimmage sessions early in the week. Teddy Johnson, veteran end, and Walter Rich, veteran guard, are the two who have been out of action but hope to be in condition to play. Johnson injured his knee and Rich an ankle. Otherwise the entire Newton squad is in good condition.

Captain Charlie Johnson is slated to lead the team on the field and take his position in the centre of the Newton line. Flanking him on the left side of the line will be Frank Joyce at guard, Ben Grow at tackle and Johnson on the wing. Grow is the huskiest lad on the entire Newton squad standing 6 ft. 1½ in. and weighing 185. If Johnson is not in shape he will be replaced by Jimmy Byrnes, hockey and baseball player as a sophomore last year. Byrne is one of a number of three-letter prospects in athletics during the coming season.

On the other side of the line will be Walter Rich or Sam Miller at guard, John Balkus at tackle and Bernie Finberg, a letter man, on the end. Other youths who probably will see action as reserves in the line are Ryan at right end, Kenneth Halliday and Dick Howe at the tackle berths, Gale Wisbach at left guard and Melvin Swig at centre. While only four of these lads, Thompson, Rich, Johnson and Finberg, have played varsity football before the line has been working smoothly together. Compared to the starting line a year ago which included Alex Kevorkian, Charlie Houghton, and other large rugged youths, the weight of the 1933 line is not impressive but it is probably a faster and a more unified line than that of a year ago.

The Newton backfield provides the team with a rugged offence although the inexperience of the entire squad has made it impractical to provide them with more than a few basic plays. As the season progresses more plays will be added. While it may be that no player in the squad has the individual brilliance of such backs as Warren Huston and Palmer Yorke of the 1932 outfit there is considerable potential power in the four backs who will take the field against Arlington. "Red" McCarthy will pilot the team at quarterback and the fiery topped youngster showed enough progress and promise a year ago to rate him as a possible star this season. He is strong and steady on the defense as well as being shifty and fast when carrying the ball. Bob Whitney at fullback can kick, run, and pass and is one of the best blocking backs in school. He may divide the season's honors with McCarthy. Coach Sanborn has two lads in the halfback positions who can also hold up their share of the burden. Lou Miller, the fastest man on the squad, and Charlie Mascia were substitutes last year only because of the presence of Huston, York, McCarthy and Whitney. Should Arlington wear down these four youths Coach Sanborn has another quartet who will be ready to go when called upon. They are Charlie Flagg, quarterback, "Babe" Feola, right halfback, Claude Frazier, left halfback and John Kulesca. Flagg is faster and heavier than a year ago when he missed making his letter by a small margin. A senior this year he is one of the leading all-round athletes in school being captain-elect of basketball and an infielder on the baseball team. He is battling the first string players for a starting berth all the way and in another week or two may earn such a position. Feola is small but is a hard-running clever dodger of the Albie Booth type of back. Frazier was one of the standouts on the intermediate varsity a year ago and while probably the least experienced of the reserve backfield group is giving his best all the time and learning fast. Kulesca is one of the few big boys on the team. He tips the scales at 185 and should be a great bucker such as Newton has not had for several years.

Arlington, however, is favored over the Newton clan. Coach Ostergren has a squad with a number of veterans who are capable of playing football the whole game. Despite the loss of big Eddie "Cornfed" Crovo, captain, and Al Pochini, from his 1932 backfield the Arlington mentor regards Walter McLean, a third back last year, as one of the coming sensations of the season. Arlington will also be without the services of its veteran end, Bill Clark, whose play last year, along with that of Crovo and Pochini, resulted in a 13 to 0 defeat for Newton. Many who saw the opening game a year ago regarded Arlington as a team which was then showing almost mid-season form and if the same holds true this year the Newton eleven will have a difficult task to turn the trick. Last year the Arlington defeat was the only one suffered by Newton throughout the season and a victory to start off with this year should give the local squad a great start on its way.

Again.. TERRAPLANE WINS! PIKES PEAK CLIMB!

Terraplane Smashes All-time Stock-car Record

A Hudson-built Terraplane has again won the annual Labor Day contest up Pikes Peak—the stiffest test of ruggedness and hill-climbing ability in America—and the Hudson Motor Car Company retains the coveted Penrose Trophy.

Just Like the Car You Buy

The Terraplane used in this great Pikes Peak contest was a regular stock-car, chosen at random from the factory assembly line by a representative of the American Automobile Association. Its stock-equipment was complete even to the spare tire and bumpers—it was an absolute duplicate of the Terraplanes you can see in any Hudson-Essex dealer's showroom.

Coming on top of 48 other official A. A. A. records, this new Terraplane victory establishes the Terraplane as the champion stock-car performer of all time. Yet these cars cost less to buy than any other cars in their class—the Six is the lowest-priced six, and the Eight is the lowest-priced straight eight, in America.

Go Terraplaning yourself and learn what motor car performance can be!

Rotary Club

"Herbert Hoover will attain fame in history as the last constitutional president," said Stanley Lovell of Watertown, in a scholarly discussion of "The Decline of Western Civilization," by Oswald Spengler, before the Newton Rotary Club on Monday. Mr. Lovell spoke most interestingly of the interpretive history of world events and its bearing on the prediction of major events as expounded by one of Europe's greatest intellectual powers, Oswald Spengler. According to the philosophy of Spengler, every world civilization passes through certain phases as historically demonstrated by the Egyptian, Chinese, and western civilizations. In the very first beginnings of a civilization, a visionary group of leaders predominated like artists, as exemplified by Leonarda Da Vinci and his contemporaries. Following this group is the clergy as leaders of a developing civilization. The bankers or business men, who view civilization in its monetary aspect, next promote a civilization personified by the Rothchilds and the Morgans. Following this group are the political leaders when eventually there is a development of a world city.

Spengler, contends, according to the speaker, that a democratic form of civilization develops from fear of a monarchy and will crumple unless its tenets live in the hearts of its people. Its corner stone is the ballot box where issues of the people are decided. The speaker, quoting the philosophy of Spengler, thought rather pessimistically that our present civilization was slowly burning itself out and that this era of Super Personalities was a departure from a constitutional and a democratic state. When party lines go, democracy goes.

The club had as guests, Burt Langan, California, Charles Jewett, Florida, and Otis Hawes, Carl Tiglof, Edwin Bond, and John Tufts, Watertown.

Earl S. Johnson of Newtonville was inducted into membership of the local club.

Kiwanis Club

The Newton Kiwanis Club met Tuesday, Sept. 19, at the Charles River Country Club and observed Constitution week.

Edward Griffin, Kiwanis Club soloist, rendered "The Home Road," Carpenter's patriotic song, with the club members joining in the chorus.

Clerk of Courts, James P. Gallagher, member of Newton Kiwanis, spoke on "American Citizenship," its obligations and privileges.

Hon. John F. Brennan, speaker of the day, took for his subject "To Deal with the Constitution and Inspire Better Citizenship." Mr. Brennan was President of the Massachusetts State Elks' Association, for two years. It was during his term in office that the Elk was placed on the Mohawk Trail.

He traced the beginnings of the Constitution of the United States and in eloquent and comprehensive fashion gave a scholarly oration on States and National rights.

Archie Bellinger has enrolled a large delegation of the club to go to St. Johnsbury, Vt., for the New England Kiwanis Convention on Sept. 24, 25 and 26.

ZONTA CLUB

The first meeting of the year of the Newton Zonta Club was held Monday, Sept. 18, at the Iris Garden House. The Club welcomed one new member, Miss Doris Lovett. Plans were suggested and projects discussed relative to the club's service work for the coming winter. Miss Ethel Gammons, the Newton delegate to the International Conference held in Chicago in June, gave an interesting account of the meeting. Mrs. Cora Sadler reported briefly but entertainingly the dinner given by the Cambridge Zonta in honor of Cora Mackenzie, the new president of Zonta International. The next meeting of the Club will be October 2nd. z

DANGER ON THE TURNPIKE

Turnpikes, like many other roads, are dangerous if not properly used. Likewise automobiles. The two together are often hazardous. In these days of many automobiles we believe a few highways such as the Worcester turnpike are necessary and that they should be built with a view to the future demands of traffic and the growth of population. Near the Worcester turnpike within the Newton city lines is considerable undeveloped land or land in the process of development. It would seem that little foresight had been used in failing to extend Walnut street across the turnpike at Newton Highlands as it used to be before the concrete highway was laid. Alderman McKay and the residents of the neighborhood are justified in their attempt to correct the situation. A crossing should be provided there if it is adequately controlled. Without a crossing it is dangerous to pedestrians who have occasion to cross at that point. While we are on the subject of dangerous points along the turnpike there is another which is fully as dangerous, if not more so, than that at Walnut street. We refer to the two underpasses at Quinobequin road and Chestnut street, Newton Upper Falls, where one fatal accident has already occurred. If the state authorities have not planned to provide some control at these points it should be done. The creation of the blind corners at these points, necessitated by the erection of the long bridge, and the resultant danger should be minimized as far as possible.

DUPLICATE STREET NAMES

The Newton Planning Board makes a well merited recommendation that the duplication of street names in Newton, of which there are several, be rectified by the renaming of one of two streets in each instance. The Board has shown considerable interest in this matter in the past few years in the naming of new streets and has been careful to prevent further duplication. The condition of duplication has existed for some time and it has often been confusing in various ways such as mail and package delivery, the directing of strangers, and occasionally in cases of fire.

Daylight saving ends Sunday morning at 2 A.M. Stop your clocks for one hour.

WELLESLEY CONCERTS

The concerts at Wellesley College have won for themselves a place in the affection and patronage of all music lovers in the Boston Suburbs and even in Boston itself. Our advertising column made it plain that unless subscribers pay up at once there is great danger that the contracts for the world-famous artists will be necessarily cancelled. It would be a pity if these famous concerts should fail of support. The appeal of the manager should be effective.

About Town

By Edward H. Powers

The late Dennis Shannon of Thornton street was one of the most energetic men ever in the employ of the City of Newton. It was commonly said that "Dinny", as he was familiarly known, did about three men's work. The citizens of Newton lost a valuable public servant by the death of Mr. Shannon.

Some wise individuals who profess to know a great deal about men and other creatures, assert that animals cannot reason. On our recent vacation we stopped at a gasoline filling station in St. Johnsbury, Vermont. Lying in the station yard was a large shaggy dog of doubtful breed. We spoke of the dog to the courteous young man who was in charge of the station.. He said the dog belonged to a neighbor of his and was a very intelligent animal. He told us that the canine made a practice of bringing sticks of firewood up from the cellar to the kitchen of the house where he was owned. His mistress would reward him with some scrap of food. One morning the dog brought up a piece of wood and was told by his mistress that she was too busy to bother giving him any bit of food. Whereupon, the dog took the piece of wood he had brought to the kitchen and carried it down cellar again.

In last week's GRAPHIC under "About Town" was an item suggesting that residents of Newton refrain from donating money to outsiders who come into this city seeking contributions as disabled soldiers, and give their assistance instead to Newton Veterans. The name and address of the Welfare Officer of Newton Post American Legion was given. The name and address of the Welfare Officer of Eugene Daley Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars was, through an error omitted. This officer of the Newton post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars is Stuart Evans, 7 Summer street, Newton Upper Falls. Donations of money or clothing for deserving Newton veterans and their families can be sent to Mr. Evans.

The past couple of years many of the gravel sidewalks at Newton Upper Falls have been improved by having been surfaced with a mixture of tar and crushed stone. Why not improve gravel sidewalks in other parts of the city in this way? Such streets as Pearl st., Newton; Adams and Watertown sts., Nonantum; River st., West Newton; and other streets where there is considerable pedestrian traffic.

Local People Interested in Children's Hosp.

Many local people, interested in the Children's Hospital on Longwood ave., Boston, will also be interested in a course of lectures to be given during the coming months in aid of that institution. The Welfare Committee, of which Mrs. Frank H. Stewart of Newton Centre and Mrs. Samuel D. Warren of Brookline are co-chairmen, has announced the course of twenty-five lectures to be given by Miss Eunice Harriet Avery on "Interpretations of World Affairs." The course will be given in the Georgian room of the Hotel Statler and will begin on Friday morning, October 20th. Each Friday from that date on the lectures will be given at 10.45 a. m.

Other Newton ladies on the committee are Mrs. Lawrence Black, secretary; Mrs. Samuel Eliot, Mrs. Thomas H. Lanman and Mrs. William L. Shearer, Jr.

MILADY BEAUTIFUL — practical and reliable beauty advice. Questions of readers answered every day in the Boston Globe. Every woman in New England should read the Household Pages in the Boston Daily and Sunday Globe.—Advertisement.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

Those who hold public office and continuously, year in and year out, seek reelection, probably regret they have only one life to give for their city.

Oddments

Of course, when I read the published statements of some of our best citizens, pleading for a reduction in the number of automobile disasters this Fall, I realized we were in the midst of a harvest of casualties. The thing didn't strike me forcibly, however, until I chanced to talk with the claim agent of one of the very largest accident insurance companies. He said, "Early September is the very highest spot attained in the number of injury claims. Labor Day tops all holidays, and all other days for that matter, in the total number of accidents of various causes. Everything that can happen to a policyholder happens at different times throughout the year, but on Labor Day all things happen to all policyholders."

One otherwise normal young friend of mine has an aversion for traffic lights. For some reason they constitute his pet abomination. Not being an active motorist I cannot appreciate his feelings, but I think I can understand them. No doubt, many drivers will sympathize with him. However, the other day he took me on the most zigzag, criss-cross, in-and-out and roundabout, although safe and otherwise sane route from Newton to Boston. He explained that after much close study he had charted the course himself. We encountered a minimum of traffic lights, and even less. It seemed a bit odd, but if my friend prefers that way of driving it's his privilege and my good fortune to be invited to ride with him.

When the Waves Break

It isn't a popular notion, I know, and yet there are people who, like myself, do not believe that radio is the greatest boon yet devised for policemen. The minority, of which I am a proud member, have an idea that veteran police officials know better than the general public or even elective officials and others in authority how the Garden City should be guarded. Although in possession of no evidence in support or against I still cling to the theory that radio worshippers were responsible for hurried installation in cities and towns of systems for broadcasting to cruising police cars.

I should be the last to deny the scheme has numerous advantages. What I refuse to accept is the assertion that it will revolutionize the police business. My contention is that it may produce a partial revolution but that patrolling on foot is still an important feature of police work. I prefer to take my information about the methods of preserving law and order from the bluecoats themselves, rather than salesmen, representatives of manufacturers and high-pressure publicity men.

Policemen are far more studious of methods than in the old days. More and more it is becoming a profession. Naturally, the prompt transmission of an emergency call from headquarters to a cruising car is essential in the apprehension of criminals. Under this plan of conveying intelligence only one way there seems to me a distinct obstacle. It is this—what assurance has headquarters that the call has been picked up? If the apparatus is working as it should there is no hitch, but suppose it is out of order. It's delicate and tubes can easily be broken by a jounce over a crossing or a manhole cover. Other little things may occur to put the whole thing out. Under such conditions I don't agree that the new system is perfect. My argument is that it isn't complete, that's all. Therefore, we await a setup of direct communication, back and forth, between headquarters and the roving auto. When that is established at a reasonable cost (let us say no more than the salaries of several foot patrolmen) we will have taken a wide step forward. But I contend that the old system of foot patrol had its merits and should not be tossed overboard until all the new wrinkles have been tested and proved of greater worth in every way.

Soothing Victory

Perseverance as a trait of character is always admired and sometimes receives deserved applause. The individual who gets what he is after should be and no doubt is satisfied with attainment of his objective. Sometimes it ends right there. He doesn't appear to enjoy any further that for which he has struggled, labored and fought. Strange, you'll admit.

This little ditty has for its chief actor a man whose persistent efforts to acquire something for nothing or gain admittance where uninvited has earned for him the title of chiseler. If degrees were to be conferred to those skilled in the science of chiseling his would be that of a master.

On this occasion he sought admission to the exercises of dedication of the new postoffice in Boston—wanted to sit in with the big fellows and would no doubt be pleased if mistaken for one of them. Plainly he was determined to be one of the select company whose names have already become immortal as having gathered on that auspicious day.

If you've observed men of his temperament pursuing their ambition you can picture this fellow running from the office of an influential citizen to another, telephoning out-of-town for the aid of a local statesman or "big squeeze" with a drag, or buttonholing a lesser light for his help in crashing the gate.

Success was his reward. Jubilantly he fittingly attired himself and was early on hand. But the exertions of the previous days demanded their toll. Our hero was happy but tired. In a front seat he radiated the feeling of triumph. But when the speechmaking began, fatigue overcame him and he dozed peacefully through a better part of the program.

A Lecture on Christian Science

Entitled

Christian Science: A Revelation of Love as Divine Principle

Miss Margaret Murney Glenn, C.S.B., of Boston, Massachusetts

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

A free public lecture on Christian Science was delivered under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Newton on Monday evening, September 18th, in the Newton Centre Woman's Club, Newton Centre square, and on Tuesday evening, September 19th, in the church edifice, Walnut and Otis streets, Newtonville. The lecturer, Miss Margaret Murney Glenn, C. S. B. of Boston, was introduced at the Monday evening lecture by Mrs. Helen P. Lawrence, Second Reader of the Church and on Tuesday evening by Mr. William S. Whitman, First Reader of the Church. Mr Whitman spoke as follows:

Friends:

This evening we are to have the pleasure of listening to a lecture on Christian Science, given by a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. Before introducing the lecturer, I wish in behalf of the members of this church, to extend to you a most cordial welcome.

The fact, that the teaching of Christian Science put into practice, heals all manner of sickness and sin, is gradually being accepted throughout the world. Through the writings of Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, we are learning how to make practical the truth of this statement found in her text book, Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures, "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need." The fulfillment of the promise contained in that statement, is attainable here and now, and careful attention to the message of our lecturer, will I feel sure, help to illumine the way for us.

It is my privilege and pleasure to introduce to you, Miss Margaret Murney Glenn, of Boston, who has taken for her subject, "Christian Science The Revelation of Love as Divine Principle."

Christian Science brings the comforting assurance to all men that there is a correct solution to every problem, whether the problem be one of human relationship, of sickness, sorrow, lack, temperamental weaknesses, or sin. Jesus proved this fact twenty centuries ago, but because his life and works are looked upon as miraculous or as a personal accomplishment, rather than as the result of Science, humanity in general, and Christianity in particular, have been unable to repeat those works.

Christian Science is based on the Bible, but it does not require that the Bible be accepted simply because it is the Bible, for this blind belief in the Scriptures does not make them understandable nor practical. Christian Science shows that there is a Science of the Scriptures which not only makes plain the events and statements contained therein, but enables us to repeat the works of the prophets, apostles, and Jesus, and to prove for ourselves the great fact brought out in the Bible, namely, that God, good, is all and that evil and materiality are therefore powerless and non-existent.

In a general way, science is that which is subject to proof. Jesus gave proof of his teachings, which were based on the Old Testament, thus showing that those Scriptural writings were scientific or subject to proof. Christian Science gives proof of the teachings contained in the New Testament, thus confirming the scientific nature of these writings. Through "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, has restored to us the Science of the Bible, of both the Old and New Testaments, so that we too can understand and prove the scientific truth of their statements.

Mrs. Eddy gives the reason for the loss of the Science of the Scriptures and the scientific religion which Jesus taught, in the following words: "There was never a religion or philosophy lost to the centuries except by sinking its divine Principle in personality" (The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Miscellany, p. 117), and, "The religious departure from divine Science sprang from the belief that the man Jesus, rather than his divine Principle, God, saves man, and that materia medica heals him" (ibid., p. 348). In order, then, to solve in a scientific way the many problems which come into the experience of every individual, and to be happy, healthy, intelligent, unlimited and free, we must understand God as divine Principle.

GOD IS DIVINE PRINCIPLE

The very first verse of the Bible indicates God's nature as divine Principle. It states: "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth." The word "principle" comes from a Latin root, meaning the beginning, the foundation, or the first and in several Latin texts of the Bible this verse reads, "In Principle God created the heaven and the earth." This name Principle for God reveals Him as the beginning, foundation, or primal cause of all creation; in other words, of man and the universe.

Isaiah, Zechariah, and Amos perceived and described God's exact, undeviating, absolute nature as Principle when they beheld Him expressed as a plummet or plumbline. Amos describes his concept of God as one with a plumbline in His hand, standing on a wall made by a plumbline, and as saying, "Behold, I will set a plumbline in the midst of my people Israel." That which is plumb is exact, level, true, and a plumbline is used for the measurement of perpendicularity or uprightness. Could Mrs Eddy have found a better name than Principle to express this undeviating exact, upright nature of God?

John refers to the divine manifestation of God as the Word. When you give your word about anything, it is supposed to be an assurance or a promise that is dependable and irrevocable. So God's Word is the immutable, reliable, absolute assurance of God's being, and this irrevocable perfect Word of God we know as law or Science. Law must be, is, perfect immutably right and eternally active in order to be law; therefore it has its source in Principle. Such law is Science, and is demonstrable. Any mode or motion which is subject to fallibility or improper action ceases at that moment to be law. Mrs. Eddy defines Christian Science "as the law of God, the law of good, interpreting and demonstrating the divine Principle and rule of universal harmony" (Rudimental Divine Science, p. 1).

GOD THE DIVINE PRINCIPLE OF HARMONY

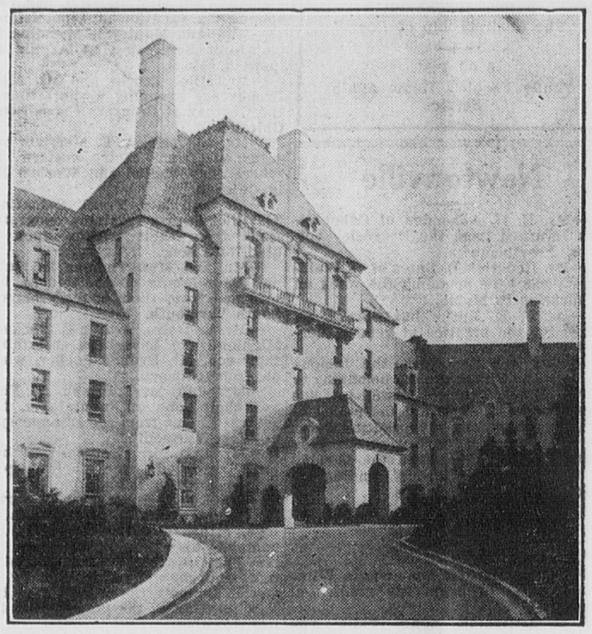
What is it that we all want to bring out or demonstrate in our lives? Is it not harmony—mental and physical harmony? To be harmonious means to be free from dissension, confusion, fear, discord, suffering, and misunderstanding; it means to be conscious of peace, love, health, perfect activity; in other words, it means to be conscious of our true individuality, which is the creation, or manifestation, of Principle, God.

Even as music expresses the principle of harmony, so man expresses the divine Principle of harmonious being. Just as each musical tone has its exact mathematical relation to every other tone, so every individual man has his right relationship to every other individual in the universe of God, or Principle, and this exact and perfect relationship is harmony There may be some who believe that they have very discordant relationships with their business associates, with members of their household, or with those who they meet socially. By pursuing the same course that you would with a musical problem you will solve these problems. If you found a discord in your musical composition, you would eliminate it and replace it with some harmony which would bring out the beauty of music. You would not delay your work by wondering where this discord came from, or why it was there, nor would you indulge in the belief that this discord was somebody's fault; but you would know it was no part of your composition, and therefore you would not be interested in it. Your understanding of harmony would absolutely free you from the belief that this discord could have any actuality or existence as music. Apply divine Principle, or Love, to your human problem in just this same way. If you are not understood in your home, if you seem to be unhappy, do not waste time wondering why you have this problem, thinking it is somebody's fault, or that this discord is an insurmountable actuality which must be endured, for from the standpoint of Christian Science it is no part of the harmony of your divine Principle, nor of your individuality. There are no ill-arranged, discordant individuals in the harmonious universe of divine Principle, which is Love, and your understanding of this fact will eliminate such a situation from your experience. This may seem a beautiful but impractical theory to one who has the evidence before his eyes of unkindness, carping criticism, envy, hatred, nagging, dissatisfaction, or ingratitude. Christian Science does not indicate that these problems are easy to solve, but it does offer the solution and it is certainly much easier to solve a problem, no matter how long it takes, than to ignore it, or to endure it with suppressed resentment, hopelessness, sorrow, fear, or hatred.

Because the musician has the evidence of a discord on the music-sheet before his eyes, and because he hears this discord, he does not conclude that it is therefore real, or a part of music. He corrects what he sees and hears physically with what he understands of harmony. This is what the Christian Scientist does, and he does it constantly; he corrects the false suggestions and impressions obtained through the physical senses with what he understands of the perfection and harmony of his divine Principle and his own being as the individual expression of this Principle. This is purely a mental process, but the solution is discernible to the human senses. A discord in music is merely a mistaken or ignorant sense of music. A discord in our human experience is merely a mistaken or ignorant concept of Principle and its idea, or expression, man. When you discern the fact of man's perfect relationship to his fellow man, the mistaken, discordant concept of this fact vanishes and the human situation is governed by, and manifests, the fact instead of the false concept, or discord. Admittedly evil, error, and discord are unprincipled, therefore without a foundation or cause, and divine Principle, which is harmony's selfhood, causes man to be harmonious.

MAN'S INDIVIDUALITY

This true idea of man reveals that he has a perfect individuality which is like its origin, divine Principle. Mrs. Eddy says of it (Science and Health, p. 491): "Man's spiritual individuality is never wrong. It is the likeness of man's Maker. . . . Personality is not the individuality of man." Nothing could be of more interest to each one of us than our true selfhood or individuality. We cannot possibly share wisdom, love, or happiness with another until we have proved that these things constitute our individuality and that we therefore possess them. You would not attempt to share money you did not have with another, so you cannot share happiness or love with another until you have proved that they are part of your own individuality. Claim your individuality which is always right, which is spiritual, perfect, good, infinitely intelligent, and free, and you will thus reclaim it from the limited, suffering material beliefs which seem to surround and hide it. When a sculptor chisels out of marble his work of art, there is nothing in the block of marble which indicates the model he has in thought. But he cuts away all that is unlike his mental model, until only the model remains depicted there. Man's individuality is God's mental and spiritual model or ideal. As human beings behold and love man's true individuality they too are able to do away with the personal concepts of man which, like the marble, have hidden this perfect model.



Exterior view of the Sanatorium of Christian Science Benevolent Association on Pacific Coast, at San Francisco, California.

Love your true individuality, which is never wrong. Rejoice in and cherish the loving, intelligent, harmonious thoughts and ideas that constitute this individuality. Then from this standpoint of love you will be able to reject the unworthy, limited, sick, and sinful beliefs that are claiming to be man. We can never love man's, in other words our, true individuality too much. In fact, the more you love it the more you will live it.

Is not this what Jesus meant when he gave us the standard of our love for others, namely, that we should love them as ourselves? Because mankind has not understood this command, it has ignored the part about loving ourselves, and tried to love others. Only by loving our true God-like selfhood sufficiently to be able to unsee and do away with the disturbing, suffering, envious, unhappy, impatient, loveless qualities which are claiming to hide this perfect model, are we in a position to love others out of their false beliefs of personality. Unless you have loved your true being sufficiently to be able to prove something of man's perfection in yourself, you will not be able to love another enough to do this for him. Prove for yourself that man's individuality is the idea of Principle, that it is wholly pure and free, and you will then be able to demonstrate for others what you have proved for yourself, namely, that "man's spiritual individuality is never wrong."

You may wonder if it is not hypocritical to claim a perfect sinless selfhood when you seem to have false desires, bad habits, and a distressing temperament. These things are the qualities which constitute the flesh and are enmity against God, the Principle of your individuality. They are the false, lying testimony of the material senses about your true being, so that to identify yourself with them is hypocritical, whereas identifying yourself with good, with God, our Father-Mother, is truthful. Ally yourself with good, claim it as your individuality, and this false limited concept, called personal desires, personal traits, faults, and fears, will disappear. This affirmation on the side of good will free from sin and sickness, for it has God, divine Principle, with it.

This truth was experienced by a young woman who had been left alone in an apartment in a foreign city. Shortly after her family had left, she heard the front door open and saw a man go by her room to her mother's room. After she had overcome her fear by knowing that God, good, was the only presence, she went into her mother's room and found that he was engaged in taking some jewelry out of a bureau drawer. Convinced that man's true individuality is good, therefore honest, she said to the man: "You don't want to do this. You really don't want to steal." The man was amazed, but as she continued to affirm the perfection, purity, and loveliness of his true individuality as God's image, he dropped the pistol he had pointed at her, thanked her, and quietly went away. It was love that arrested that man's act—that love which saw not the block of rough ugly marble, the false personality, but which beheld the individuality of man which is God's idea and never wrong. It is the erroneous, loveless, sinful concept of us which is hypocritical, for it claims to be what it is not, namely man. Mrs. Eddy says (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 104): "Clothed, and in its right Mind, man's individuality is sinless, deathless, harmonious, eternal. His materiality, clad in a false mentality, wages feeble fight with his individuality,—his physical senses with his spiritual senses . . . In obedience to the divine nature man's individuality reflects the divine law and order of being. How shall we reach our true selves Through Love." Jesus never ignored forgot, belittled, or condemned his individuality, but he recognized that it was one with the Father, embraced in divine Love, endued with the omnipotence, omniaction, and omniscience of its divine source, or Principle. Because he proved the divine nature of man's true selfhood, of our true selfhood, he was able to prove the spiritual selfhood of everyone who came to him, limited by the false concept of a personality opposed to Principle.

We never think of condemning Jesus because he was tempted, because we see so clearly that these temptations were unlike his true character and he proved this to be true. We need never condemn ourselves because temptation claims to come to us, for temptation is the exact opposite of our true individuality. Self-condemnation never overcame a temptation, for self-condemnation expresses the belief that evil has a personality through which to act. Condemnation of one's self or another has never healed a case or overcome a temptation. It has simply lengthened the struggle with temptation. But condemnation to its nothingness of the lie, the personal sense of man, releases us from bondage to its suggestions. Man's true individuality is the idea or creation of divine Principle, or Love, so it can never be governed or influenced by envy, fear, hatred, or revenge, all of which are unprincipled qualities. These things are as foreign to man as they are to God.

PERSONALITY IS NOT INDIVIDUALITY

If through fear or limitation we have placed a cherished or valuable possession where it does not belong and we have been given for it something less than its value, the only way we can recover this possession is by redeeming it through an exchange of some sort. This illustrates what has happened to our concept of man's true individuality and what is necessary to recover it. Through fear and a sense of limitation mankind has placed its concept of man in matter, where he never belonged nor could be, and the only way to redeem mankind from this limitation is by exchanging the human concept of man for the true idea of his spiritual individuality. This human concept is a corporeal, imperfect, limited, unhappy, sick, and sinful concept of man, which we call personality. Sometimes this personality seems good as well as evil, and to be capable of harmony as well as discord; in fact, to be contradictory in its nature; so it could never be the expression of Principle, and could therefore never be man's individuality. Personality is the opposite of Principle, for it expresses and is governed by whims, caprices, material circumstances—by the supposition that man is mortal. It is impossible to understand personality, for it does not think or act according to Principle.

As you probably know, the word person comes from the Latin word, persona, or mask, and its root meaning is, "to sound through." Actors formerly used these masks to hide their own individuality, and to project through them the personalities they were portraying. The character of man cannot be expressed through a mask or person, through the five material senses or through material sensation, for this mask seems to hide man's true individuality from our view. The only way we can behold our true individuality as God's image is by removing this mask, called personality, and exchanging this personal, limited concept of man for the true idea of man, as healthy, harmonious joyous, and free.

In the allegory related in Genesis, the belief or theory that man is a material person capable of knowing and expressing more than God knows, namely, of knowing and expressing evil, the opposite of good, God, was presented through a lying serpent God beheld all that He created as very good, so this suggestion that man can behold, see, or feel something outside of God's knowing must be a lie. Of course, Eve is not the only person who has entertained or been entertained by this serpentine suggestion that man can know, see and feel evil, which includes sin, disease, and death. However, the way to handle this serpentine talker was clearly shown to Adam and Eve, for the Lord God said to the serpent "Upon thy belly shalt thou go, and dust shalt thou eat all the days of thy life."

If this is Truth's fiat to the suggestion that man is an evil and good personality, let us side with Truth God, and let the serpent go on its belly—in other words, let us not give this lie about man a leg to stand on Also let us uphold the dictum of Mind that the serpent be fed with dust, with nothingness. There is no life, intelligence, or sustenance in dust. When we believe that personality with its sin, sickness, and death constitutes man, or our true individuality, that it has reality, presence, life, we are not feeding the serpent with the dust of nothingness.

Jesus unmasked this serpentine suggestion when he said of it, "When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it." When this serpentine lie of personality tries to tempt us it does not say, "I, the serpent," or, "I, the corporeal senses," or, "I, error, am sick," but "I, John Smith, or I, Mary Hall" (whatever our names may be), "am sick, sinful, unhappy, discouraged, or afraid." This lie claims to be our ego or being, our thinking or mind, and to have a personality which it calls ours, through which to express itself. Then through this personality, or mask, the suggestions are voiced: "I am without supply, without work; I am useless; or, I want to indulge in sin." This is but the lie talking about itself; for, as Jesus said, "When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own;" in other words, it is showing up its own nature as discouraged, afraid, lacking, inactive, or unhappy. Jesus taught us the proper way to treat this lie, which is talking about itself, when he said, "Agree with thine adversary quickly, whiles thou art in the way with him." Agree that the suggestions which are adverse to your happiness, health, supply, harmony, and holiness are talking about themselves, their own false concepts, but that these suggestions are not true of you, the perfect likeness of God. Agree that it is the true nature of the adversary to be discouraged, unhappy, afraid, and lacking, and that it has every reason to be so, for it has no Principle to support it, no Life to make it active no Love to make it happy, no God or good to sustain it. Admit that this adverse thinking, this lie, is talking about itself, not about you, man, the image of God; therefore it is not affecting, governing, or influencing you in any way.

Mrs. Eddy relates the following in "Miscellaneous Writings" (p. 224): "A courtier told Constantine that a mob had broken the head of his statue with stones. The emperor lifted his hands to his head, saying: 'It is very surprising, but I don't feel hurt in the least.' ". So, when a lying suggestion talks to you about its false, material, personal concept of you, man, you can feel as assured as did Constantine that you are not hurt, sick, sinful, or discouraged, because this false concept, this personality which is a material image of your individuality, has never been you, and because it is not God-created it does not exist.

Recently a Christian Scientist told me of the experience which brought her to Christian Science. Her little girl was in the hospital about to have an operation. The child's suffering seemed so intense and the means for overcoming it so inadequate that the mother rushed from the hospital in despair, not knowing where to turn for help. She met a friend on the street, to whom she poured out her troubles. This friend invited her to attend a Christian Science Sunday service. The mother consented and went with her friend. At that service a little boy sat next to her who seemed to be suffering from some physical difficulty. During the reading of the Lesson-Sermon from the Bible and the Christian Science textbook the boy was completely healed. On seeing this wonderful healing the mother of the little girl could not but marvel, and as she left the church she spoke to one of the ushers about it, asking him what had produced this healing. He told her that the Word of God in the Bible was as powerful today as in Jesus' time, and recommended that she study it in conjunction with "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." This she did at the same time asking for Christian Science treatment for the little girl, who was also beautifully healed. She told me that her gratitude for the services in the Christian Science churches was greater than words could express, for they were indeed a service of good, of healing, and of love to all who would but accept their loving invitation and partake of the "cup of cold water" they offer each one in the congregation.

What had happened to this little girl and her mother? A false, personal, sick concept of man had been exchanged for a glorious, perfect concept of him as God's idea. Man's true individuality had been brought to light, as healthy and harmonious.

Jesus always distinguished between his personality and his individuality, and it is this which Christian Science enables us to do for ourselves and others; for man's individuality, his true character, is the image and likeness of God, the effect of the one and only cause, the idea, or expression, of Principle. Jesus said, "He that seeth me seeth him that sent me," and, "If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also." He must have been referring in these two instances to his individuality, or true selfhood, which is the image and likeness of God. There were many who had seen Jesus' personality, or corporeality, who had never perceived the true nature of God, so he could not have meant these; for, although they had seen his personality, they had not seen his true being, or individuality. Whenever you see your own or another's lovable, loving, and perfect character, you are seeing the Father manifested; in other words, you are seeing divine Principle, Love, and Life expressed.

Copies of the Christian Science Lecture in this issue may be obtained at the Newton Graphic Office, 11 Centre Ave., Newton, Mass. Tel. New. No. 4354.

Mrs. Eddy states: "Jesus' personality in the flesh, so far as material sense could discern it, was like that of other men; but Science exchanges this human concept of Jesus for the divine ideal, his spiritual individuality that reflected the Immanuel, or 'God with us'" (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 103). This is what Christian Science does for each one of us; it exchanges the human concept of us for the divine ideal, or our true individuality. Has it ever occurred to you that no one has ever seen and never will see his own face? You have seen the reflection of your face in a mirror, so you know what it is like, and you have probably said or thought as you looked at your reflection, "I see my face." This is not true, however, but because this reflection is exactly like your face, you have seen your face reflected. Actually you have never seen anyone else's face, for all that you perceive in looking at another is a reflection of his face on the retina of your own eye. If, then, we are satisfied that we have seen ourselves as human beings when we see an exact likeness or a reflection in the mirror, and that we have seen others when we see an image or exact likeness pictured on the retina, why cannot we easily accept the fact that when we see the exact likeness of God known as man, or our true individuality, we have seen God reflected; as Jesus so clearly explained when he said, "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father."

PRINCIPLE IS LOVE

No one can ever be deprived of the divine Principle of man's being, for it is universal, impartial, everywhere present. Does not this impartiality, universality, invariability, ever-presence, and harmony reveal divine Principle to be Love?

This view of Love as Principle may be entirely new to many, but this new view need not seem strange, cold, or distant, for when you analyze it you will find that this name best expresses your ideal of Love. First and foremost, we always love what we understand, and we understand what we love. If there is someone we do not seem to love, this lack of love would vanish before an understanding of his true motives and aims, his character, or individuality. If we do not understand him, it is because we do not love enough. Love and understanding are indissolubly linked. Principle is understandable, and it imparts understanding. That which is unprincipled can never be understood. One can only theorize, wonder, or guess about that which is not scientific, not based on Principle.

Ideal love could not be variable, fickle, or inconstant, but it consists of deeds which give proof of its being love. Principle alone can be the foundation, source, or cause of such ideal love, for Principle is invariable, changeless, provable. Jesus said, "If ye love me, keep my commandments," in other words, give proof of or demonstrate the laws which I have lived and proved, and you will be manifesting Love. Jesus did not say that we were to love or worship his personality, but that we were to love and live according to the Principle of his being which had given him the law or the commandments. Thus, we would be loving Jesus' divine Principle and his true individuality. Love for another's personality never enables us to emulate the works of that individual. For instance, you may love the personality of a musician, but that would never make you a musician; whereas love for, and practice of, the principle of music and its harmonies would not only enlighten you as to the rules of harmony, and show you how to obey them, but would give you an understanding of that which motivated the musician in his works and his acts as a musician. When two or more individuals understand and practice the same Principle they understand or love each other, and in this is true unity.

TRUE FRIENDS
JESUS

Jesus said to his disciples, "I have called you friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you." It was not because of what they had done for him that Jesus called them friends, but because he had shared with them that which he had heard of his Father. This made him the greatest, most understanding, and most comforting friend mankind has ever had. It also gave the world an unselfed standard for friendship such as it had never had before. Only when we share with another the true ideas which come to us from God are we treating another as a friend. When we impart the suggestions of depression, discouragement, and unemployment that are trying to make themselves real to us today, we are not sharing the truth about man's perfect individuality which is never wrong, and which therefore lacks nothing, and we are not treating others in a very friendly manner.

MARY BAKER EDDY

Much has been written within the last few years about the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, for the false impression seems to persist that the Christian Science movement was and is dependent on her personality. As long as the statements in her books can be and are proved to be true, the Christian Science movement will continue, and Mrs. Eddy's place as the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, as well as its Leader, will remain inviolate.

The discovery of Christian Science was not dependent upon Mrs. Eddy's personality. It was the divine Principle of man and the universe, rending the veil of personality or the corporeal concept of man and revealing itself as a Science, through man's individuality which is never wrong, and which is the likeness of divine Principle. Mrs. Eddy, through her love for God and man, had so far overcome the beliefs which constituted a mortal personality that she became conscious of her true individuality as an idea of God, and of the Science which revealed the truth about God and man. Like Jesus, she shared with us that which she heard of the Father, and she did this in the way that God inspired and led her, through her written works, through the establishment of the Christian Science church. Should anyone care to know the salient events of her life which led her to this discovery and to the founding of this great movement, they will find her autobiography, "Retrospection and Introspection," most inspiring and instructive. The fact that this autobiography contains but ninety-five pages, much of which is taken up with statement of Christian Science, indicates how little she made of her personal life and how carefully she held Truth before her readers. Christian Scientists are grateful that she has shared with them, and all mankind, that which she heard of the Father, and that she has thus expressed true friendship for all. Only Love begets love. Mrs. Eddy not only discovered, but she proved, that Love is the divine Principle of man, and that man's individuality reflects the wisdom, love, health, and Science of this Principle. She cherished no hatred towards those who misunderstood and maligned her and her great work, but she wrote, "Each day I pray: 'God bless my enemies; make them Thy friends; give them to know the joy and the peace of love'" (Miscellany, p. 220).

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Christian Science comes to you today as a friend, for all it has to give is that which cometh from the Father, from divine Principle. It makes clear to us Love's nature and presence and reveals man's true character. It is because Christian Science makes plain to us God's nature as demonstrable Principle, because it interprets God, man, and the universe to us, that it is our friend and comforter, for Jesus said that the Comforter, or spirit of Truth, "shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak." This Comforter makes plain to us the words and works of Jesus and gives us an understanding of the divine Principle of those works, thus inspiring us to do the same works. What it did for the disciples after Jesus left them it is doing for us today, namely, it gives us an understanding of and love for Truth.

Let us examine some of the ways Christian Science is befriending and comforting us today. Consider the present world situation with regard to unemployment, depression, and overproduction. Christian Science will give you an understanding of that which it has heard from the Father; in other words, of that which comes from intelligent Mind, and it will show you that this is demonstrable, or provable, in your experience. If I may express it so, Christian Science will present and interpret God's viewpoint—the viewpoint of Principle, which is Truth. Really this is the only viewpoint to be considered, for man and the universe express the thought of that Mind which created them. So for a moment let us look out on the universe and man from the standpoint of God, Principle.

God is forever employing man to express good, love, the abundance of Mind's ideas, so you, man, are never without employment. God makes use of every one of us to express Himself, and as He is Mind our employment is wholly a mental activity. There is no lack of employment in God's kingdom, which, as Jesus said, is "within you"—which is within your consciousness, here and now. If this is true, that we are all employed now, what is it keeps us from seeing and experiencing this fact? It must be a state of mesmerism, for if we are deceived into believing that a situation exists which has no truth in it, this belief must be a condition of mesmerism. In this case the mesmerism is induced by fear, depression, anxiety, and mental contagion. These suggestions have no mind to employ them. They are simply lies of the serpent, trying to make us believe that God, good, is not present. Feed them with dust. Know that they come from nowhere, lead nowhere, and are nothing because God did not create them. These suggestions cannot employ your thought, for God alone employs man to express Himself.

In one of his parables Jesus relates that a certain man who was going away gave each of his servants a different number of talents and told them, "Occupy till I come." The conclusion of the parable shows that this man expected the talents to increase through utilization. Although Jesus was speaking of money, we can apply this parable to our mental and spiritual talents and abilities.

There can be no superfluous supply in God's kingdom, for Mind employs every one of its ideas or creations. Occupy your thought with these truths until they come to your human experience as demonstrated Truth. Think encouraging, loving, joyous thoughts, until the mesmerism of fear and depression has vanished and the result of your right thinking which is based on a demonstrable Principle has come. Let God employ your thought.

Superfluity, overproduction, and unemployment cannot be true, Godlike conditions, for they are based on the erroneous assumption that something exists which is not utilized. Only through utilization do we become conscious of supply, for supply is activity. Money which is buried in the ground or hoarded is not supply, nor is it even a reserve of supply, but merely an expression of fear, of lack, miserliness, or ignorance,—a dead belief of matter doing nothing.

Utilize your talents. But you may answer that you are not given the opportunity to utilize them. God who has given us our talents gives the opportunity or occasion to utilize them. But perhaps we are seeking in the wrong direction for this opportunity. We may believe that somebody ought to give us opportunity, or that our experience in a certain line of work should assure us of opportunity, or that some corporation ought to engage us. When we admit these suggestions we are turning away from the source of opportunity, which is God, who affords man "fresh opportunities every hour," as Mrs. Eddy says (Christian Healing, p. 19).

A person who is looking for employment and who is taking along the belief with him that he is without occupation, will see that belief manifested wherever he goes. But if he goes forth occupying his thought with the truth that he is employed of God and that whatever he is doing, even though to the human senses it may be looking for work, is his opportunity to manifest this truth, such a one will find that the mesmerism of lack, or unemployment, and depression have disappeared from his experience.

It is God's law that we use our talents. This does not mean that because our talent is for architecture we must have work as an architect, but it does mean that the constructive thinking which made us architects has to be employed, for this thinking is the real talent. If we are musicians, the harmonious thinking which has made us musical will have to be persistently used. If we are chemists, our talent for analysis, for understanding the constituency or true nature of things, will have to be utilized. And if we believe we have no talent, this is because we have not recognized that we possess the greatest talent of all, namely, the ability to think intelligently, lovingly, courageously, according to the demands of Principle. Occupy your thought with your true God-given talents, until the mists of fear, doubt, and depression have disappeared and the truth of your being has come, in other words is made apparent, and you see that you are occupied, in your right place, manifesting the abundance of God.

This is but one of the countless ways in which Christian Science is our friend. This Science makes God, as divine Principle, ever available to us. It lifts love out of personal sense with its whims and caprices, likes and dislikes, and places it on high as a divine, demonstrable, impartial, universal Principle, which is forever with us. The friendliness of this divine Principle, Love, is beautifully depicted in one of Mrs. Eddy's much loved poems (Poems, p. 7):

"Thou to whose power our hope we give,
Free us from human strife.
Fed by Thy love divine we live,
For Love alone is Life;
And life most sweet, as heart to heart
Speaks kindly when we meet and part."

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

The semi-annual meeting of the District Council will be held next Monday evening, September 25, at 8 P. M. in the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville. All ministers, superintendents and selected representatives from churches in the District are invited to attend this meeting.

After the regular business has been transacted, an address on "Religious Education, the vital task of the church" will be given by Rev. Daniel W. Staffeld of Quincy. Dr. Staffeld was formerly in charge of the religious education department of the Minneapolis Council of Churches, and comes with a wide background of experience in such work.

A round-table discussion on Administrative Problems and Plans will take place after the address. Dr. Mark H. Ward, president, will preside. Bulletins for the District School of Religious Education and other materials for church school work will be distributed.

The District Executive Secretary has visited during the past week two local church school teachers' meetings, Waltham, Beth Eden and Watertown Baptist. In both of these churches the minister is giving a course on Wednesday evenings that is open to all adults, and especially useful to Sunday School teachers. In Waltham the topic is "The Growth of the Idea of God" and the classes will precede the prayer meeting and are under the religious education committee of the church. In Watertown the topic is "The Four Gospels."

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

What is your opinion of the professional services of a woman doctor? See Kay Francis in "Mary Stevens, M.D.," at the Paramount next week starting Sunday and you might change your opinion.

One of the strangest stories of a triangular love affair is told involving Kay Francis, the star, Lyle Talbot and Thelma Todd.

A boy and a girl study medical surgery together, pass their apprenticeship as internes in the same hospital and set up practice in adjoining offices, their friendship ripening into love.

The ambition of the man, however, sees an opportunity in a marriage with the daughter of a powerful politician. So the childhood sweetheart steps aside.

It is not until the man gets entangled in domestic scandal and financial entanglements that she goes to him.

On the same program will be Slim Summerville and Zasu Pitts in "Her First Mate"—in one of the funniest screen dramas in years. For the last half of the week Clive Brook and George Raft will co-star in "Midnight Club." Preston Foster in "The Man Who Dared" completes the program. The usual added attraction on Saturday afternoon for the children includes vaudeville and a serial "Fighting with Kit Carson."

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

The first local club to hold a meeting opening the new season 1933-1934 is the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C., which meets on Monday afternoon, September 25th, at 2:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Helen Ward, Wood End road. Miss Anna Thompson will have charge of the program, this being the presentation of "Sitka, The Portal to Romance," by Barret Willoughby.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Attention of members of the Newtonville Woman's Club is called to the approaching annual contribution of jellies, jams, old linen, and cotton for the Newton Hospital. Mrs. Henry J. Baringer, chairman of the Hospital committee, will ask for the contributions the latter part of November, and hopes that all club members will keep this in mind.

The Club is now entering its fiftieth year and when formed in April 1884 (to quote the "Mirror" of Newton) "its principal philanthropic charge was the Newton Hospital which then existed only in embryo, but money was laid aside and its first expenditure was for the furnishing of the dining room." Mrs. Baringer's committee will be glad and proud if it can present this year the largest contribution which the Club has ever made.

General Federation

PRESIDENT'S GREETINGS. Clubwomen welcome a message from their leader Grace Morrison Poole, that is only a forerunner of the many interesting, vital reports that will come during the fall weeks, following the return of the members of the World Tour. Women in the United States realize that in this spirited, informed woman they have a world figure, and they are proud of the place she has attained in world affairs. Only those who move in a limited circle or are bound by their own limited affairs that loom large in their own esteem but are, indeed, small in the scope of world events, fail to realize that the president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs is known, admired, and respected worldwide. And this is not alone because she is the president of this national organization of the United States. This place she had held for many years because of her personal attainments and knowledge, the latter gained by yearly travels into many countries, and which she has applied to her keen intellect so that she has been recognized in every high circle. Admitted to the conferences of the World Court and of the League of Nations, she has had an honor given to few people, men or women, and this privilege was hers many years before she became president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

The World Tour of prominent clubwomen, led by Mrs. Poole, comes to an end this month, and with it has arrived the first greeting from the General Federation president, written from London; a friendly, intimate letter that will interest clubwomen; and that she says will be read about the time the party sails for home. Detailed records of events and Mrs. Poole's own impressions of history-making in Europe, in more secretarial style, are promised in the near future. She writes:

"Dear Clubwomen of the General Federation:

"It's a great temptation for me to write a travel letter telling you of our calm crossing, the friendly welcome from the officers of the American Women's Club of London, the never-to-be-forgotten Garden Party given us by Lord and Lady Lee at their beautiful estate, White Lodge, a royal residence, through the courtesy of the Women's Club, and the delightful Tea at the Embassy when we were the guests of Ambassador and Mrs. Bingham, but my space is so limited that I am going to talk at length about our Dinner and the distinguished speakers who addressed us.

"We had as our special guests the officers and chairmen of the American Women's Club. Our speakers were the Hon. Ray Atherton, Counselor for the Embassy, representing the Ambassador; the Hon. Vyvyan Adams, member of the House of Commons from Leeds; and our own Hon. Ruth Bryan Owen, Minister to Denmark, who happened to be in London. These three outstanding speakers made us realize our heavy responsibilities today in history-making. Mr. Atherton spoke on the Economic Conference. Now that it has adjourned do you wonder as I do just why we ever expected the millennium at this particular time. But the feeling is quite prevalent over here that the Conference cleared away some preliminary hurdles that will make a second sitting a little later on a smoother and happier one. We were all proud to hear the words of praise from Mr. Atherton for our Secretary fo State, Mr. Hull. More than once he saved the Conference from dissolution.

"Mr. Adams was a bit of a pessimist, and still it is well for us to realize that extreme nationalism may prove the tinder box to start a world conflagration. He made a strong plea for a sympathetic understanding of the achievements of the League of Nations and the active cooperation of the United States.

"Then came the spirited challenge from Mrs. Owen to our delegation. She showed us the strategic position women hold in bringing the world into lasting peace. I wonder if you realize just how fortunate we are in having Mrs. Owen as our first woman minister. She is the daughter of a man who was years ahead of his time, who knew that civilization simply could not survive if man's inventive genius was allowed to run riot on the so-called art of war. People called him a visionary and dreamer, and so he was, but how uncannily prophetic he has proved to be.

"Three things have particularly impressed me here. I have found very, very little of the Buy British propaganda and the feeling of th people towards us has been uniformly friendly. Then the amazing interest shown in our President and his policies is met everywhere. There is no question that if we succeed in this partnership between the gov ernment and private industry we are going to be rather generally copied by those nations who are today living in fear of the two extremes of ultra-conservatism and ultra-radicalism.

"At our Dinner the other evening we, of course, toasted the King and our President. It is a custom we might well follow in the United States; not drinking a toast to the King, of course, but to our own Chief Executive. We make the grave mistake these days of failing to keep the balance between personality and position. The President of these United States is the chief executive of our nation. That fact cannot be too strongly instilled into the minds of our young people and our elders as well. Lack of respect towards those in authority can be a most dangerous cancer eating into our national good health. We can well afford to take a leaf from Britain's government notebook along this particular line with great profit to ourselves.

Faithfully yours,
"GRACE MORRISON POOLE."

ENDORSES NRA. No one who knows Mrs. Poole's background will be surprised that she has been appointed by General Hugh Johnson, who heads President Roosevelt's National Industrial Recovery Administration, a member of the Consumers' Advisory Board of this Administration. The duties of the Board are to safeguard the interests of the consumer, especially in regard to prices and quality of commodities in the reorganization of industry which is taking place under the National Recovery Act.

Naturally, therefore, the General Federation endorsed this campaign of President Roosevelt's, and naturally, too, National Headquarters of the General Federation, at 1734 N street, Northwest, Washington, D. C., was among the first in the nation's capital to display the now renowned Blue Eagle.

As naturally, as soon as clubwomen throughout the country learned this, women's clubs everywhere followed suit in cooperating in the work. Women immediately accepted chairmanships of local committees for the NRA program, and literally thousands of letters flooded Headquarters declaring that clubwomen wanted to "fall in line" and to help in the campaign so endorsed. More business firms wrote commendatory letters on the General Federation's appeal to club members urging them to support firms that are endeavoring to promote and follow the Industrial Recovery Act.

In a nutshell, it is said that the President's Re-employment Drive is a "truce on selfishness."

Hugh S. Johnson, chairman, writes to the General Federation, for publication to club members: "This is a real war in which we are engaged. Our objective in this war is the re-employment of 6,000,000 persons before winter, in addition to widespread increases in wages. With this objective reached, we shall have broken the back of this depression. Of this I am sure. Re-employment and higher wages will, as one can quite readily see, place large additional burdens on the employers of labor. Therefore, the great mass of Americans must rally to the support of these loyal employers who have signed the President's Agreement and supply the compensating patronage and support.

"It is impossible to overemphasize to the women of the nation the great seriousness of our situation and the tremendous responsibility that rests upon them at this time. We in Washington, who are working in this Drive against unemployment, are counting on them to back us up loyally and vigorously. The watchword is 'Look for the Blue Eagle.' Buy Blue Eagle merchandise at Blue Eagle establishments. And buy just as liberally as your purse will permit."

And then Hugh Johnson ends: "If the women of America will follow these simple suggestions we will be well out of this depression within the next few weeks."

The above is the generalization of appeal and fact in the broadest sense. Clubwomen will be interested, however, equally, too, with the more concrete suggestions in the narrower phase of the subject, as set forth by Mrs. Poole, after her interview with Dr. Frederick C. Howe, Consumers' Counsel, in which she asked how the consumer and the housewives of the country could cooperate in protecting their pocketbooks. Dr. Howe said:

"In the case of cotton and wheat, involving processing taxes, watch carefully the price of things you buy. Hang a little pad of paper in the kitchen and write down, on your return from the market, the price you paid each day for some of the staples. Check these each week.

"Second, if you find any of these articles rising in prices rapidly or at too great leaps, ask your grocer or supplier if he can explain these advances.

"Third, watch your paper for releases from your Consumers' Counsel giving general facts about increases in costs for these articles and compare the figures reported in these news stories with the increased prices you are paying."

All of which, boiled down, impresses upon clubwomen that while they should buy "until it hurts," they are also to report any attempt to swindle them or to gouge, contrary to the President's endeavor to help matters, and they are to use common sense to protect their pocketbooks, even though they are asked to spend from them.

FIRE DRIVES OUT LOWELL AVE. FAMILY

The family of Thomas H. Sullivan, 495 Lowell avenue, Newtonville, had to make a hasty exit from their home at 2.45 a. m. last Friday when flames damaged the living room at the house. The fire was supposedly caused by sparks from a fireplace igniting a chair nearby. Mrs. Sullivan was awakened by the smoke and aroused the other members of the family including her husband, 8 year old son, and her sister. Mr. Sullivan telephoned the fire department and the flames were extinguished after considerable damage had been done to the living room and its furniture.

BROKE CHURCH WINDOWS FINED $110.

Paul Grow, 23, of Chestnut terrace, Newton Centre was fined $110 in the Newton court on Wednesday by Judge Brown. Of this amount, $100 was for driving a car while under the influence of liquor; $10 was for drunkenness. Patrolmen Kelly and Maloney testified that on the night of September 9, they rushed to Boston College after receiving a complaint that a man had broken two stained glass windows in the chapel there. They found Grow driving away from the chapel, in a state of partial undress and allegedly drunk. They testified that Grow stated he broke the windows so that he could get into the church and pray. Grow denied that he was drunk. He told the judge that he was under the influence of a drug which he had taken to relieve a headache. He appealed and was placed under $500 bonds.

Alterations At Pumping Station Are Completed

Newton Now Has One of Most Modern Plants

The extensive alterations at the pumping station of the Newton Water Department at Newton Upper Falls have been completed, and this city now possesses one of the most modern plants in the State. Preliminary tests indicate that a high degree of efficiency will be obtained from it. The building itself was improved by lowering the engine room roof, installing modern steel sash tiling the engine room with buff tiles to a height of 8 feet (the remainder of the walls covered with acoustic plaster), and covering the floor with red clay tiles.

The former equipment consisted of a 28-year-old Barr pumping unit with a daily capacity of 5,000,000 gallons; and a 50-year-old Worthington pump of similar capacity. These old units have been replaced by three DeLaval turbine pumping units of 4, 6 and 8 millon gallons daily capacity. These units, in addition to pumping water operate generators, each of which develops 200 kilowatts of electricity, and a voltage of 4000. This electricity provides light and power within the station and current for the lights and pumps on the water reservation at Needham, supplanting power formerly purchased from the Edison Company. The steam pressure revolves each turbine at 6000 revolutions per minute. Through a reducing gear this speed is lowered to 1200 revolutions a minute. Ordinarily only one turbine unit is in operation. The average daily consumption of water in Newton is 5,000,000 gallons, so that either of the two larger units is capable of pumping a supply sufficient for the city's needs.

Steam for the turbines is produced in water tube boilers of 250 horsepower each. Only one of the two new boilers is operated at a time. These boilers replaced old horizontal tubular boilers. Each of the new boilers can produce about 10,000 pounds of steam per hour at 250 pounds pressure. The fuel used is pulverized coal. This coal is raised by an elevator to a belt which dumps it into hoppers. Ground as fine as talcum powder, it is blown under high pressure into the boilers, where almost complete combustion results, and the gaseous flame creates a heat of about 1800 degrees Fahrenheit. The coal consumption is quite economical, being between 6 and 7 tons daily. It is anticipated that as a result of the changes at the plant a direct saving of 30% will be made in the cost of pumping.

The water pumped at the modernized plant comes from the long wooden conduit across the river in the reservation at Needham. It seeps into the conduit from the sand and gravel terrain adjoining, and from two large wells located on the reservation some distance east of Kenrick Bridge. When the supply runs low it is supplemented by pumping water from the river into filtration basins which have been excavated on the reservation. The water flows from the conduit to the pumping station through a large main which runs under the river from the Needham side. This main empties into a sump at the southwest corner of the pumping station and any small particles of matter in the flow are caught in a fine mesh screen which is cleaned at frequent intervals.

As the water passes through this sump to be pumped into the discharge mains, small amounts of chlorine and soda ash are introduced into it. The amount of the former mixed with the water is extremely small, but sufficient to safeguard the supply. The soda ash, which has been introduced into the water for the past year counteracts the effect of a slight quantity of manganese which formerly caused some bother in the local water supply.

Ten men are required to operate the pumping station on a three-shift schedule, including the superintendent and his assistant.

Grace Church Rector Accepts Worcester Call

Rev. Richard G. Preston Will Leave In November

Rev. Richard G. Preston, for the past three and a half years rector of Grace Episcopal Church at Newton, announced to his congregation on Sunday that he had decided to accept the call from All Saints Episcopal Church at Worcester. In giving this information he stressed the fact that he is not leaving Grace Church through personal desire as his present pastorate has been characterized by happy associations with his parishioners and the congenial surroundings have made his work in Newton very pleasant. He said that there were other factors which had to be taken into account and which influenced him in making his decision. In the first place the parish in Worcester occupies a very important position in the Western Massachusetts diocese. Again it has recently experienced a series of unfortunate circumstances, culminating in the destruction of the church by fire a year and a half ago. Rev. Mr. Preston said that these adverse circumstances have created a need in the Worcester church which it is believed he can help meet. Following his call to Worcester, he consulted a number of persons who know the situation, and they unanimously believed that he should accept the call. He said that his action in accepting the call has been made easier by the understanding attitude of the vestry of Grace Church, when conditions were outlined to them. They assured him that they did not feel he had been unmindful of his responsibility to Grace Church.

Rev. Richard G. Preston was born in Arlington in 1895. He graduated from Lexington High School; from Phillips Andover in 1914; and entered Princeton with the class of 1918. He enrolled with the British Y. M. C. A. for service in France and when this country entered the war he was commissioned a lieutenant in the sanitary corps of the 41st Division. After the war he re-entered Princeton and graduated in 1920. In 1921 Mr. Preston entered the Episcopal Theological School at Cambridge and graduated in 1924. He then became assistant rector at St. Stephens Church Lynn, and in February 1926, he became rector of Christ Church, Needham. He commenced his duties as rector of Grace Church, Newton on March 1, 1930. He will leave the latter part of November.

His pastorate at Grace Church has been very successful and his work with the younger people has been particularly outstanding. The parishioners of the church greatly regret his going. His activity in this diocese is evidenced by the fact that he is secretary of the Standing Committee of the Diocese, President of the Massachusetts Clerical Association and a member of the Diocesan Council in the departments of religious education and boys' work. Among his qualifications for the latter activity is his interest in athletics. He was on the soccer and hockey squads at Princeton and captained both class teams. Mrs. Preston was Marjorie Jewett Brush of Brookline. There are three children in the family—Robert E., Caroline B. and Nancy G Preston.

More Candidates For Aldermen

More candidacies for Alderman at the coming city election were announced this week. They include Ovid F. Avantaggio of Elmwood st., Newton, who will oppose Joseph J. Murray for Alderman at Large from Ward 7; Paul M. Goddard of 20 Trowbridge ave., Newton Centre, who will run for Ward Alderman in Ward 6 and John M. Walker of 32 Walter st. who will also run for this office.

Avantaggio is a native and life long resident of Newton. He conducts a market at Newton. He served in the World War with the 101st Field Artillery of the 26th Division. Mr. Goddard is in the insurance business in Boston. He has been a resident of Newton Centre for over 15 years.

John M. Walker of 32 Walter st., Newton Centre, has announced his candidacy as Ward Alderman from Ward 6, to succeed Alderman Sydney Holden who will be a candidate for Alderman-at-Large. Mr. Walker has been a resident of Newton for ten years during which time he has been in business here. He is president of Home Specialties Co., Inc., of Newton Centre.

Borrowing of Funds For Public Projects Discussed

City May Get NRA Funds On Own Credit

Because the City of Newton may borrow money on the open market at less than 3% interest, the Board of Aldermen on Monday night amended the orders passed at a previous meeting which authorized this city to borrow from the NRA funds money to build a new grade school and build additions to the Day and Bigelow junior high schools. The orders as amended permit the city to borrow "in the open market, or from the NRA."

The orders were further amended by including the words "together with the original equipment and furnishings of such grade school" in that referring to the new school on Nevada st., Newtonville; by increasing the amount asked for the addition to the Day school from $45,700 to $60,700; and by increasing the amount from the Bigelow school addition from $136,800 to $148,800.

It was also revealed that a serious oversight had been made in the matter of arranging to borrow money for the erection of the proposed incinerator. Such matters require a two-thirds vote of the municipal body taking action. The vote taken by the Newton Board of Aldermen was 13 in favor and 3 opposed. As there are 21 members in the Board, fourteen favorable votes are necessary. So, the order relative to the incinerator had to be again introduced and referred to the committees concerned.

Yesterday the State Emergency Finance Board approved the three applications from Newton for the school construction loans.

Nonantum Honors Capt. Veduccio

Nearly 300 gathered at Columbus Hall, Adams st., Nonantum, last night to pay honor to Captain Nicholas Veduccio of the Newton police department, recently promoted to that office. The affair was arranged by a committee which included Angelo Annicelli, John Bibbo, Constantine Lupo, Lawrence Mazzola and Michele Mazzola. Asst. District Attorney Volpe was toastmaster. The speakers included Hon. E. O. Childs, Hon. Leverett Saltonstall, Hon. Arthur W. Hollis, James S. Cannon, Harold Ames of Newton Post, American Legion, William Andrews of the District Attorney's staff, State Detective Edward Sherlock, Police Chief Hughes and Alderman Roy Collins who represented Mayor Weeks. Captain Veduccio was presented with valuable gifts, including an order for a new uniform.

Newton Residents Pass Bar Exams

Seven residents of Newton were among the 225 successful applicants for admission to the Massachusetts Bar. At the examination last June, 600 candidates applied. Those recommended by the Board of Bar Examiners will be admitted on Nov. 1st. The Newton residents who are included in the successful applicants are—William J. Brennan, 518 Commonwealth ave.; George W. Bricker, Jr., 18 Day st., Auburndale; Miriam C. Dority, 154 Langdon st., Newton; Richard Ely, 73 Chestnut Hill rd., Chestnut Hill; Thomas V. Geagan, 20 Adams st., Newtonville; William H. Kugell, 182 Cotton st., Newton; Charles O. Monahan, 21 Lexington st., West Newton.

Pay Fines For Pike Speeding

Another batch of automobile speeders were fined in the Newton court last Friday; most of these had been going too rapidly on the new turnpike. Beatrice Dabney of Farm st., Dover, was fined $25; it was her second conviction for speeding within a year. Harold McCrea of Lagrange st., Brookline, was fined $10. Albert C. Ochs of Newton Centre was supposed to be in court to answer a charge of driving to the left of the centre on a highway. He did not show up and a warrant for his arrest was issued. Charles Mercier of 44 Oak terrace, Upper Falls, was charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. His case was continued until Sept. 28.

Noted Speaker At Central Church

A distinguished visitor is to speak to the congregation at Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, on Sunday morning—Miss Lillian L. Picken, of Satara, India. Miss Picken is in Boston as one of the members of the team of speakers for the United Missionary Conference on Sunday and Monday. With humor and pathos she tells the story of the struggle of the New India within the Old. She knows India. She has felt the heart beat of the people, high caste, low caste and untouchables, during her years as a missionary of the American Board. With her great vitality, her tremendous earnestness and her qualities of leadership, nothing could restrict Miss Picken to any one channel of work, and she has engaged in many lines of social and evangelistic service. In large measure to her is due the phenomenal growth of the Girl Guides and Blue Birds (similar to our Girl Scouts) in the Satara district from a membership of two hundred to two thousand. She often makes tours through the villages, taking along a motion picture machine. Before friends provided her with an automobile she often pedaled her way on a bicycle, thirty miles a day. Her most recent interest is the Welfare Center at Satara, which includes headquarters for Bible women's work, a dispensary and baby clinic, a hall for religious and social gatherings, and a reading room. The Indian staff includes a trained Christian social worker, a Christian teacher, a Brahmin doctor, a Maratha welfare worker, a Brahmin widow sewing teacher, a blind Christian music teacher, and a Maratha cleaning woman.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend this service. Mr. Merrill, the minister, will lead in the worship. The Chancel Choir, with Franklin Field, baritone, will sing.

Assailants of Newton Lawyer Are On Trial

One Got $40 to Nearly Murder Finelli

In the Middlesex Superior Court a East Cambridge yesterday the trial began of the alleged assailants of John Finelli, well known Nonantum lawyer. The defendants are David Cornell of Providence, Rhode Island; and Pasquale Cetrone, 50 Winchester rd., Newton. Finelli testified that about a year ago he was appointed a trustee in bankruptcy for Cetrone's estate. The latter is a contractor in Newton. Trouble developed between the two and on June 9, according to Finelli, Cetrone made the threat that he would get him. On June 12 Finelli received a phone call to go to a vacant house at 135 Watertown street, Watertown, to show it to a prospective purchaser. The house was involved in Cetrone's estate. Finelli testified that when he entered the house he met two men, one of whom was Cornell. They attacked him in the cellar, murderously beat him, using a hoe handle in the process, and critically injured him. Finelli told the court that he begged the men not to kill him and asked them to take his money. He said that Cornell replied, "We don't want your money. Cetrone has paid plenty to kill you." At this testimony on Finelli's part, Cornell jumped up and called Finelli a liar.

Finelli testified that after he had been beaten into an unconscious state his attackers left him in the cellar. He recovered consciousness and managed to crawl from the cellar and shout for help. He was taken to the Newton Hospital where he remained for two weeks. He was then confined to bed at his home for five more weeks.

Lieut. Riley of the Watertown police testified that on June 17 he arrested Cornell at Providence and that on June 20 the latter confessed that Cetrone had promised him $40 to beat up Finelli, that he had received $20 from Cetrone's son, and that he had paid $12 to a man he met on Boston Common to assist him in attacking Finelli. Riley also testified that when he told Cetrone of Cornell's admissions, Cetrone denied having hired Cornell, and accused the latter of being crazy and a bum. The trial will continue today.

Gifts Given To City Hall Clerk

Mrs. Mary Sheehan Childs, for the past twelve years employed in the office of the Water Department at City Hall terminated her service Wednesday. She resigned her position and will make her home in Lynn, where her husband is employed. Mrs. Childs, who was quite popular with her associates, was presented with a number of gifts of sterling silver. From the City Hall Associates she received a pair of candlesticks; and from her fellow workers in the Water Department a number of pieces of silver tableware.

Human Resources Are Greatest Assets of N. E.

Prof. Mather Tells Rotary Club In Address

"The greatest resources possessed by New England are human resources, and the greatest asset is the character of its citizens," said Dr. Kirtley F. Mather, noted Harvard geologist, in a timely and scholarly address before the Newton Rotary Club on "The New Geography, New England, and the New Deal" last Monday at the Brae Burn Club.

Dr. Mather essayed that we as individuals are continually and gradually undergoing changes of which we ourselves are not presently conscious, and that a state of self satisfaction often results wherein we proclaim ourselves and our civilization the complete masters of nature. Man has never conquered nature but has learned most deftly how to humor nature, necessitating a study of conditions of the past and present in order to clearly understand our relationship to other peoples and to develop an appreciation of man's dependence on nature. Nature is ever present as that potent silent source of strength which gives to us, the sons of the earth, new strength as we learn better our relationship to this vast storehouse of natural power.

In speaking more specifically of New England, Dr. Mather said that the development of New England was not through the media of natural resources, as petroleum, coal, iron, copper, gold, silver, gas, and oil, inherent in other sections of the country, but through a development of strong individualism. Here in New England has developed a strong sectional consciousness. New England geographically is isolated and in earlier days was shut off by the commercial stream of the Hudson Valley on the west, through which the tide of trade flowed to New York and Philadelphia in spite of the energy of Bostonians. Such isolation promoted the individualism that gave New England such potent human resources and a people with character.

This eminent Harvard professor, in speaking of the New Deal, said that we have passed from the machine age to the great power age, where a new source of energy is now available which differs in kind rather than degree from the human energy of the machine age—an age of mind rather than brawn, of ingenuity rather than skill. In closing the speaker claimed that the New Deal must be entirely new to succeed. Old customs and old techniques no longer will suffice.

The club had as guests: Harvey Smith, Austin Andrews, and Edward Whitney, Watertown; Russell Gree, Quincy; William Halliday, Hingham; and Robert Fairclough, Winnetka, Illinois.

Grant Permit For Garage On Pike at Highlands

Alderman McKay Only Committee Member Opposed

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night a permit was granted to Walter E. Jewell to build and operate a garage repair shop at 1009 Boylston st., Newton Highlands. This locus is on the new turnpike, west of Woodward st. The petition for it was opposed by several owners of nearby properties on the ground that it abuts a residential neighborhood, that there is no business between Woodward st. and Chestnut st., Upper Falls, west of the Jenney Gasoline Station, and that this repair shop will lower nearby property values. The locus itself is in a business zone.

At the meeting on Monday night it was announced that six of the seven members of the Licenses Committee have favored the granting of the permit. Alderman McKay of Newton Highlands was the only member of the committee to oppose the permit. He said that action on this matter should be delayed a few months until it becomes more evident what the future character of the turnpike will be. Mr. McKay said that some of the persons who had opposed the granting of the permit, state that the noise of the heavy traffic on the turnpike has made Boylston st. less desirable for residential purposes, and that eventually a petition may come in to have the entire length of this street in Newton placed in a business zone. He believes that until more time elapses to ascertain what conditions along the turnpike may be, the granting of such a permit should be deferred.

Community Chest Organizes for November Drive

Preliminary Work Being Done —Two Chairmen Named

Organization of the campaign of the Newton Community Chest to secure funds for the work of member welfare agencies during 1934 began last week with the appointment of Arthur G. Hosmer of West Newton as General Chairman of the army of workers who will solicit subscriptions during the period Nov. 1-10.

In two villages, also, Village Chairmen have already accepted appointments. The drive in West Newton will be under the leadership of Maynard Hutchinson, while in Newton Centre A. Leslie Harwood, Jr., will be in charge. This year a larger measure of responsibility will fall on the village leaders, due to the fact that the campaign will be carried on without the assistance of any professional fund-raising concern. In West Newton Mr. Hutchinson has already secured the assistance of Robert A. Whidden, John A. Paine, and William F. Chase, and in Newton Centre Charles H. Cobb, William H. Rice, and Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., will help Mr. Harwood organize his group of solicitors.

Several weeks of preliminary work at Chest Headquarters, 93 Union st., Newton Centre, have simplified the task of the solicitors in covering their territory. The most important improvement perhaps is that every team member will be given pledge cards with the name and address of every person he is to see typed on them. There will thus be no confusion regarding territory to be covered by different individuals, and every solicitor will know in advance exactly how much work he will have to do.

This year, also, there will be fewer meetings of workers at a central location. Meetings in the local villages will very largely take the place of the former system, and it is expected that this will materially cut down the time and energy which each campaign worker will have to expend.

The member agencies of the Chest are now engaged in making detailed and careful estimates of the amounts they will need to continue their activities in the fields of unemployment relief, family welfare, health service, child care, care of the aged, and recreation and training for young people, and announcement of the objective of the campaign will be made after all individual budget estimates have been scrutinized and passed upon by the Chest Budget Committee. The members of this Committee are William B. Baker, Chairman, Walter Amesbury, Howard M. Biscoe, Albert M. Lyon, and Leverett Saltonstall.

Tracy Has Made No Decision Yet

Reports that Chairman George H. Tracy of the Newton School Committee will be a candidate for re-election are somewhat premature. Mr. Tracy has stated, "I was at City Hall the other day and obtained nomination papers in order that I might have them available in the event I decided to be a candidate. I have not reached a decision yet as to whether I shall be or not."

Three More File Damage Claims

To the already long list of claims against the city for alleged damages to houses from blasting three more were received at the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night. They were made by Ella McCormack, 66 Bennington st.; Theodore Lockwood, 74 Elmhurst rd.; Carl Gushin, 92 Cotton st. Mr. Gurshin's residence is about a mile removed from the route of the high level sewer, but his claim is because of blasting on Cotton st.

Fifth Candidate Enters Campaign For Mayor

Paul H. Drake Announces His Candidacy

That citizens of Newton, like citizens of Boston, will have a variety of choices for Mayor at the election next December was indicated last Saturday when Paul Harris Drake of 56 Pembroke st., Newton announced his intention of becoming a candidate. Those who had previously announced their candidacies were: Mayor Sinclair Weeks, Thomas W. White, Frank H. Sullivan of Neshobe rd., Waban; and Walter A. Hodgdon of 24 Eliot ter., Newton Upper Falls.

Mr. Drake is a former Universalist minister and has radical political views. He has been engaged in the real estate business in this city for the past six years. Last year he was a candidate for alderman. In announcing his candidacy he says:

"In running for Mayor of Newton I offer myself as the candidate of the 'Forgotten Men and Women' of Newton who look in vain for sympathy and fair treatment at the hands of the present Republican administration."

"Alone and singlehanded of all the citizens of Newton last January I stood up and assailed Mayor Weeks' piffling 'economy' program which he forced upon the helpless and unfortunate men and women of our city. In the Newton newspapers I hit out straight from the shoulder at the cruel, inhuman and unscientific conduct of municipal and welfare measures and pleaded for a sane, sensible and humane policy in handling taxation and relief affairs."

"Instead of the present raw deal from the hands of the existing administration, I promise the unemployed not only a 'new deal' but a square deal such as no other City in New England has offered its jobless citizen in the present crisis. If elected I promise to restore all wage and salaried city employees to their former status, and to increase wherever possible the wages of deserving citizens on the public pay rolls."

"If elected I will urge the extension of street and municipal projects to provide necessary employment in large measure. Newton streets are terrible and we need miles of new sewers, sidewalks and street-paving all to be paid for by bond issues backed by the city's credit."

"I am distinctly not interested in reducing Newton's tax-rate or in pleasing the so-called 'tax-payers.' After all, the only people who pay the taxes finally are those who own no property, but on whom fall all the burdens of this present unjust and conscienceless civilization. Out of an adult population of 47,000 in Newton (over 20 years old) statistics show that there are only 18,000 direct taxpayers, all told! This means that there are 29,000 adult individuals in Newton who never see a direct taxbill from the City Collector. It is from these people that I expect enough votes to be elected."

"If private business cannot or will not employ the people at fair wages, then it is the duty of the City to do so regardless of the cost to the taxpayers, so-called. I believe that the City can and will provide useful employment for its citizens even if it is necessary to increase taxes and

Drinks Beer; Drives $100 Fine; Appeals

Charles Mercier of 16 Oak terrace, Newton Highlands, was fined $100 in the Newton court yesterday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He appealed. Motorcycle Officer Hammell testified that on September 18 he observed Mercier's car zig-zagging on a street at Newton Centre and arrested him. He stated that the defendant's breath smelled of liquor but that he was not drunk. Mercier testified that he was not drunk and had only taken some 3.2 beer.

ARLINGTON EDGES NEWTON 6 TO 0 IN OPENING GAME

Does history repeat itself? If so, will the 1933 season of the Newton High football team be similar to that of 1932? Last year Newton high dropped its opening game to a strong Arlington eleven by a score of 13 to 0, but was undefeated throughout the rest of the season. Last Saturday the Newton team journeyed to Arlington and were set back by a 6-0 count with the Arlington touchdown coming within the first five minutes of play. That the suddenness of the Arlington score did not discourage the orange and black lads nor upset their morale was proved as the game went along. Coach Sanborn's players struggled valiantly but vainly to tie up the score and perhaps win out by the point after touchdown.

Both teams showed considerable promise for an opening game with the outstanding features being the Arlington backfield on the offense and the Newton line on the defense. Newton also showed some forward passing that may be its chief attacking weapon of the season. Had Arlington not scored early in the game it is doubtful whether it would have triumphed. An 80-yard advance with end sweeps, the feature, brought the touchdown. Thereafter Arlington passed the midfield stripe but three times but never got beyond the Newton 45-yard line. The Newton secondary came up fast to bottle up the ball-carriers on later attempts to sweep the ends. In the entire game Arlington made but two first downs to four for Newton. Two of the Newton first downs were on forward passes. Several opportunities for Newton to score were lost by fumbles. The best chance came in the first half when a poor Arlington punt was downed on Arlington's 30-yard line. A Newton backfield fumble tossed the chance away. Early in the fourth period Newton had a first down on Arlington's 24-yard line but another fumble halted them. Other chances were ruined when two passes were intercepted by Arlington.

Shortly after the game opened an Arlington fumble gave Newton the ball on the Arlington 40-yard stripe. Failing to gain, Bob Whitney punted to the Arlington 17-yard line where the winning march began. Ken Weidaw swept around left end for 45 yards behind beautiful interference led by Captain Arthur Lane. Just as Weidaw was breaking clear he was hauled down from behind by Balkus, Newton's right tackle, on the Newton 38-yard line. On another sweep, Walter MacLean, the fastest runner on either team, made eight yards. Again MacLean took the ball around the end, raced for the corner, and outran the Newton secondary, with Capt. Lane erasing Capt. Charlie Thompson of Newton, the only Newton player who had a chance to nail the runner.

Despite the loss of the game, as well as the inexperience of its team as a unit, Newton showed up exceptionally well. Newton was without its full strength as Walter Rich, guard, and Teddy Johnson, end, both lettermen, were out of action. Bert Fineberg at right end showed considerable promise on the receiving end of McCarthy's passes as did Bob Whitney. Out of nine passes attempted five were completed for a total gain of 33 yards. Three were intercepted, two of them timely and cutting off Newton threats, while but one fell incompleted. The centre of the Newton line where Capt. Thompson at centre, and Joyce, at right guard, played the entire game with Sam Miller and Wisbach dividing the burden at left guard, was impregnable.

On the offence Newton's attack was neither varied nor fast. Newton employed both single and double wingback formations with the most successful play a cutback by Louis Miller in which he got clear for 20 yards only to be downed from behind by Weidaw. Charlie Mascia was within inches of tying the game with a Newton score. On the kickoff at the beginning of the second half Mascia got the ball, fumbled momentarily, recovered on the dead run, at the Newton 30-yard mark and headed for the Arlington goal. He picked his way through the entire Arlington team, and raced down the sidelines for the goalline. On the Arlington 45-yard line, however, he stepped outside to nullify the run.

SPORT NOTES

Martin Loses Title Matches

Donald Martin, former B U. tennis captain, and Newton public courts champion, lost his matches in the final round of two tournaments at Franklin Field, Boston, last Sunday. In the final of the men's singles, in which Martin was defending champion, he was defeated by Maynard Weisberg in a four-set match, 6—4, 6—3, 4—6, 9—7. In the semi-finals of the men's doubles, Martin and his partner, Sumner Rodman, were defeated by Weisberg and Edward Murphy, 4—6, 7—5, 6—1, 4—6, and 6—2. Weisberg and his partner then went on to win the doubles title.

Gulian on Harvard A Team

George Gulian, former Newton high athlete, and cousin of Mike Gulian, former Newton, Brown captain and All-American tackle, is a candidate for the Harvard varsity football team. Last Saturday he was moved up from his guard position on Team C to a guard post on Team A. Head coach Eddie Casey shifted a half dozen of his previous selections on Team A to other teams and Gulian was one of the six lads who had their chance to show their ability. Gulian, who spent the summer handling ice, weighs 185 and is fast enough to hold his own as a running guard. Local football players hope to see Gulian providing some of the interference to send Carl - Pescosolido, the other local youth on the Harvard squad, away on some long runs this season.

Kevorkian at Guard

Alex Kevorkian, former Newton high three-sport athlete, is at Exeter. He is playing a guard on the academy football team. He is one of two new men in the line with five positions being filled by veterans. Exeter, undefeated last year, seems headed for another good season.

On Huskies Yearling Squad

Donald Fowler of Linwood ave., Newtonville and Paul Kennally of Rotherwood rd., Newton Centre have reported for freshman football at Northeastern University. Both youths attended Newton High. Aaron Lockwood of Newton is a candidate for centre on the yearling team.

In Sports at Hebron

Several Newton youths are participating in sports at Hebron Academy, Hebron, Me. John Riley of Chestnut Hill is a right fullback on the football eleven, Richard Goode of Newton and Elmer Littlefield of Newtonville are on the swimming squad.

On Huntington Team

Robert Gauvreau of Newton is a tackle on the Huntington School football squad and may be one of Coach Monte Moore's choices to start the opening game against Northeastern Freshman team this afternoon.

Country Day Plays Tabor

Country Day school plays Tabor Academy at Cabot field, Newton, tomorrow in the opening game of the season. Coach Wilde has seen lettermen on hand of which five are backs and two are linemen. They are Don Clarke, John Perry, Harrison Rowbotham, Bill Wales, and Bob Carroll, backs, and Bob Whittemore and John Casey, linesmen.

Youthful Tennis Stars Play

The annual fall "tennis party" conducted by Mrs. George W. Wightman was held last week-end and the Longwood Cricket Club with several youthful tennis players starring. In the boys' singles Albert Everts of Newtonville won his way into the semifinal round where he lost to D. Carleton of Winchester. Everts provided one of the upsets of the tourney by upsetting Tom Slattery of Newton Centre in a second round match. The girls' singles final round match was an all-Newton affair with Eilena Ciccone of Newton Centre turning the tables on Caroline Everts of Newtonville. In the spring junior girls' tourney Miss Everts defeated Miss Ciccone. In the mixed doubles Caroline Everts and William Everts of Newtonville reached the final round. The final match in this event has not yet been played as play in the lower division had only reached the quarter-finals.

Dyer Back at Bridgton

Bradford Dyer of Auburndale, former Newton High athlete, has returned to Bridgton Academy for his second year. He is regarded as a fixture in the backfield of the football eleven in a blocking berth. Last year he made the baseball team as a pitcher and outfielder and was elected captain of the nine for next spring.

Stubbs to Stay

Coach Joe Stubbs of the Harvard hockey team will again be in charge of the varsity during the coming winter season it was announced last week by the H. A. A. putting at rest previous rumors that the former Newton High and Harvard hockey star was to be replaced.

On Brown Varsity

The Newton athletes at Brown are still in the running for regular berths on the varsity football team. Charlie Butler at tackle and Norman Appleyard in the backfield have played with Team A. Perry Elrod, one of the leading backs on the squad has been spending considerable time on passing and kicking. Bob Chapin is playing an end on Team B.

NEWTON MEETS CANTABS IN FIRST LEAGUE GAME

The Newton High football team meets the Cambridge High and Latin school eleven tomorrow afternoon at the Dickinson Memorial stadium in the opening Suburban league game of the 1933 season. Although Newton lost to Arlington High last week in its first test of the year and the Cantabs played a scoreless tie with St. James School of Haverhill the game should be one of the most attractive on the schoolboy list for the day.

Coach Sanborn has made a few changes in the Newton line-up because of injuries to some of these who played in the Arlington game and also in an attempt to correct some of the apparent weaknesses in the Newton eleven which showed up against the Arlington team. Louis Miller and Bob Whitney in the Newton backfield will not play in the Cambridge game. Their places will be taken by Charlie Flagg and Sanderson Sloane with the latter in Whitney's post at halfback. Both of last week's starters are out with slight injuries which will keep them out of action for a few days longer. Neither Teddy Johnson at end or Walter Rich at guard, two letter-men who were injured in scrimmages before the Arlington game, are available yet for duty. Ryan will continue in Johnson's place and Sam Miller at Rich's guard berth.

Another change is at the other end position which was held down by Bertie Fineberg last Saturday. Jimmy Byrne, who played part of the game as a reserve for Ryan has been moved over the opposite wing and will start. Balkus at tackle has been replaced by Melvin Swig. The latter has been with the centre candidates but is too valuable a player to have sitting on the bench and will be given a thorough tryout at the tackle post. Captain Thompson is expected to stand up at centre under the burden of full time play but if forced to leave the game Swig can be moved over and Balkus sent into the tackle position. Grow will play the other tackle berth as he did against Arlington. Joyce and Sam Miller will be at the guard positions as they also were in the Arlington game.

That Newton has promise is shown in the fact that not one penalty was called against the Newton team in the Arlington fracas except on interference with one of their own passes. It is unusual to find any team in its first game that is not guilty of offside play but this is true of the Newton team.

The Cantabs have a team which will outweigh Newton in the line and is about the same weight in the backfield. It showed a good defense against the Haverhill school team last Saturday and its offence doubtless will be improved this Saturday. Quarterback "Cowboy" Crawley is one of the best backs in schoolboy football this season and Newton will have to find ways to stop him in order to annex its first 1933 victory.

ANOTHER HAS PASSED AWAY

After an aggravating and distressing illness of over three years' duration and causing sorrow and agony to all about him, Old Man Depression has finally passed away. As he left no mourners it would be but fitting that some one place a bouquet of flowers on his miserable grave, not as a token of sorrow but as a token of joy, that he passed away.

Such a bouquet of twelve beautiful prosperity roses awaits the first 10 adult readers of the GRAPHIC calling at The Miller Rose Co. greenhouses, Great Plain ave., Needham, presenting this article. Say it with Flowers and forget the Depression.—Advertisement.

Bob Claffee, another back, and Francis Tuscher, an end, are other Newton candidates on the Huskies squad.

The boys' variety and eighth grade soccer squads have been holding practices this week at Cabot field.

Drawings have been made for the girls' tennis tournament and it is expected that the first round will be played off on Monday.

Weeks Junior H. S.

A Home Room Talent Assembly will be a new feature during the assembly period on Wednesday. Each eighth and ninth grade home room is responsible for an act, musical selection, or reading, two minutes in duration.

Although thirty members of the band were lost by graduation, fifty-five musicians are already enrolled in this organization this year. There is an unusually fine number of drum majors.

The Junior Red Cross Club are busy at work with the filling of Christmas baskets which are to be sent to foreign countries.

According to the report of September 22, 859 pupils are enrolled in the school.

The athletes are now interested in soccer. Home room captains and teams have been chosen, and the schedules for the games have gone into effect.

Church Workers Resurface Walks

Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, showed exceptional activity last Saturday when the members resurfaced the walks at the Church and at the manse, 40 Foster st.

Promptly at 8:30, Saturday morning, the group led by Rev. Randolph S. Merrill and Rev. D. Brewer Eddy began their work under the direction of Charles Stewart, who contributed the asphalt.

It was almost an Old Home Week as Walter Adams, Jim Brickett, Ralph Conant, Bob Gaskell, Jr., Clarence Loud, Fred Rust, Chauncey Waldron, A. H. Rangnow, Howard Waybright, Clifford, Donald, and Richard Whitney, Fred Blanchard, Bob Merrill, Bill McCormick, Norman Willey, Wesley Rich, Dave Eddy, and Ernest Kuebler tackled the stone, gravel and sand. Many a shovel or rake stopped in mid-air when the noon whistle blew and lunch, contributed by the ladies, was served by Miss Mary Rolfe, Mrs. Charles Stewart and Mrs. Fred Blanchard.

Several, being unable to be present, contributed towards the expense of materials.

When the work was completed at 5:30, the owners of tired backs, sore feet, blistered hands, and spattered faces and clothing were unanimous that the wonderful cooperative spirit proved once again Central Church is aggressive, hospitable and active and continues to Do Things.

Brookline Wants Pike Completed

Town officials of Brookline appeared before the State Emergency Public Works Commission on Tuesday at the State House to urge the completion of the Boston-Worcester turnpike through Brookline. Selectman Bowker of Brookline stated that work has been started on the pike from the Newton line for about three-quarters of a mile into Brookline and that until the big traffic artery will have been completed the whole distance through the latter town, a chaotic condition will result in the village section. The commission took the matter under consideration.

NEWTONVILLE GIRL RESCUES DROWNING WOMAN

On August 27th, two days after passing her test and being accepted as a Red Cross Junior Life Saver, Loretta Jane Rabbitt, of 30 Frederick st., Newtonville, found out how valuable was her knowledge of Life Saving.

With three other girls, she was swimming at Ogunquit, Me., where the breakers and undertow were very dangerous. A man was drowning and a Life Guard was rescuing him, but no one but Miss Rabbitt noticed that a woman was also drowning. Swimming out to her, she saw she was very exhausted and asked if she needed help. The woman grabbed her wrist but was persuaded to loosen the hold. Then Miss Rabbitt used a cross-chest carry and took her to shore until she could stand and others helped her. Thanks to the prompt rescue the victim was in good condition and artificial respiration was not needed. Without assistance the woman who was elderly would undoubtedly have drowned.

NEWTON CENTRE ARTIST'S PICTURES SHOWN

An exhibition of watercolors of flowers by Katherine Wilkins of 45 Warren st., Newton Centre, is on display at the Children's Art Centre, Rutland st., Boston. At this exhibition there is also a display of Sandwich glass medallions by Charles Connick. Miss Wilkins also had paintings on display at two recent exhibitions in Boston. In May at the exhibition of the Boston Art Club she displayed "Christmas Wine" and "Sunny Window." At the exhibit of the City Art Club in July several fruit and flower compositions of Miss Wilkins were shown.

EMBASSY THEATRE, WALTHAM

A new Marlene Dietrich, different than her millions of screen admirers have ever glimpsed in her previous pictures, comes to the Embassy Theatre, Waltham, in "The Song of Songs" on Saturday for a four-day engagement. Miss Dietrich, in her new production, is an innocent young country girl of rare beauty who goes to Berlin and, jilted by a young sculptor, runs the gamut of tragic experience. Brian Aherne, referred to by dramatic critics as the most romantic actor of the New York stage, makes his screen debut as Miss Dietrich's leading man. Lionel Atwill, Alison Skipworth, Hardie Albright and Helen Freeman are other outstanding actors appearing in support of the glamorous star.

FREE COOKING CLASSES

A delightful series of cooking classes offering free instruction in the fine art of cookery will be inaugurated at 2 o'clock next Tuesday, October 3, in the office of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company at 308 Washington st., Newton. Women of Newton and nearby towns are cordially invited.

The class for that day will have as its subject "Is Your Food Dollar Penny Wise?" Emphasis will be placed on a demonstration of how to prepare and serve luncheon dishes, and facts about the proper division of your food dollar in purchasing different kinds of food for economy and health will be given.

Following this first class the series will continue each week until late in the spring, on Tuesdays from 2 to 4 o'clock. All classes will be held in a beautiful new all-gas kitchen, which has been installed by the Company in its Newton office building.

Leaders at Camp Barker

Bright, smiling skies and water ruffled by a good sailing breeze greeted the Scouters of Norumbega Council who went to Camp Barker last week-end to give the coming year in Scouting a rousing send-off. Forty men registered at the office, made ready for the night and then went sailing, rowing, canoeing or swimming, whatever their pleasure dictated. At 6:15 dinner was served in the mess hall. At 8:00 campfire was held in the recreation hall, with a roaring fire in the big field stone fireplace and the rafters and neighboring woods resounded with songs and cheers. Each District put on a stunt, and some were most unusual.

Sachem, Newton Centre, provided the opening ceremony, bringing in a flaming torch representing the spirit of Scouting and of Norumbega Council. The Wellesley men brought in a very "rambunxious" "Spark Plug" who cavorted and galloped around. Quinobequin men, Highlands, Upper Falls and Waban, put on a hen-yard scene, including egg-laying, followed by a roosting for the night and a hen thief in the dark of the night pursuing his nefarious work. It was a side-splitter.

Mr. W. R. Speirs demonstrated some magic which he suggested Scoutmasters might use at Troop meetings and then demonstrated how to do it, but the showing how proved just as mystifying as the trick itself.

The closing ceremony was one of the most effective ever seen at campfire. It was put on by Viking, West Newton and Auburndale, with four men stationed one at each corner of a square. Each man represented that particular part of the globe and told of the virtues and qualities which each section had to give to Scouting and to men. Following the closing, Mr. Crosbie, Deputy Commissioner in charge of nature work, had a group outside studying the stars. Other groups got together by the shore and talked everything under the sun.

The next morning, Sunday, dawned bright and clear. Breakfast was at 8:15, followed by cleaning and preparations to close camp. At 10:15 there was a Scouts' Own, led by Dr. E. J. Morse of Troop 10, Waban. Dr. Nichols of the same Troop spoke on immortality.

Immediately after the service, there was a competition based on the 1933 rally events, including whittling a fuzz stick and erecting flag poles made of staves lashed together.

At 11:30, the Scoutmasters and Assistant Scoutmasters met together in one discussion group, led by the Scout Executive, L. A. Bruce, Jr., to talk building up a year's program for the troop.

The Troop Committee men met with A. B. Root, Jr., Chairman of Troop 9, Waban, to talk over Troop Committee work.

Dinner was at 1:00, prepared by Dr. W. H. Hoyt of Troop 2, Wellesley. Following this meal, there was an exposition of the Ten-Year Program of the Boy Scouts of America, whose objective is to get one boy in every four, so that one of every four of our future citizens will be Scout-trained and to hold each boy in Scouting four years.

"Voltaire" At Newton Theatre

The picture, "Voltaire," which comes to the Paramount Theatre, Newton, for four days beginning Sunday, is based on a single dramatic incident in the life of the great French poet, philosopher, and firebrand whose inflammatory writings almost precipitated a French revolution. George Arliss, starred by Warner Brothers, takes the title role as he did in "Disraeli" which also centered about one event in the career of the British statesman.

The incident in Voltaire's life best adapted for the screen's use was the Calais case, the injustice of which caused Voltaire to interest himself in it for almost eight years. Fundamentally the picture is based upon this actual incident in the hectic career of the famous agitator and reformist although for play purposes the time was shortened and the locale slightly changed to suit the dramatist's purposes. The Calais case was the execution of a rich merchant on a trumped up charge and the confiscation of his property. Through the influence of King Louis XV's court favorite, Mme. Pompadour, who was his mistress, Voltaire succeeded in saving the life of Calais' daughter. Doris Kenyon has the role of Mme. Pompadour and Margaret Lindsay that of Calais' daughter. Others in the cast include Theodore Newton, Reginald Owen and Alan Mowbray.

NEWTON W. C. T. U.

The next meeting of the Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held in the Newton Centre Methodist Church, Langley rd. and Centre st., Newton Centre square, on Thursday, October 5, at 2.30 p. m.

There will be an open discussion of plans for the year and Mrs. John A. Groves, president of the Newton Union, will speak on the "High Lights of the National Convention."

All interested women are cordially invited.

Girl Scouts

Newton Girl Scouts Headquarters opened on Sept. 25. Miss Caroline L. Freeman, the Director, has returned from her vacation.

The Council feels fortunate in having Mrs. Harold Jones as secretary again this year. Friends of Miss Stickney will be sorry to learn that she will not be Field Captain this winter.

The Council has secured the services of Miss Margaret Adams, nationally trained field worker, who will come to Newton from Rochester, New York. Miss Adams has spent the summer at Camp Edith Macy. She will be especially qualified to conduct leaders' training courses and will bring many new ideas for troop meetings. She is very much interested in winter camping and the Council hopes to feature this especially, during the winter months.

Some of the troops have already commenced their meetings. Others will begin next week. Within a short space of time, the troops throughout the city will be in full swing. Leaders are needed for new troops as well as for troops which have already been organized. Miss Freeman will be very glad to talk with anyone who would be interested in worthwhile work of this kind.

A training course for new leaders will begin October 19. One for experienced leaders will begin shortly after.

Scout Headquarters, 297 Walnut st., Newtonville, is open from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. week days except Saturdays when it closes at 12:30. Miss Freeman will have office hours from 10 A. M. to 1 P. M. Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and special appointments may be made with her for other times.

THE BORROWING QUESTION

At the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen some discussion was made upon the question of the advisability of borrowing money from the Federal government or on the city's own credit in order to complete the public works projects it is expected will be authorized under the NRA program. In the first place thirty per cent of the cost of labor and materials for these projects is given as a grant by the Federal government and does not have to be repaid. The Federal government will obtain the money from the taxpayers of the nation. The remaining seventy per cent of the cost of materials plus land damages and other incidental expenses provides the bone of contention.

The city, provided its projects meet with Federal approval, can borrow the needed money from the government on a long term basis or it can borrow on its own credit from the open market. In Newton's case this means a considerable saving in interest charges, as the city's credit, being better than that of the Federal government, can borrow money at a lower interest rate. But in borrowing in the open market the city is absolutely obligated to repay whatever amount received, while in borrowing from the government there is the prospect that such loans will eventually be written off by the government. This situation arises because of the fact, as we have stated before, that the taxpayer must pay the government to provide the $3,300,000 public works funds and must pay again into the city's treasury in local taxes in order that the city can repay the loan to the government, thus making a double burden upon the taxpayer. The state has protected itself, and the cities and towns in the Commonwealth, we believe, through a clause in the legislation enabling the cities and towns to take advantage of these funds. This clause is to the effect that if any state becomes a favored state thru cancellation of such Federal loans that such loans made to this state are also cancelled. Under such conditions if the city borrows in the open market it may eventually find itself in the position of having saved pennies instead of dollars.

MORE AND MORE CANDIDATES

Present indications are that the coming municipal election in Newton will provide plenty of interest for the voters if the number of avowed candidates for the various offices continues to increase as in the past few weeks. It is still nearly two months before the time for filing papers expires and the campaigns take on a definite character. Incidentally while mentioning politics we are somewhat amazed at the indifference the latest mayoralty candidate shows for the taxpayer. Mr. Drake says that he is not interested in reducing the tax rate and that he will provide employment through municipal projects "to be paid for by bond issues backed by the city's credit." It has always been our opinion that the fewer bond issues authorized the better the city's credit will be. Furthermore such bond issues must be paid and paid by the taxpayer, so so that in the final analysis the person who is most directly concerned with municipal finances is the taxpayer himself.

BUSINESS ON THE TURNPIKE

A permit for a garage repair shop on the turnpike at Newton Highlands has been awarded by the Board of Aldermen. It is undoubtedly the first of many such permits which will be sought in the future. The turnpike has been built for automobile travel and as repair shops, filling stations and such places of business serve the motoring public there is every reason to believe that there is some necessity for them to have locations there. However steps should be taken immediately to make it certain that no permits are granted which will lead to possible undesirable conditions from the point of view of danger, and public demand. We can see no necessity or desire for putting the entire turnpike in a business zone.

NEW ENGLAND ASSETS—HUMAN RESOURCES

New England has not the natural resources of petroleum, gold, iron, and other such products of many of our United States but it has the asset of human resources inbred in the character of its citizens from the early days of this nation's history, says Prof. Kirtley F. Mather, noted Harvard geologist. In such times as we are now going through these human resources of thrift, character, training, and hardihood have been of real value. In the coming years when brain and ingenuity are replacing brawn and skill New England has the opportunity to develop leadership for the new era.

STILL A GOOD PLACE TO LIVE IN

Along with its other advantages as a residential city Newton now possesses a water pumping plant which is one of the most modern in the state.

About Town

By Edward H. Powers

In the GRAPHIC last week was an article about Alderman McKay's efforts to have Walnut st. opened for traffic across the Worcester turnpike. This article, in commenting about Walnut st. having been closed to vehicular traffic at Boylston st., thus resulting in traffic being detoured through the under pass on Centre st., stated—"It seemed obvious that to avoid this round about route motorists would travel through Woodcliff rd. and Parker st.; two narrow streets not adapted for heavy travel." This sentence should have read—"Woodcliff rd. and Clark st."

The sidewalk in front of the building at 555 Commonwealth ave., near Irving st., Newton Centre has one concrete slab about an inch and a half lower than the adjoining slab. We have stumbled over this defect in the sidewalk (while quite sober) twice. Apparently others have stumbled on this defective sidewalk, because about a week ago some loose crushed stone was put at this place; a quite impractical remedy. Unless the city desires a damage suit, this sidewalk should be properly repaired.

A new "tear drop" shaped automobile with three wheels has been designed which will travel at a speed of 120 miles an hour. Speedy automobiles have caused many tear drops to be shed by surviving relatives of the thousands of victims killed every year in this country by speeding autoists.

The old wooden bridge over the Charles River at Farwell st., has been closed to traffic on its easterly side and will probably be soon entirely closed to traffic. Waltham has asked for a loan from the NRA fund to build a new bridge at this place. As the Farwell st. bridge has been used more, in all probability, by Newton residents, than by Waltham residents, we hope that Mr. Bartlett and his associates on the State Emergency Finance Commission will grant the loan for the construction of a new bridge.

Last Saturday at Chicago Harry L. Hopkins, Federal Emergency Relief Director, told the United States Conference of Mayors "that the commissary system of providing relief through grocery orders is undermining the morale of millions of unemployed." He asserted that work, or distribution of cash are the only satisfactory and humane systems. This statement on the part of Director Hopkins is of particular interest to citizens of Newton because of the fact that a month ago the unemployed in this city who have been receiving aid, were notified that they would receive food orders instead of cash.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night, Alderman McKay stated that residents of Boylston st. are so bothered by the noise of traffic over the new turnpike that they may petition to have the highway changed from a residence to business zone. If residents of Commonwealth avenue and Washington St. had taken this attitude, both of these heavily travelled highways would have been in business zones since zoning was established in this city. And if the residents along the turnpike want to know what it means to live on a street that is really noisy, let them spend a couple of nights in some residence along Tremont st., Newton, and hear the Boston Elevated cars as they rumble by.

Have you ordered the Boston Daily and Sunday Globe for the Fall and Winter months.—Advertisement.

By L. D. G. Bentley

No need to change the names of those Newton streets where duplication exists. Call them Senior, Junior, II and III, and you've taken care of four repetitions which should be the limit.

In the Letter Box

The delight of receiving mail has frequently brought sunshine into an otherwise dull day. I hope never to lose that eagerness to learn what the letter carrier has for me. He's been extremely kind of late. From "J. R. P." came two beautiful photographs of what he appropriately describes as "Nature's masterpiece at Camden, Maine." They are Maiden's Cliff and Hosmer's Pond, with Bald Mountain in the background. Those who know these places have been stirred by their majesty and grandeur. Some day I hope it will be my privilege, also, particularly as I am cordially bidden to "pack my bag, fill my fountain pen and come to Camden."

From "M. C.," writing from France, I learn, "We, Americans, have to keep hustling nowadays over here to keep up with the exchange situation, which is truly tragic in many instances. For us the difference with a discount of 36 percent for our dollars is more than 50 percent increase in living. There are many cases where old ladies, some from the vicinity of Boston, have come to spend the rest of their days on modest incomes and find themselves compelled to retrench on room rent and live off the delicatessen."

How's Your Appetite?

Where New England farmers and their wives gather for social purposes there will you find good food. If it isn't the best obtainable in that vicinity then you haven't made the proper contact and should inquire further before taking a mouthful, or even a bite. My lips smack and I frequently pause to wipe the moisture from the corners of my mouth.

Not many days ago I beheld a sight which has been photographed so sharply on my memory that only a feast of Lucullus could begin to compare with, and I'm told that Lucullus was high man in history as regards the eats. And if he had ever gone to a Grange harvest meeting and prize competition he would have felt ashamed, like old Mother Hubbard, and hurried home and fired the chef. The accumulation of food I tried to comprehend in my bemused state seemed as if prepared for a mass meeting of epicures and gourmands. It was actually the product of the kitchens of a very small town in the northwestern corner of this Commonwealth. Some of the exhibits had there beginning in the vegetable garden, but it took the skillful women folks to put them up for the Winter.

If I were a Greek poet and could touch the elegiac note, how I would sing lyrics composed in honor of preserved plums, raspberries, strawberries, and crabapples; of canned cherries, string beans, beets, peas and pears, of watermelon pickle, of currant and grape jellies and other temptations leading to a dyspeptic's doom.

In order to get my mind off a desire to pilfer from the tables I turned to the cooking exhibit. But here a more compelling impulse seized me. But for the fact that the judges were passing upon the merits of cookery I might have committed the crime of petty theft. There were too many onlookers. Therefore, I was compelled to stand helpless, mute and with a gnawing at my vitals while three young women sampled frosted and plain cakes, all kinds of pie, tarts, turnovers, jumbles, buns, rolls, cookies, biscuits and plain and fancy bread. Each time they gobbled a luscious morsel I felt my self-possession slipping. Finally, I rushed ashamedly from the hall.

Those Choo-Choo Cars

It was interesting to read during the Summer that the railroad business was picking-up. I figured that it could stand a lot of prosperity and the pickings seemed pretty slim when last I patronized a Pullman train, 15 months ago. The first shock I received was the name of one of the drawing-room cars. It was "Mary." Never in all my traveling or gazing at Pullmans have I seen so simple a cognomen. "The others will be hifalutin," I thought, but incorrectly, for I found "Newburyport," "Silver Lake," "Dolly Madison" and "Meshon." I am not in the confidence of railroad operators and therefore cannot say whether the simplification of names has been brought about by the depression. A great deal of extravagance has been done away with in the last two years and possibly Pullman nomenclature was included.

Porters, I found, were in some cases still as indifferent as porters can be. The one who consented to accompany our party distributed paper bags to protect hats and pulled down the shades at unoccupied chairs. Then he selected for himself an empty chair, drew out his spectacles and a newspaper and read. Occasionally he closed his eyes in sleep. Otherwise, the trip for him was uneventful. Apparently he did not mind in the least having passengers in his car.

In the dining car I found no change. Prices were still at the 1929 level and the food exactly as I expected to find it. Across the table, which accommodated only two, sat a young woman of gracious manner and much natural charm. As conventions are what they are I could not start a conversation with a stranger. However, I did find the young lady so engrossing that I inadvertently put salt in my tea and butter on my cake. If we had had more than one meal together she would probably have offered to explain the different kind of foods for my benefit. At least she looked kindhearted and thoughtful of the dumb.

By way of addendum, I did not discover on my trip whether the railroad business has improved.

Sidelights On The Campaign

It is still too early to predict just what will happen on Dec. 12th, but a few random observations may prove of interest.

First of all, it is obvious that Mayor Weeks' campaign has acquired considerable momentum. Much of the work has been done quietly but efficiently by a city-wide committee (names to be announced in the near future). Exact figures on the returned pledge cards are not at hand, but it is a proven fact that on one street in Ward 2 the Mayor's canvasser reported the street solidly behind the administration. Over 20 voters there, including several school teachers whose pay was cut. That is something worth thinking about. Of course you may raise the question of the validity of these pledges. Is a voter tied hand and foot when he signifies his sincere intention of voting a certain way? Or may later developments in the campaign—a new candidate or an important campaign argument—justify the pledged voter in securing a release. Incidentally, it is conceivable that a man might feel that pressure has been brought to bear and he might keep his own counsel and do whatever seemed right to him when he entered the voting booth.

By the way, here is an interesting tidbit. The "prominent Newton Centre physician" whom an esteemed contemporary reported a fortnight ago as being about to enter the Mayoralty contest is not the gentleman whom many of us 'phoned to. That gentleman is a member of the Mayor's Newton Centre campaign committee, and that just about lets him out! However, it's an even bet that neither medico will officially enter the lists.

Needless to say, what the Mayor's friends probably fear most is the entry for a candidate who could split the Weeks vote in the manner in which Messrs. Hodgdon and Sullivan, especially the former, will doubtless split the White vote. However, it will not be Childs'-play (excuse me, please) to defeat the Mayor.

For example, see how intelligently the machine defense is being perfected. All hostile arguments uncovered by the Citywide canvass are being sorted out and classified. They fall roughly into three divisions:

(1) People who didn't get the job they wanted or who failed to put across their pet projects.

(2) People who received a pay-cut or a lay-off (this includes the hubbub concerning Soldiers' Relief and the new commissary plan).

(3) People who believe (most of them quite sincerely) that the Mayor delegates too much authority to his staff and that he is therefore too inaccessible.

Well, let's be honest about all this. Nos. 1 and 2 would hold true of any Mayor holding office during these trying times. No. 3 is pretty much a personal equation. The Mayor, like a business executive, is forced to have a buffer—someone to conserve his time and energy and to separate the important callers from the less important—the important projects from the less important. And that's that.

We will turn now to Tom White, who is opening campaign headquarters near Newton Corner. Here, again, we do not see tremendous visible evidences of activity, but there is plenty going on below the surface. Yes, indeed. Do not look for the real fireworks, however, at this early date. Clever tacticians do not fire off all their ammunition in the early stages of an important campaign.

I am not quite certain what is meant by the phrase, White Volunteer Political Committee, as announced in the Boston papers Sept. 23rd. My understanding was that all political committees of this type are manned by volunteers and not by paid workers. Be that as it may, White's committee has elements of strength with the names of former Mayor Childs and Henry J. Nichols attracting particular attention. Undoubtedly many people will ponder over the why and wherefores of the interesting alliance between Childs and White. More about this a bit later in the campaign.

It is rumored that the campaign will become rough in the later stages. I hope not. Newton has long had a reputation—and deservedly so—for clean, honest politics, and no decent citizen wants to have the record smirched. It will inevitably react to the disadvantage of whichever candidate first slings mud.

Unfortunately, politics is a sharp, shrewd and merciless game—at times. Personalities are indulged in — motives are invariably questioned, and worst of all, not only a candidate's public record but his private life as well is subjected to microscopic scrutiny.

For example, one of the dominant issues of the campaign is apt to be White's labor record. They say it isn't so hot. Perhaps worse than that. Well, what of it? It was compiled about 20 years ago, wasn't it, and how many of us can recall the details of the business and economic situations existing at that time? Furthermore, it is a known fact that Newton's representatives in the legislature have usually exercised a little discrimination and have sifted the good labor bills from the bad. If a failure to vote for any and all legislation sponsored by labor constitutes a "bad labor record," perhaps White is in wrong, but I'll hazard a guess that a lot of other prominent legislators from Newton wouldn't rank very high with the officials of organized labor.

On the other side of the fence, we have the Boston papers suggesting that White will probably "capitalize the discontent" of the municipal employees, contractors and welfare recipients with the Weeks economy program. That doesn't sound very constructive and statesmanlike to my way of thinking. I think something better than that will be needed to beat the Mayor.

In closing, I should like to predict the outcome of the election. It's my sincere belief that the winner's last name begins with a W.

Newton Garage Men Organize

About 30 owners of Automotive Service Garages from the various sections of Newton and Wellesley met at the Hollis last Monday night and formed a local branch of the Massachusetts Automotive Service Men's Association. There are many similar branches throughout Metropolitan Boston and five associations in the Western part of the state. The purpose of these various organizations is to elevate the standards of the Automotive Service business: To formulate agreements of automotive parts, distributors, in order to discourage all unsound or unfair auto service practices: To encourage collective advertising, pledging reliability and integrity to automobile owners: To create means of exchanging service information and ideas among the members for their own benefit and their customers benefit; To promote favorable and oppose adverse legislation. The Association newly formed in Newton and Wellesley will stand for the principles and business code as adopted by the other organizations in the state. This group will co-operate in attempting to create adverse agitation toward the compulsory automobile liability act. The Association is desirous of having Massachusetts automobile registration date run on a fiscal year basis instead of the calendar year, that is, the date of issuance run from April 1st of one year to the following April 1st of another year. The benefits of such change would include the owner, the state and all branches of the automotive industry. The state association of which Newton and Wellesley are a part is fostering legislation to license under state control all automotive service and repair shops forcing each shop and the personnel to meet definite requirements insofar as knowledge of the work and equipment is concerned. The organizations throughout the state feel that many times the car owner does not get a square deal because of poor equipment and inefficient, ignorant workmanship.

The following officers were elected: President, D. L. Fletcher; Vice-President, Gray Blandy; Secretary, C. E. Mays; Treasurer, R. W. Dwinal; Sergeant-at-arms, E. L. Duffy, and the following directors: Joseph Grant, James Holian, Frank Montague. F. L. Streeter, Mr. J. P. Switzer of Newton was selected to represent this group on the executive board of the state association. The group decided to meet twice monthly.

A Message to
A & P Customers

This statement is straight from the shoulder. It is General Johnson's own answer to those grocers who attempt to defeat the N R A by shortening the hours during which their stores are open.

GENERAL JOHNSON says, "In several local communities, retailers are making joint agreements to shorten hours. This is not in keeping with either the spirit or the fact as expressed in the President's re-employment agreement. The proposal to shorten hours is in violation of Section 8 of the President's re-employment agreement. Reconsideration of the provisions of the retail codes and possible withdrawal of insignia will be necessary if community or concerted action to shorten store operating hours is taken." Quoted from General Johnson's telegram to the Indiana Retail Grocer's Association.

A & P was the first retail grocer to accept the President's re-employment agreement to increase employment, raise wages, and reduce the hours of labor of employees. A & P has done all these things and has and will continue to serve its customers with the best foods at lowest prices during the usual grocery store hours of business.

Saturday night about ten o'clock Sergeant Mahoney with Patrolmen Halloran, Hunt and Taffe raided the second-hand furniture shop of John Lawlor at 10 Pearl court, Newton Corner and seized about two quarts of alleged alcohol, together with some flavoring, glasses and a funnel. The raid followed an alleged sale of liquor by Lawlor to Patrolman Hunt who was in civilian clothes. Lawlor was arraigned in the Newton court on Monday charged with making an illegal sale of liquor and with keeping liquor for sale. His case was continued until October 2.

School Committee

The Newton School Committee held a regular meeting on Monday night. Among the communications received was one from the Commonwealth Fuel Company of Somerville stating that the contract given this company to furnish 150 tons of anthracite coal to the schools will be broken. Because of the NRA codes the prices on coal are to increase between 25c and 50c the ton next month, and under the codes contracts may be broken.

The committee voted to request Mayor Weeks to recommend taking land adjoining the Peirce School on Chestnut st., West Newton for school playground purposes. The taking of land for this purpose has been urged from time to time for a number of years. The matter of purchasing land for a school site at Oak Hill was postponed to enable the sub-committee considering this project to have more time to study the question. Information was given that the owner of land adjoining the Bowen School at Thompsonville has refused to donate a small strip of land to enlarge the yard of that school.

Resignations of four teachers were received and accepted. They were Elizabeth Madison, Weeks junior high; Miriam Ewart, Warren junior high; Miriam Rix, Bigelow junior high; Helen McCourt, Stearns school. New teachers whose appointment were confirmed included: Ruggiero Angino, Day junior high; Margaret Osborne, Bigelow junior high; Avis Walsh, Warren junior high; Alice Toohey, Stearns school. Angino is a resident of Oak Hill, Newton Centre; Miss Osborne is a resident of Newton Highlands. Dorothy Rust was transferred from the Adams to the Claflin school.

A petition was received from residents of Dudley rd., Oak Hill, asking that the school bus route be extended from Brookline st. a half mile along Dudley rd.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

The semi-annual meeting of the Norumbega District Council took place last Monday evening, with twenty-one churches of the District represented.

Dr. Daniel W. Staffeld, until recently in charge of a city-wide program of religious education in Minneapolis, was the speaker. His enthusiasm and faith in the necessity of adequate religious education for every boy and girl in Protestantism was stimulating.

Dr. Staffeld commended the work of the Norumbega District. The School of Religous Education, which opens on Monday evening, Oct. 9, at the Newtonville Methodist Church, offers to all Sunday School workers training and inspiration, so that boys and girls may not only be held as members in church schools and churches, but taught to become intelligent members of a society that needs to be Christianized in all its phases—business, social, political.

Teachers are asking for "practical ideas" in this school. Special effort will be made to meet this need through methods courses for teachers of different age groups, by instructors who have had practical experience, and by Bible courses that emphasize the teaching values of the material used. Bulletins with details are in the hands of superintendents and may be secured by telephoning Middlesex 3012.

The "Home Study Campaign," namely, home study of Sunday School lessons by all Sunday School pupils, was emphasized in this District during 1932-33 and will continue to receive emphasis. Questions last Monday brought out the need for ways and means of interesting parents in the church school, and the plan of Home Visitation was suggested as one method for this. Such a plan involves visiting all the homes of parents in one week or one evening, in the interest of the church school. This has been successfully carried on in a number of churches, notably the West Newton Second Church, the Waltham Congregational Church, and the Newton Centre Baptist Church.

Local School Head Is Appointed on N.E.A. Committee

John Lund on Group to Confer on Education Outlook

John Lund, Superintendent of Schools of Newton was appointed on Wednesday a member of the committee on a national outlook on education. The appointment was made by Paul C. Stetson of Indianapolis, president of the Department of Superintendence of the National Education Association. This committee will meet and report at a convention to be held in Cleveland from February 24 to March 1.

The appointment of this committee is an important item in a fundamental reorganization of the convention plan followed by the educational leaders in their national professional organization for many years. The change was made to extend greater responsibility to individual members in the Department's attempt to plan more effectively for meeting the current crisis in education.

Seven such committees have been appointed by President Stetson. These groups will give their attention respectively to problems of teacher training, a comprehensive program of public education, financing the schools, education for the new America, public education and public welfare, a national outlook on education, and the interpretation of the schools to the public.

Catholic Club To Conduct Big Party on Monday

Chizzell Whizzell First of Kind in Vicinity

On Monday evening the Newton Catholic Club will sponsor a Chizzell Whizzell Party in their Auditorium on Washington st. This is the first time a party of this nature has been conducted in this vicinity.

Interest in this affair is reaching high enthusiasm and is expected to be a sell-out. The party will take the form of a huge vaudeville show. Only professional talent will appear. Mr. Louis Taboldi is giving personal supervision of the entire program.

Mr. Al Lemons, winner of the last Madison Square Garden Endurance Dance contest, will act as Master of Ceremonies.

John Graham, formerly of Somerville, and heard weekly over one of the radio chains, will bring his entire set of noise-makers.

Miss Julia Gonsalo, known in theatrical circles as the second Kate Smith, will entertain with songs and stories. Champagne and DeGrasse have a balancing act.

Fontechio and Arduino will show their accordion and banjo act.

One of the highlights of the evening's entertainment will be the appearance of the Lowell Six Steppers. This is a juvenile act and is considered one of the best child acts obtainable.

Boudreau and Bagley, the only local act on the entire program, will appear in a number entitled "Tuneful Tapping."

Louis Taboldi and Joe Antonelli will be the comedians of the evening. Anyone having heard this pair over WBZ on the New England Coke program know the calibre of their work.

This show marks the formal opening of the Club's Silver Anniversary Year. Organized on Jan. 14, 1909, the emblem of the Newton Catholic Club has represented twenty-five years of fraternal progress, particularly among the young men of the community.

In conjunction with its program to furnish one major activity each week, the club has likewise reduced the subscription charges to all its affairs. The drawing of the Auto Radio will be held during the intermission.

Talks on Wireless Telephone at Rotary

The Newton Rotarians at a meeting presided over by Vice President Lyscom Bruce, Jr., in the absence of President Harry Hanson, were on Monday given an insight of wireless telephony. Mr. Percy Spencer, a resident of Newton and connected with M. I. T., was the speaker.

Mr. Spencer with the aid of a coworker located in an automobile several miles distant, ably demonstrated that the two way wireless telephone; as yet an infant, would in the near future become an important factor in the police work of the country.

The speaker from the Rotary meeting at the Brae Burn Country Club sent out a voice call to his roving partner and in a few seconds a voice came back over the ether announcing that the call had been picked up. The voice from the air spoke to the assembly for several moments. It was truly a remarkable demonstration of a two way telephone conversation without wires or known location of stations.

Mr. Spencer who has given much to radio in the nature of ideas and inventions both delighted and enlightened his audience by the thorough manner with which he handled a subject that so few persons have more than a slight knowledge of.

It was intimated by a prominent Newton resident that perhaps this form of radio would be quite effective in forestalling bank robberies. He suggested that the banks be equipped in the same manner as police automobiles.

The listeners of Mr. Spencer had no hesitancy in predicting that when two way wireless telephone becomes perfected, a Newton resident will have played a most important part in its progress.

Claflin Club To Hear Max Yeargin

Max Yergan, the champion of the cause of the native African black man, is to be the speaker at the opening meeting of the Claflin Club October 20, 1933, according to an announcement made by Carl C. Davis, Vice President of the Club and Chairman of the Committee on Program. Mr Yergan first served with the colored troops of the Allies in East Africa during the World War and later returned to the Union of South Africa to work in the interest of his own race.

Mr. Yergan knows the virtues of the black tribes, the ordered family ties, the tribal strength and simple community life. He is to speak on "Black Africa."

Long Prison Sentences In Finelli Assault

In the Superior Court at Cambridge on Tuesday Judge Collins imposed heavy prison sentences on two men found guilty of murderous assault on John Finelli of Ashmont ave., Newtonville, a Nonantum lawyer. David Cornell of Fitchburg, 26, was sentenced to serve from 15 to 18 years in State Prison; Pasquale Cetrone, 44, of Winchester rd., Newton was sentenced to serve from 12 to 15 years in State Prison. He was found guilty of having been an accessory before the fact. His attorney petitioned for a stay of sentence as he intends to take the case to the Supreme Court. The stay was granted and Cetrone's bail was set at $50,000; either in cash or bond sureties.

Finelli was a trustee in bankruptcy of Cetrone and they disagreed. On June 12, in the evening, Cornell, who had been friendly with a daughter of Cetrone, telephoned Finelli, and posing as a prospective purchaser, lured the lawyer to an empty house on Watertown st., Watertown. He and another man murderously attacked Finelli in the cellar of the house and left him unconscious there. Finelli recovered his senses and managed to crawl out. He was taken to the Newton Hospital where he remained for two weeks. Cornell was arrested at Providence by Watertown police. According to their testimony he confessed that Cetrone had promised him $40 to attack Finelli. The charge against Cornell was assault with intent to murder. He denied intending to kill Finelli.

More Candidates In Ward Six

In addition to the Mayoralty fight, the offices of Alderman-at-Large in Ward 7 and Ward Alderman in Ward 6 seem to be attracting aspirants. Four candidates are already in the Ward 7 contest, and four are now entered in the Ward 6 contest. The latest to announce their candidacies in the Newton Centre Ward are Anthony Oliver of 49 Langley rd., and Philip R. Kneeland of 70 Bowen st. Oliver ran for this office in 1932. He is well known in Newton Centre and conducts a barber shop at 53 Langley rd.

Kneeland is a life long resident of Newton Centre and is associated with his father, Frank E. Kneeland, in the building business. He is chairman of the Ward 6 Democratic Committee, and treasurer of the Democratic City Committee.

Keeffe To Run Against Farrell

John J. Keeffe of 26 Wiswall st., West Newton, will be a candidate for the office of Ward Alderman from Ward 3. He will oppose Bernard J. Farrell, Jr., the present incumbent. Mr. Keeffe is a life long resident of West Newton and is Past Commander of Eugene Daly Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

China Discussed At Kiwanis Club

The Newton Kiwanis Club met at the Charles River Country Club Tuesday, October 3. Dr. Tehyi Hsieh of China was the guest speaker.

A rising ovation was given to James Gallagher. He and Dr. F. H Paul, Jr., reported on the St. Johnsbury convention.

R. J. (Dick) Davis introduced Dr. Hsieh, noted lecturer, Cornell University graduate, writer and Chinese authority, who took as his subject "Manchuria Inside Out."

Dr. Hsieh, brilliant and witty, discussed Chinese and Japanese relations in Manchuria; pointed out vast resources of that country, the gold the revenues, customs and taxes collected by the Japanese. He emphasized that China had no vengeance either personally or nationally. The New China, now 22 years old, did not need to borrow money and was able to balance its own budget.

Dr. Hsieh commented vigorously on Japan's disregard for treaty understandings, Japan's dumping of merchandise in the markets of America and ruthlessness. He made the prophecy, however, that the conquerors will be swallowed by the conquered; that biologically, the Chinese are stronger than the Japanese.

George L. White, president, Charles A. Mahoney, immediate past president, and vice-president Wilfred Chagnon and Thomas L. Ryan endorse not only a square deal for the under-privileged child, but assert that "Kiwanis as an organization is entitled to the Blue Eagle and ask that each individual member make whatever sacrifices are necessary to come under the emblem as the only method that gives reasonable promise of pulling us out of the depression. Pledge yourself to the Blue Eagle!"

The following directors also endorse the Blue Eagle: Frank Avantaggio, Charles Barrows, Thomas H. Burns, Richard J. Davis, William E. Pike, Burt M. Rich, and Giles Mosher.

Many Complaints About Newton Water Received

Condition Due to Pitometer Survey; Too Much Chlorine

Complaints by the score poured into City Hall on Monday and Tuesday of this week about the condition (or conditions) of Newton's water. For a number of weeks past the local water has not been like that of a mountain brook, either in crystal clearness, agreeable taste, or freedom from odor. It has, a number of times, in various parts of the city, been murky in color, disagreeable to taste and emanates a slightly boggy smell. The cause of these conditions in the water has been the pitometer survey which has been underway for the past couple of months. Borings have been made in mains throughout the city for tests, and these borings have caused the sediment in the water mains to become detached, with resultant unpleasant effects on the water issuing from house faucets.

But, the complaints the first of this week were caused not alone by the murky water resulting from the pitometer tests. They arose also from the presence in the water of an unusual amount of chlorine. The drinking fluid was so chlorinated that this element could be both tasted and smelled. The result was — that on Sunday and Monday many Newtonians had to drink substitutes for water.

Woman Driving Car Collapses

Monday night about 11 o'clock as Mrs. Katherine Makanna of Sherborn was driving her car along Washington st., Newtonville, she collapsed. She managed to bring the car to a stop and a man who was one of the passengers riding in the car drove it to a drug store at West Newton, where the woman was treated by Dr. Kattwinkle. He ordered her removed to the Newton Hospital. Mrs. Makanna was able to proceed to her home after a short time.

Chest Slogan Is: "Rebuild Lives—Maintain Morale"

Newton Community Chest Prepares for Campaign

"Rebuild Lives! — Maintain Morale!" will be the slogan this year of the Community Chest Campaign, to be conducted from Nov. 1-10, and for which preparations are proceeding rapidly. With committees already formed in West Newton and Newton Centre, other villages this week are preparing to select local chairmen and to commence the formation of a team organization.

In Auburndale, Edward J. Frost heads a group who will appoint a village chairman, and in Waban, Newtonville, and Newton Highlands the initial steps will be taken under the direction of C. Adrian Sawyer, Jr., Fred M. Rust, and Edwin I. Brown, respectively. A meeting of the Speakers' Committee, of which Mrs. Virginia Hutchinson of Newton Highlands is chairman, was held last evening at the Brae Burn Country Club, and it is hoped that the message of the Community Chest for the coming year will be brought before every organization in Newton prior to the opening of the campaign.

The secretaries of all clubs and associations holding meetings during the month of October are requested to communicate with Mrs. Hutchinson at 169 Allerton st., Newton Highlands.

The immediate objective of Chest headquarters and the local chairmen is to have team captains and majors all appointed in time for the key instruction meeting of the campaign, which will be held at Brae Burn on Tuesday evening, Oct. 17. At that time plans will be outlined in full to the captains and the basis of the Chest's appeal will be explained.

The budget committee, headed by William B. Baker, held an eight-hour session on Sunday last, but announcement of the goal of the campaign has been postponed until next week, pending further study.

St. Com. Stuart Is Reappointed

On Wednesday Mayor Weeks reappointed Street Commissioner George E. Stuart for another term of one year, this term to start on October 19. Mr. Stuart, the dean of Newton's officials, has been associated with the Street Department for 53 years. He was appointed Assistant Superintendent of Streets in 1879 when Hon. William B. Fowle was Mayor of this city and William E. Fuller was Superintendent of Streets. He served eleven years under Mr. Fuller and fourteen years under Charles W. Ross, who succeeded Mr. Fuller. In 1914 Mr. Stuart was appointed Street Commissioner by Mayor Edwin O. Childs. Despite his advanced years he is still quite active. Because of the humane attitude he has manifested towards his subordinates, he enjoys the esteem and respect of those who work under him.

Reckless Driver Gets Jail Sentence

Joseph B. Hennebury, 18, of 217 Crafts street, Newtonville, was ordered committed to Middlesex County jail by Judge Bacon on Tuesday. Hennebury was found guilty in the Newton court a couple of months ago on two charges—driving after his license to do so had been suspended, and driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. He was fined $50 on each count and given time to pay. In the intervening period the youth paid nothing on the fines. As he will have to serve oe day in jail for each 50 cents of the fines due, it means an extended stay unless the money will be paid.
